Nations Cheer As U. S. Quits Old Isolation

Davis Pledges It Will Support Action to Avert Wars.

Says Roosevelt Seeks Prompt Results on Disarming.

Geneva, May 22 (A.P.).—The United States Government today pledged itself never to interfere with international action to deal with a menace of war once the aggressor nation responsible for that menace has been satisfactorily identified.

This far-reaching policy was announced by Norman H. Davis, President Roosevelt's representative, at the International Disarmament Conference. It was immediately interpreted as meaning that in the future the League of Nations can boycott, blockade and otherwise punish an aggressor without fear of complications by the United States.

Cheers Greet Speech.

Mr. Davis also committed the American Government to participate in "effective, automatic and continuous" international supervision, designed to make certain that the nations carry out their promises in disarmament.

"President Roosevelt's message," he said, "is a clear indication of the fact that the United States will exert its full power and influence and accept its just share of responsibility to make the results in disarmament definite, prompt and effective."

His speech, greeted by the cheers of the delegates of 50 nations, was accepted by European commentators as marking abandonment of the traditional American policy of isolation and neutrality.

Concretely, the American doctrine was interpreted to mean that the British navy now can feel more free to help the League of Nations keep the peace because it will be in no danger of coming to grips with the American Navy.

American Policy in Brief.

After announcing that the United States was willing to consult with other states in case of a threat to peace, Mr. Davis set forth the American policy in these words:

"Further than that, in the event that the states, in conference, determine that a state has been guilty of a breach of the peace in violation of its international obligations and take

French Regard U. S. Move Almost Equal to Entry Into League.

Paris, May 22 (U.P.).—The declaration of the new American foreign policy at Geneva today was regarded tonight as almost equivalent to the entry of the United States into the League of Nations.

Premier Edouard Daladier called a cabinet meeting tomorrow to study the foreign situation, particularly the speech at the Arms Conference by Norman H. Davis, chief American delegate.

The cabinet ministers will be asked to study the advisability of waiving the French claims that security shall be discussed at Geneva prior to consideration again of other phases of the disarmament treaty being drafted there.

TORNADOES SWEEP MIDWEST SECTIONS

Storms in Nebraska, Montana and Kansas Kill at Least 9.

North Platte, Nebr., May 22 (A.P.).—Four unidentified bodies were brought here tonight from Tryon, Nebr., reported swept by a tornado early tonight. The report from Tryon was that six persons were killed there. The town could not be reached by telephone.

Garden City, Kans., May 22 (A.P.).—One man was injured fatally near here, two persons were reported dead at Liberal and ten injured persons were in a local hospital as victims of a tornado which swept across southwestern Kansas today in the wake of a dust storm.

Anda Felt, 55, of Wellington, Kans., was crushed by the overturning of his motor car northwest of Garden City and died later in a hospital.

C. L. Hinman, telephone operator at Louisburg, Kans., said he had talked with linemen near Liberal who reported that two persons were killed there and that the business section of the city was damaged severely. All communication lines direct to Liberal were down and the city was reported to be in darkness.

Mrs. Roy Stephenson and her four children were injured at their farm home northwest of this city. The house was wrecked.

Two trucks, carrying five county employees home from work on the roads, were picked up and overturned several times by the wind, injuring all the occupants, one seriously.

Ernest Parsons suffered a probable skull fracture. The others injured were N. W. McElroy, "Red" Russell, Lloyd Frost and John Hurd.

Bainville, Mont., May 22 (A.P.).—A tornado swept through the main street of this town late today, injuring a dozen persons and demolishing or damaging ten buildings.

Communication lines with the surrounding territory were down.

Marye, Once Envoy To Russia, Very Ill

George T. Marye, 84, 1800 N street northwest, former Ambassador to Russia, who has been in failing health for more than a year, was reported in critical condition at his home last night with little hope for his recovery.

Mr. Marye was one of the last ambassadors from this country to Russia, serving from 1914 to 1916. He has been maintaining a home here since his retirement.

Born in Baltimore in 1849, he married Marie Alice Doyle, of Columbus, Ohio, in 1904. Educated in Europe, Mr. Marye was admitted to the bar in California in 1875, and practiced in San Francisco. Later abandoning his law practice, he became associated with his father in the banking business in San Francisco and Virginia City, Nev. He was decorated by Czar Nicholas with the order of St. Alexander Nevasky. His Washington clubs are Army and Navy and Metropolitan.

New Jersey Will Ratify Dry Law Repeal June 1

Trenton, N. J., May 22 (A.P.).—New Jersey will ratify formally on June 1 repeal of the prohibition amendment.

Al Smith Asks Citizens To Use American Ships

New York, May 22 (A.P.).—American patronage of American shipping was urged tonight by Alfred E. Smith in an address in observance of Maritime Day.

As a result of the Jones-White act of 1928, said the former Democratic Presidential nominee, "we have put the American flag back upon the world's main trade routes and created a reservoir of men and ships available for national emergency."

Capital Train Derailed; Railroad Seeks Cause

Altoona, Pa., May 22 (A.P.).—The cause of an accident that derailed seven cars of a Pennsylvania train bound for Washington, D. C., at Jack's Block Station is sought by railroad officials.

No one was injured. A relief train from Altoona picked up the passengers when the tracks were cleared a few hours after the derailment, last night, and normal traffic resumed.

FIGHT AGAINST ENTIRE QUOTA PLAN DROPPED

Senate Foes Will Stress Efficiency Over Dismissals.

By ROBERT C. ALBRIGHT.

The fight to have the State quota rule for Federal dismissals entirely stricken from the independent offices bill has been quietly dropped by Senate opponents of the apportionment yardstick.

Instead, they will concentrate on saving the Senate appropriations committee language. This requires that "due regard" be given to efficiency as well as apportionment, where separations must be made from the service.

A group of senators and representatives from so-called "over quota" States have talked the matter over informally and have decided that a compromise is the best they can do.

They are hopelessly outnumbered by members from States having less than their quota of workers in the Federal service who are anxious to protect these against reorganization onslaughts.

Civil Service Investigation.

Members from such over-quota States as Virginia, Maryland, Iowa and Vermont believe a compromise can be worked out with the House on the Senate substitute language, whereas all might be lost in conference if they go the limit now in eliminating apportionment as a consideration.

Meanwhile, Representative William W. Hastings (Democrat), Oklahoma, said last night he will go before the House Rules Committee in a day or two to ask a favorable report on his resolution for investigation of the Civil Service Commission for its alleged failure to enforce the old apportionment law relating to appointments.

Representative Hastings said he has every reason to believe the committee will accede to his request and report out a rule making his resolution in order. He asks that not only the Civil Service Commission, but various department heads be called on to explain why they have not always made appointments with a view to State apportionment.

Possible Dismissal Standard.

The so-called "quota clause" in the independent offices bill as it was rewritten by the Senate committee, would require Civil Service officials to weigh both State apportionment and efficiency in making dismissals. Heretofore quotas have been considered only in making appointments.

Senators from over-quota States believe the Senate clause would save at least the more efficient employes from those States and the District. Washingtonians would be hard hit if apportionment is made the dismissal standard. There are more than 10,000 over-quota workers from the District.

The independent offices bill, around which the quota battle centers, is on the Senate calendar, and might be called up before the close of the week.

Mortgage Moratorium To Continue in Idaho

Austin, Tex., May 22 (A.P.).—Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson today sent to the Legislature a message proposing revision of the antitrust laws to give business broader freedom during the existing emergency.

Volpe Loses Long Deportation Fight

(Associated Press.)

Anthony ("Mops") Volpe, Chicago gangster, lost his fight in the Supreme Court yesterday to have orders for his deportation to Italy set aside, the highest court upholding the ruling that he go back to his adopted land. Volpe was born in Argentina of Italian parents, who took him to Italy as a child.

In December, 1930, Volpe was arrested at Chicago with a number of others charged with vagrancy in a clean-up campaign aimed at about 2,200 "notorious" characters.

Volpe, who had been charged with being a member of the Al Capone "hoodlums," was held for deportation to Italy on the charge he had entered the country without inspection, a visit to Cuba in 1926 being made the basis for the charge. Volpe married an American woman and he has several children.

CHINESE YIELDING PEIPING TO ENEMY

Gen. Ho Orders Resistance to Japanese Withheld to Save Property.

Peiping, May 22 (U.P.).—The Chinese army in the Peiping area began evacuation today, surrendering the ancient capital to the Japanese without a struggle.

The evacuation order was issued by Gen. Ho Ying-Ching, Nanking's minister of war, who has been in command in north China since the recent resignation of Marshal Chang Hsueh-Liang, young Manchu leader now in Europe.

Gen. Ho, who has been accused in some quarters of dealing with the Japanese, explained that it was better to evacuate peaceably and to preserve the ancient capital from wreckage by gunfire than to try to defend it and lose the city in the end, anyway.

Chinese soldiery streamed through the city from outposts to the north and east on their way to a new concentration point, believed to be at Paoting-Fu, 100 miles south of Peiping.

The United Press understood that Gen. Ho would move his military council to Paoting-Fu, leaving the Chinese civilian regime under Gen. Huang-Fu in charge of north China, as far as the National government at Nanking is concerned. Actually the Japanese will be in complete control of everything between the Peiping-Tientsin area and the Great Wall, to the north.

The Japanese are within striking distance of Peiping on two sides of the city.

Gen. Ho, however, apparently was not entirely convinced they would not enter Peiping once he got out, and commented:

"Despite the conciliatory attitude of the Chinese, the Japanese continue their advance. Therefore, Tientsin and Peiping remain in danger."

By HAROLD J. T. HORAN.

Stabilization of the American dollar in relation to the pound sterling and other international currencies moved a step nearer realization last night when it became know that Oliver Mitchell Wentworth Sprague, Harvard economist, who was President Roosevelt's economics professor at Harvard and who went to London to advise the Bank of England two years ago, will be appointed special economic adviser to the Treasury Department.

This is expected to be the announcement of Secretary of the Treasury Woodin today. Yesterday afternoon President Roosevelt conferred with Prof. Sprague, Secretary of the Treasury Woodin, Chairman of the Federal Reserve Board Eugene Black and Undersecretary of the Treasury Dean Acheson.

Academic Circle Widens.

The nomination of Prof. Sprague will give another academic authority to the circle of advisors that have been appointed by the President to assist him in the conduct of national affairs. The work of consultation, preparatory to stabilization, has hitherto been handled by James W. Warburg, of the Bank of Manhattan Trust Co. in New York City. Mr. Warburg is a son of Paul Warburg. He has been coming to Washington several times a week to confer with T. K. Bewley, financial counselor to the British Embassy, on the various proposals that have been made alternately by the British and American technical experts.

The nomination of Prof. Sprague would bring the British and American points of view to comparative agreement on the basis of stabilization and on the ways and means of carrying it out. It is to the direction of the Harvard professor that the British treasury is indebted for many of the methods that have been followed in the fiduciary history of the pound sterling. He was one of the first to urge the adoption of the famous gold equalization fund which enabled the bankers of the city of London and the big French banking houses to act in concert for the protection of the pound from speculators' attacks.

Obstacles in Negotiation.

At present he has terminated his contract with the British authorities and found himself at liberty in the midst of the present disturbed state of the American currency. The striking of a common point of agreement by the American and British experts

Militia Is Ordered To Walkout Duty

Manchester, N. H., May 22 (A.P.).—Four companies of National Guardsmen were ordered into Manchester tonight by Gov. John G. Winant on the request of Mayor Damase Caron after 5,000 striking textile workers stormed the gates of the Amoskeag Mills. The mayor requested the guardsmen as a precautionary measure.

There are 10,000 textile and shoe workers on strike in the city of 80,000 population and the police force had been on duty almost continuously since the walkout in the Amoskeag Mills last Friday. The guardsmen will cooperate with police on strike duty.

Morgan, Under Heavy Guard, En Route Here

He and Partners Ride in Separate Cars; Quiz Will Open Today.

New York, May 22 (A.P.).—J. P. Morgan and four of his partners, each in a separate automobile, left late today from the J. P. Morgan & Co. offices in Wall street for Washington and the Senate investigation. With Morgan in the motorcade were Thomas W. Lamont, George Whitney, Thomas S. Lamont and William Ewing.

Fifteen private guards, including Morgan's personal bodyguard, surrounded the automobiles as the financiers entered them and screened the passengers from public gaze.

(Associated Press.)

A Senate Investigating Committee was ready today to throw open the business secrets of J. P. Morgan & Co., America's most famous banking house.

Armed with evidence collected in officials announced last night, will months of scrutiny of Morgan records, the committee planned to climax its long investigation of Wall street with the inquiry into the house of Morgan.

BAPTISTS CONDEMN ROOSEVELT ON BEER

Convention Enjoins Trade With Merchants Who Dispense Brew.

In an atmosphere seemingly as arid as the Sahara Desert, but considerably more animated, the Southern Baptist Convention condemned President Roosevelt at its concluding session last night for using the influence and power of his office for the repeal of the eighteenth amendment and enjoined members of the church from patronizing merchants who sell beer.

A faint wave of objection swept over the Washington Auditorium when the latter pronouncement was made. However, it was quickly dispersed by Dr. A. J. Barton, of Wilmington, N. C., chairman of the social service committee, who offered the resolution, and former Representative William D. Upshaw, of Georgia.

The resolution expressed belief that only through shunning the business of beer-selling establishments and stores can the integrity of Baptists be preserved and the morals of their children safeguarded.

Dr. Hildreath Jackson faced the microphone in opposition to what he described as boycott on merchants. He failed to receive much support.

Popularizing of beer and wine was blamed on "faithless and corrupt politicians and the vicious and vice-breeding elements of the public press."

Martinez, Calif., May 22 (A.P.).—A dream of Charles H. Turner, 52, led to his death today.

Turner, dreaming Thursday night he was being held up, jumped through a window, ran a block and was struck by a street car. He died at the county hospital of a fractured skull.

Storm's Prisoners On Island Rescued

Ogden, Utah, May 22 (A.P.).—Thirty-three persons were rescued this afternoon after experiencing all the hardships and thrills of "marooned mariners" in the great Salt Lake.

The party, including five women, was taken off Bird Island in a launch when the wind abated. High waves prevented operation of small craft, which took the excursionists to the island Sunday.

They spent the night without shelter. A rainstorm added to their discomfort. Food, blankets and fresh water were dropped to them today from an airplane, which successfully negotiated the "Pelican Hazard."

CHEVY CHASE BANK JOINED WITH RIGGS

Northeast Savings Patrons Indorse New Hamilton Stock Subscription.

A new development in the local banking situation was disclosed yesterday with an announcement that the Chevy Chase Savings Bank, one of the 12 restricted banking institutions in the city, will soon begin operations as a branch of the Riggs National Bank.

This plan was made public by John C. Walker, conservator of the Chevy Chase Bank, who declared that an agreement had been reached following a conference with Robert V. Fleming, president of the Riggs Bank, and members of the Chevy Chase board of directors.

Certain assets of the Chevy Chase Savings Bank will be purchased by the Riggs institution, it was announced, thus making available to depositors 60 per cent of their deposits in the former bank.

The purchase is being made on the so-called Spokane plan, it was declared, which required approval of the Comptroller of the Currency and the District Supreme Court. Assets not purchased would remain in the hands of the conservator to be liquidated for further benefit of depositors.

Hearty approval of the plan has been voiced by the majority of Chevy Chase depositors, Mr. Walker said, and a permit will be issued by the Italian Liner Makes Mediterranean Record

New York, May 22 (A.P.).—Averaging 27.63 knots, and at time running at 28.25 knots, the Italian liner Conte di Savoia arrived here today in five days and 22 hours, establishing a record for the Mediterranean run from Genoa to New York.

The liner's running time was about seven hours less than the record of the Conte di Savoia's running-mate, the Rex. The Conte di Savoia's best day's run was 695 miles, made from Saturday noon to Sunday noon.

Pistol Shot Is Fatal To Oklahoma Scout

Oklahoma City, May 22 (A.P.).—J. H. Beasley, 39, police scout, died today of wounds he received last Thursday in a pistol fight with a crazed, unemployed Seminole carpenter who threatened to explode a dynamite bomb in the business district.

Beasley was shot twice. Other officers killed the carpenter, J. E. Ferguson.

Committee Approves Roosevelt Bill in Night Session.

(Associated Press.)

The gigantic administration public works-industrial control bill was unanimously ordered reported to the House last night by the Ways and Means Committee, which at the same time ordered continued for another year all of the excise taxes levied in the billion dollar tax bill enacted a year ago.

The reenactment recommended by the committee came as a distinct surprise at a night session of the powerful group.

It would mean the continuation of tax levies due to expire on June 30, 1934, for 12 additional months, amounting to approximately $500,000,000.

Douglas Asked Continuance.

Chairman Doughton explained that Lewis W. Douglas, Director of the Budget, recommended this drastic step to maintain the stability of the Federal Government's credit and further to assure the sale of the $3,300,000,000 in bonds for the public works section of the far-reaching legislation.

In addition the committee approved an amendment to the $221,000,000 revenue program adopted earlier in the day, providing for retirement of the bond issue through amortization and to meet the interest payments. This provision provides that President Roosevelt may by proclamation suspend the new $221,000,000 program on the date of the repeal of the eighteenth amendment.

President May Lift Taxes.

The President also would be authorized to suspend proposed new levies calling for increased income tax rates, a boost in the gasoline tax and the making of corporate dividends subject to the new income levies whenever the condition of the Treasury was such as to justify suspension.

The action on extending the excise taxes, as explained by Representative Ragon (Democrat) Arkansas, was due to the controversy in Congress over the extension of the 1-cent gasoline tax for one year, the reduction of postage for local letters and the transfer of the electricity tax from the consumer to producer.

The ways and means committee unanimously approved the bill after this unexpected action was taken. Chairman Doughton planned to submit the formal report to the House today and bring the legislation up for consideration not later than tomorrow under special procedure barring amendments.

1933 West Point Graduate Vanishes

West Point, N. Y., May 22 (A.P.).—Cadet John S. Conner, a member of the 1933 graduating class of the United States Military Academy, has been missing from the academy for 24 hours, Maj. Gen. W. D. Connor, superintendent, announced tonight.

Conner, the superintendent said, was present last night at the "taps check" and his absence was not discovered until reveille this morning. A search for Connor was immediately instituted, but at a late hour today no trace of him had been found.

Conner, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Guy W. Conner, of Medford, Oreg., was scheduled to receive his diploma and commission as a second lieutenant June 13. He is 23 years old.

Dry Chief Declares War On Profiteering Druggists

Dalrymple Says That Beer Has Closed 50,000 Speakeasies.

San Francisco, May 22 (A.P.).—Maj. A. V. Dalrymple, national director of prohibition, said in a statement here tonight the prohibition department must, "like Caesar's wife, be above suspicion" and that profiteering by druggists in wines and liquors must stop.

Dalrymple, now on a national tour of inspection, said he was prepared, if necessary, to go to Congress and request passage of a price-fixing law to prevent druggists from buying wine at from 75 to 95 cents a gallon and retailing it at from $5 to $7.

To this end, he said, he has prepared a regulation, subject to the approval of the United States Attorney General, providing that case lots of wine may be sold by the bonded winery warehouses themselves, pro-

HOGAN LIKELY HEAD FOR PUBLIC WORKS

John Philip Hogan has been virtually selected as administrator of the new $3,300,000,000 public works program, it was learned yesterday as President Roosevelt plugged two more gaps in the slowly filling patronage list and asked Congress for power to appoint a resident of the continent as Governor of Hawaii.

Meanwhile, Senate committees considering earlier nominations approved three of them and widened the scope of an investigation into the activities of Guy T. Helvering, nominated as Commissioner of Internal Revenue. C. A. Cobb, of Atlanta, editor of the Progressive Farmer and Southern Ruralist, will be named administrator of cotton production under the new farm act, it was also learned.

Hogan, now a consulting engineer in New York, built the Catskills aqueduct and was director of the New York water power investigation in 1920-23. He took his A. B. at Harvard a year before the President was graduated from the same school.

Message on Hawaii.

The nominations sent to the Senate yesterday were Dr. Arthur E. Morgan, president of Antioch College, to head the board of directors of the Tennessee Valley Authority, and Clement L. West, of Omaha, to be collector of customs there. Dr. Morgan's selection was announced last week by the President.

In his message to Congress, the President asked temporary suspension of the law requiring the Governor of Hawaii to have lived there for three years before his appointment.

A heated contention between partisans of various candidates for the post has made it difficult to select an island man who will satisfy all parties, it is reported. This is referred to in the message.

Judge Lindsey Mentioned.

The only candidate from the States who has been mentioned is Judge Ben Lindsey, of Denver. Island men who are in the running include John Wilson, Democratic national committeeman for the islands; L. L. McCandless, delegate from the islands; Delbert E. Metger, an attorney there; W. B. Pittman, who represented the defense in the first Massie case and who is a brother of Senator Pittman, of Nevada; Dr. Rufus Hagood and J. B. Poindexter. Mr. Wilson is roported to be leading the field of Hawaiian residents.

Hearings will be held by the Senate Finance Committee today in connection with income tax cases handled by Helvering. The committee voted to go into these in spite of a favorable subcommittee report on his nomination. The committee yesterday also decided to extend its investigation to include postmaster appointments recommended by Helvering when he was a representative from Kansas.

The favorable reports authorized by Senate committees were on Pat Malloy as Assistant Attorney General, Edward B. Doyle as U. S. marshal for the middle district of Georgia, and J. Hoyt Davis, to be U. S. attorney for the same territory.

Honolulu Is Dismayed By Roosevelt's Request

Honolulu, May 22 (A.P.).—Press dispatches from Washington announcing President Roosevelt had requested Congress to suspend the law requiring that the Governor of Hawaii must be a resident of the island caused general dismay in political circles here today.

Indications a few days ago that the President might take this action developed declarations of political leaders that they would "do anything" to prevent the appointment of a mainland man to replace Gov. Lawrence M. Judd, Republican incumbent.

Members of the Democratic central committee indicated they were ready to submit additional recommendations or to name a compromise candidate for the office. They awaited only advice from Congressional Delegate Lincoln L. McCandless national committeeman John H. Wilson and National Committeewoman Mrs. McCandless, all of whom are in Washington.

"Gag" Cry Helps Delay Bank Reform Measure

(Associated Press.)

Cries of "gag" rule arose in the House yesterday as Democratic leaders sought to expedite the Glass-Steagall bank reform bill by shutting down debate, and as a result of continued wrangling only a handful of the bill's provisions were approved despite seven and a half hours of consideration.

Notwithstanding the frequent "gag" arguments, however, the regular Democrats stayed in line with the majority leaders.

The wrangling resulted in the failure of House leaders to obtain unanimous consent to meet at 11 today—an hour earlier than usual—to resume consideration of the bill.

Hitler With Fleet During Maneuvers

Kiel, Germany, May 22 (A.P.).—After declaring that Germany's desire for peace probably is stronger than that of other nations "because we need it to get bread for our millions of unemployed comrades," Chancellor Hitler put out to sea at the head of the German fleet today to participate in night maneuvers.

The cruiser Leipsic roared a 19-gun salute as the chancellor went on board the flagship Schleswig-Holstein. From the docks thousands of spectators looked on.

The chancellor, in Kiel to inaugurate navy week, addressed an audience of officers, sailors and civilians after reviewing sailors and members of civilian boat clubs.

Woman Guilty in Try At Extortion in Mails

San Francisco, May 22 (A.P.).—Mrs. Hollie Terstegge, who pleaded guilty here recently to a charge of attempted extortion through the mails, was given a three-month suspended sentence and one year of probation today by Federal Judge Frank H. Kerrigan.

The woman was arrested after having addressed a letter to Arthur Howell, of Atlanta, demanding $5,000 under threat of exposing an alleged rendezvous with him in Louisville, Ky. Howell is dead and his widow received the letter.

TEXT OF DAVIS' ARMS TALK

(Associated Press.)

Text of speech delivered yesterday before the Geneva Disarmament Conference by Norman H. Davis, chief delegate of the United States:

The initiative taken by the President of the United States in communicating directly with the heads of states participating in the economic and disarmament conferences was prompted by the pressing need for concerted and decisive action to solve the interrelated problems with which these two conferences must deal.

The disarmament conference has reached the moment for definite decisions. We must face the issue; we must now determine whether the nations of the world propose to go forward with progressive disarmament or revert to the prewar system of unrestrained competition in armaments with all the continuance of the international suspicion and fear which this will involve.

At the end of the World War the peoples of all states and their leaders resolved that the suicidal armament policy of the preceding decades must be changed.

They were convinced that this policy had been one of the contributing factors which brought about the war. Hence a new policy regarding armaments was incorporated as a fundamental part of the peace settlement.

Policy to Bar Future Armament Races.

This policy, adopted to prevent a future race in armaments, was based on the principle that armaments are a matter of general concern and that the time had passed when each state should be the sole judge of its armaments.

To carry out this conception, provision was made for the disarmament of the defeated powers and at the same time a decision was taken, unprecedented in history, whereby the victorious states voluntarily assumed an obligation to reduce their own armaments.

As a first step, the peace treaties reduced the armaments of Germany and her allies with a view to rendering impossible any aggression on their part. In fact, the theory behind these treaties was that the military forces of the disarmed powers should be fixed on the basis of the maintenance of internal order and the necessary policing of frontiers, but no more.

The whole purpose of these provisions was to guarantee that the armies of Germany and her former allies should thenceforth stay at home.

It would neither have been just nor wise, nor was it intended, that the central powers should be subject for all time to a special treatment in armaments. There is, and has been, a corresponding duty on the part of the other powers, parties to peace treaties, that by successive stages they, too, would bring their armaments down to a level strictly determined by the needs of self-defense.

While the United States is not bound by the provisions or the implications of those treaties, I have no hesitancy in saying that it is the will of our people, interpreted by President Roosevelt, to join with the other powers in disarming down to that level, and we are prepared to exert our influence to bring this about, not by theoretical statements of good intentions, but by decisive and progressive reduction of armaments through international agreement.

Breakdown of Machinery For Peace Is Cited.

The present situation admits of no further delay. The states of the world must either go forward in good faith to carry out in all its implications the disarmament policy which they adopted in 1919 or we must recognize frankly that this policy has been abandoned and reconcile ourselves to reverting to a race in competitive armament.

If the latter course is taken the consequences are inevitable. Sooner or later there will be the breakdown of the peace machinery which has been so laboriously built up since 1918 and the world will be swept into another war.

The immediate result of a failure here would be a setback to economic recovery, which depends upon such mutual confidence between nations as will permit a real collaboration in the task of restoring international trade and the freer movement of goods.

This is impossible in a situation clouded by the fear of war. National budgets which should be devoted to productive and social end are burdened with excessive and wasteful expenditures for armament. This leads in turn to an almost unbearable load of taxation on all our peoples.

If we thus candidly face the situation there is really no alternative for a sane world to consider. It is inconceivable that the responsible leaders of any country in the world could hesitate over this issue. We can not shirk the duty which this choice imposes upon us. We can not safely delay taking effective steps to reduce armaments to a purely defensive basis.

As far as the position of the United States is concerned, we are frank to recognize that we have a simpler problem to meet than have many of the European powers. Fears and apprehensions based on historical and racial grounds have led to the maintenance of large armaments in Europe. These large armaments have caused resentment, particularly in the less armed countries. The resulting political tension has in turn reacted to keep up the general level of armaments.

Aware of Difficulties In Path of Reduction.

We are not unaware of the difficulties which lie in the way of reduction in armaments here. It is our very detachment from this situation which gives us hope that we may exert a helpful influence toward the realization of our common objective. But we are prepared to aid in other ways than through exerting our influence, and I shall take this opportunity to show what we are prepared to do.

As regards the level of armaments, we are prepared to go as far as the other states in the way of reduction. We feel that the ultimate objective should be to reduce armaments approximately to the level established by the peace treaties—that is, to bring armaments as soon as possible through successive stages down to the basis of a domestic police force.

In particular, as emphasized by President Roosevelt, we are prepared to join other nations in abolishing weapons of an aggressive character, which not only are the more costly to construct and maintain, but at present are the most likely to lead to a breach of the peace.

To cut the power of offense and remove the threat of surprise attack would do more than anything else to lessen the danger of a war.

Almost a year ago the American Government submitted a proposal along these lines. This proposal which received the approval of a large number of states was not acceptable to certain states and was therefore not adopted.

A few weeks ago the British prime minister submitted a detailed proposal which embodies many of the features of the American plan of last year. As the British proposal represents a real measure of disarmament, we accept it whole-heartedly as a definite and excellent step toward the ultimate objective. We, therefore, are prepared to give our full support to the adoption of this plan.

System of Adequate Supervision Is Urged.

In addition, I wish to make it clear that we are ready, not only to do our part toward the substantive reduction of armaments, but if this is effected by general international agreement, we are also ready to contribute in other ways to the organization of peace.

In particular, we are willing to consult the other states in case of a threat to peace with a view to averting conflict.

Further than that, in the event that the states, in conference, determine that a state has been guilty of a breach of the peace in violation of its international obligations and take measures against the violator, then, if we concur in the judgment rendered as to the responsible and guilty party, we will refrain from any action tending to defeat such collective effort which these states may thus make to restore peace.

Finally we believe that a system of adequate supervision should be formulated to insure the effective and faithful carrying out of any measure of disarmament.

We are prepared to assist in this formulation and to participate in this supervision.

We are heartily in sympathy with the idea that means of effective, automatic and continuous supervision should be found whereby nations will be able to rest assured that as long as they respect their obligations with regard to armaments, the corresponding obligations of their neighbors will be carried out in the same scrupulous manner.

Ultimate Objective Is Possible by Stages.

The disarmament conference has already formulated measures for the establishing of a permanent disarmament commission. The powers now proposed for this commission may well be reinforced. The commission will have many important duties, but none more essential than that of effectively supervising the fulfillment of the treaty.

We recognize that the ultimate objective in disarmament must be attained by stages, but we believe that the time for the next and decisive step is long overdue and can not be further postponed.

Virtually all the nations of the world have entered upon the solemn obligation of the Briand-Kellogg pact to renounce war as an instrument of national policy and to settle their disputes only by pacific means.

If we are to keep faith with these obligations, we must definitely make up our minds to settle our disputes around a conference table instead of preparing to settle them on the battlefield.

It was with such a thought that the President proposed an undertaking by the nations that, subject to existing treaty rights, armed forces should not be sent across national frontiers.

In the long run, we may come to the conclusion that the simplest and most accurate definition of an aggressor is one whose armed forces are found on alien soil in violation of treaties.

There have been two main obstacles to disarmament. One was the apprehension that Germany proposed to rearm; the other the reluctance of the armed powers of Europe in the present state of the world to take a real step in disarmament.

Unanimous Action Of All Nations Vital.

If at this decisive point, any nation should fail to give conclusive evidence of its pacific intentions and insist upon the right to rearm, even though the other powers take effective and substantial steps toward disarmament, then the burden of responsibility for the failure of the disarmament conference, with the incalculable consequences of such a failure, would rest on the shoulders of that nation.

The problem with which we are faced can not be solved if one nation insists on rearming while the others disarm. The result inevitably would be another race in armaments.

As regards the action of the other powers, we are not unaware in the United States of the political difficulties which still lie in the way of the reduction of European armaments.

We recognize the legitimate claim which any state has to safeguard its security.

But we are firmly convinced that in the long run this security can best be achieved through a controlled disarmament by which the military strength of the most heavily armed nations is progressively reduced to a level such as that provided for in the peace treaties.

To the extent that armaments create political tension, they in themselves constitute a menace to peace and may jeopardize the security of the very nations which maintain them.

If we take a long step in the direction of disarmament today and agree by stages to achieve our ultimate objective, we can meet any legitimate claim of the powers bound by the peace treaties and at the same time effectively help to insure peace.

A few days ago the conference met a serious obstacle to further progress in its detailed examination of the British plan. Since then there has been an appreciable change.

American Delegation's Attitude on Materials.

The recent speech by the German chancellor before the Reichstag clarifying the German attitude and policy with regard to disarmament and indorsing the proposal of President Roosevelt has been most helpful.

This and also the subsequent announcement made here by our colleague, Herr Nadolny, of Germany's acceptance of the British plan as the basis of the future convention have so altered the situation as to justify us in assuming that we can now resume our consideration of this plan with real hope of agreement.

Our present agenda is a consideration of the chapters on war material. It was understood that other related subjects might be introduced and my colleagues may feel that I have made wide use of the latitude thus given me.

But in closing my remarks and to bring our discussion back to the concrete question before us I desire to state that the American delegation accepts the chapter on material and expresses the hope that the other delegations will join in this acceptance and that the way may thus be cleared for an immediate decision on the concrete proposals in this chapter.

This conference is not only a disarmament conference; it is an emergency conference of a world in a state of political uncertainty and economic depression.

The next weeks will bring the decisive test. It will require courage and statesmanship to meet this test, but the failure to do so will go far to shatter any hope of world organization for peace.

Roosevelt's Message Shows Good Faith.

As far as the United States is concerned, our abilities and our incentive to collaborate whole-heartedly in the continuing task of helping to maintain world peace depends in large measure upon the results achieved here in disarmament.

President Roosevelt's message is a clear indication of the fact that the United States will exert its full power and influence and accept its just share of responsibility to make the results in disarmament definite, prompt and effective.

The results of success here and now would bring benefits beyond all calculation. It would give new confidence and hope—confidence that governments can still govern and leaders lead; hope that a definite step in disarmament having at last been taken, economic recovery will be hastened and the millions in all countries who are only asking for the opportunity to work will have restored to them the possibility of living in peace and of earning their daily bread.

If by a great act of faith, each and every nation will now summon the courage to take a decisive step in general disarmament, conditions throughout the world will so improve that we can henceforth face the future with a real feeling of security and confidence.

With the alternative to success in mind, we can not allow ourselves to fail.

Forestry Domain's Change Is Urged

To maintain the work of the Civilian Conservation Corps, the board of directors of the American Forestry Association yesterday called upon Congress to act at once to bring the public domain under administrative control.

Foreseeing that winter would make work in the high altitudes of the national forests of the West impossible, the association believes that bringing the public domain under administrative control would go far in meeting this problem.

Instead of curtailment of work of the corps and the release of men, the association points out that the public lands are at lower altitudes adjacent to the forests and in the winter the men could be brought there where constructive work could be done during the winter months. Thus the release of the men or their transportation to Southern forests would not be necessary.

measures against the violator, then, if we concur in the judgment rendered as to the responsible and guilty party, we will refrain from any action tending to defeat such collective effort which these states may thus make to restore peace."

Thus the only condition is that the United States agree with the other nations as to which is the guilty country.

In other words, according to the interpretation accepted in Geneva, America not only puts a curb on her neutrality rights but voluntarily limits her liberty on the sea.

Although America would consult with the other nations, she presumably would not vote in determining an aggressor. But leaders said tonight that Europe or the league was not likely to specify any nation as an aggressor unless it was believed that America would concur.

Mr. David told the conference that either something must be accomplished in disarmament or the nations must become reconciled to reverting to a race in arms.

"If the latter course is taken," he said, "the consequences are inevitable. Sooner or later there will be the breakdown of the peace machinery which has been so laboriously built up since 1918 and the world will be swept into another war."

He proposed drastic arms reductions, saying that the United States was prepared "to go as far as the other states."

"We feel that the ultimate objective should be to reduce armaments approximately to the level established by the peace treaties; that is, to bring armaments as soon as possible through successive stages down to the basis of a domestic police force," he continued.

Offensive Weapon Curb.

"In particular, as emphasized by President Roosevelt, we are prepared to join other nations in abolishing weapons of an aggressive character which are not only the most costly to construct and maintain, but at present are those most likely to lead to a breach of the peace.

"To cut the power of offense and remove the threat of surprise attack would do more than anything else to lessen the danger of a war."

As a result of the Davis speech the disarmament conference took on a distinctly more optimistic aspect. Making good on Chancellor Hitler's promise, Germany virtually agreed to transform the Reichswehr into a standardized conscript army, thus removing one of the chief obstacles in the way of a disarmament convention.

Moreover, it was learned from American sources, Germany is disposed to join a European pact of mutual assistance by which any country, if the victim of aggression, could count upon the help of other signatories.

French See Importance.

The French gave immense importance to America's readiness to participate in the control of armaments.

It was learned that the United States will announce its readiness to consult the nations in the event of a threat to peace by issuing a unilateral declaration. The rest of the world would consider this sufficient.

Thus the United States has given the spur to disarmament, but has frankly warned the world that participation in the machinery of peace will be dependent at least in large measure on achievement of substantial reduction in armaments.

WAR ILLS PENSIONS WILL BE CONTINUED

Gen. Hines Announces Plan to Protect Veterans Under Economy Bill.

(United Press.)

Veterans who have received disability from disease directly resulting from war-time service will be continued as service-connected cases under the economy bill, Brig. Gen. Frank T. Hines, Veterans' Bureau administrator, announced last night.

That means that a veteran suffering from a 10 per cent disability of that nature will be assured of a pension, the Veterans' Bureau head said.

The customary exceptions—that the veteran shall have an honorable discharge and shall not have acquired his disease "because of misconduct"—are made.

New Schedules Modified.

"It is the announced policy," the bureau's statement read, "to afford to veterans suffering from disabilities for which the conditions of military service are responsible every consideration consistent with the law and public welfare in general.

"It is no part of such a policy to reverse former decisions regarding the service incurrence of disease where such former decision was reasonably proper and the veteran now meets the requirements regarding character and conditions of war-time service."

Hines said another order had been issued modifying in some cases the new schedules for rating disabilities. It applies particularly to gunshot wounds, arrested tuberculosis and the other forms of severe disability.

Assurance to Veterans.

"The purpose of this order," it was said, "is to give added assurance that veterans having disability directly traceable to war service would receive a fair pension notwithstanding reductions.

"Veterans may be assured, therefore, that any determinations made in their cases which do not conform to these instructions will be corrected immediately the present review is completed."

President Roosevelt's economy bill slashed approximately $400,000,000 from veterans' compensation, but he subsequently announced he intended to review the reduction in an attempt to avoid injustice.

Texas Bill to Raise Oil Taxes 2 Cents Is Signed

Austin, Tex., May 22 (A.P.).—Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson today signed a bill to tax the intangible assets of oil pipe lines and to increase the oil production levy to 2 cents per barrel. The taxes will become effective 90 days after the Legislature adjourns.

The present tax on oil production is 2 per cent of the value of the oil, or about half a cent a barrel at prevailing prices.

Import Tax Right Given to Wallace

(Associated Press.)

Secretary Wallace last night was left free to impose processing taxes—one of his chief powers under the farm adjustment act—and to use the proceeds to finance acreage reduction programs on farms.

Soon after he had called on Secretary Hull for a conference that included the latter's economic experts, it was learned imposition of compensatory import taxes, required under the act as a companion to processing taxes, was ruled not in conflict with the international tariff truce.

Wallace and George N. Peek, chief administrator, later selected a cotton production administrator, C. A. Cobb, an Atlanta farm editor. They named Guy G. Shephard, of Evanston, Ill., a retired packer, to administer processing and trade agreement activities for packing house products, principally hog products.

ARCHBISHOP CURLEY CLUB DINNER GUEST

Organization Bearing His Name Celebrates Its Eleventh Anniversary.

The Most Rev. Michael J. Curley, Archbishop of Baltimroe, was guest of honor at the eleventh anniversary celebration of the Curley Club last night at the Continental Hotel.

The reception for the archbishop, for whom the club was named, was followed by an elaborate entertainment program of music and drama, under the direction of William J. Boyd. Addresses were made by Reland J. Hyland, president; Miss Mary L. McGee, founder, and the Rev. Francis X. Cavanagh, spiritual director.

Persons taking part in the program included Miss Helen Stafford Smith, Miss Helen Regan, Miss Gretchen Baden, Miss Jessie Beehlert, Miss Irene Beehlert and Clement Giebel, Luke O'Reilly, Benjamin Swann, Silvio Poli and James O'Connell.

Guests of the club included the Rev. Cornelius P. Thomas, pastor of St. Patrick's Church; the Rev. P. J. Gavan, pastor of the Church of the Sacred Heart; the Rev. Eugene J. Connelly, pastor of St. Peter's Church; the Rev. Michael J. Riordan, pastor of St. Martin's Church; the Rev. C. J. Dacey, pastor of St. Paul's Church; the Rev. Joseph V. Buckley, pastor of St. Francis Xavier Church; the Rev. Francis J. Hurney, pastor of the Church of the Immaculate Conception, and the Rev. Charles J. Trinkaus, pastor of St. Mary's Church.

The club was organized in May, 1922, to raise funds for scholarships for the poor, deserving children, and other charitable enterprises.

Strike of Silk Workers In New Jersey Failure

Paterson, N. J., May 22 (A.P.).—Only a dozen shops, employing a comparatively small number of the 7,500 silk workers in this city, responded to a strike called today, and the general opinion was that the proposed stabilization program of the industry had caused the strike's failure.

Union headquarters reported that a majority of the shops settled their dispute almost at once, agreeing with manufacturers on a 40-hour week and a base weekly pay of $20.

League of Nations Prizes Announced

New York, May 22 (A.P.).—The League of Nations Association today announced Sidney H. Levy, 17, of Buffalo, N. Y., as the winner of its seventh annual competitive examination for high schools on the League of Nations. The prize is a trip to Europe.

Grosvenor W. Bissell, 18, also of Buffalo, won second prize, $50. Five additional prizes of $10 were awarded to Mildred Gittlen and Esther Lobensky, of Grand Rapids, Mich.; Claude Baldwin, of Fort Collins, Colo.; Ruth Stafford, of Springfield, Ill., and Marjorie Lee, of Horseheads, N. Y.

Virginia Blatherwick, of Sioux Falls, S. Dak.; Robert P. Blauvelt, of Port Byron, N. Y., and Hansel Blevins, of Chattanooga, Tenn., received honorable mention.

Dead Son Blamed In Parents' Death

Austin, Minn., May 22 (A.P.).—An elderly farm couple and their son were found shot to death near here today. Officers said the latter apparently slew his parents and then committed suicide.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Clark, each about 70, were in bed, both shot in the head with a rifle. The body of Ivan Clark, 45, was found near the family barn house. The rifle lay nearby.

Acting Coroner E. C. Rebman, physician to the family twenty years, said he was convinced Ivan had slain the parents and then himself. Money and other valuables were not disturbed.

than $5,000,000 during his first two hours in office.

After being sworn in yesterday Hopkins went at once to the office of Fred Croxton, who has been handling the relief work under the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, and approved loans totaling $5,336,317 to eight States. Preliminary investigations on the loan applications had already been made, it was explained, accounting for the speed with which they were put through.

Illinois received $2,500,000; Michigan, $1,630,540; Colorado, $302,645; Texas, $611,865; Mississippi, $164,198; Iowa, $47,207; Georgia, $40,622, and Ohio, $39,245.

The relief policy of the administration was outlined by Hopkins as opposed to maintaining millions on destitution relief rolls but as determined to prevent starvation.

"There is an unconscionable number of people getting relief throughout the country," he said. "There are 400,000 families on the relief rolls of New York alone, a total of 1,600,000 persons. If this proportion is kept up throughout the country at least 16,000,000 people are receiving relief.

"I do not think it is my place to perpetuate any system that will keep any such number of people on the rolls.

"I understand it to be the President's plan to put a substantial number of these people on jobs to be created through the public works program.

"Many people, however, must be cared for for some time to come.

"The second factor is the fact that the Federal Government is putting up $300,000,000 for relief. At the rate the country is spending for relief, the expenditures will be well over one billion dollars a year if it keeps up.

"If that is the situation, unless the States, cities and counties do their part, we are licked at the outset."

North Carolina Bank Law Declared Invalid

Marshall, N. C., May 22 (A.P.).—Judge Felix Alley today held unconstitutional the State Sullivan act, which permits depositors in closed banks in 43 North Carolina counties to sell their claims to the banks' debtors to be used to offset loans and other indebtedness.

Judge Alley held that the act, passed by the last General Assembly, was unconstitutional in that it "impaired a contract" and was a "denial of equal rights." Notice of an appeal to the State Supreme Court was filed.

INTEREST PAYMENTS BY MITCHELL BARED

U. S. Shows Court He Met Obligations on Alleged Gifts to His Wife.

New York, May 22 (A.P.).—Through a long, droning session, during which spectators frequently dozed, the United States Government today set out to prove to a jury in Federal court that Charles E. Mitchell, himself, by gifts to his wife in 1930 and 1931, actually paid interest due on National City Bank stock he sold her after the crash in 1929.

Mitchell, former chairman of the National City Bank, has said he sold 18,300 shares of National City Bank stock to his wife at loss so great that his obligation to pay income tax for 1929 was wiped out. He is charged with having evaded payment of more than $830,000 in Federal income tax in 1929 and 1930, and the Government claims the sale of the stock to Mrs. Mitchell was only a pretense.

To substantiate this charge, the Federal attorney, George Z. Medalie, read records and letters to the jury today to indicate that Mitchell paid back to his wife the interest money she paid him quarterly in sums ranging from about $49,000 to $59,000. Records also were introduced to show that after each quarterly payment to her husband, Mrs. Mitchell's account with the City Bank Farmers Trust Co., a subsidiary of the National City Bank, was overdrawn—once to the extent of $30,000—and that each time some of her securities were sold to meet the overdraft.

MOONEY INDICTMENT DISMISSAL REFUSED

Convicted Parade Bomber Goes on Trial Today on Final Charge.

San Francisco, May 22 (A.P.).—The State Supreme Court late today denied the petition of John O'Gara, attorney and law professor, for a writ of mandate to compel Superior Judge Louis Ward to dismiss the remaining indictment against Thomas J. Mooney, convicted Preparedness Day parade bomber.

The decision means that Mooney will go on trial tomorrow.

In a brief order denying the petition, the court declared O'Gara, a private citizen, was "unqualified to commence the action on behalf of the people of the State of California without the consent of the State attorney general."

State law requires that any legal action taken in the name or on behalf of the people of the State must have the consent of the attorney general.

The ruling concluded that the "order must be denied for want of a proper party as plaintiff."

Mooney will go on trial tomorrow morning before Judge Ward on the one remaining and unused indictment left of the number returned against him after the bombing on July 22, 1916, in which 10 persons were killed and 40 injured.

DRY CHIEF DECLARES WAR ON PROFITEERS

vided a licensed apothecary is present.

Under the "new deal" of prohibition, he pointed out, physicians may give their patients unlimited prescriptions without having to state the nature of the ailment or the length of time for the treatment. Dalrymple said he would fight any attempt to monopolize wine sales or create a new racket from the sale of medicinal liquor. He added that he would fight just as vigorously to protect legal breweries and legitimate beer retailers as he has against the liquor rings.

And in the fight, he emphasized, he and his men will have the support of the American public.

"Under bone-dry prohibition we didn't have a friend," he said. "Now we have thousands. Citizens who did not sympathize with the dry law, or at least took little interest in it, now want the bootleggers smashed because they are cheating the Government of its just revenue."

At least 50,000 speakeasies have been driven out of business since beer came back, Dalrymple said, basing his figure on the reports of his administrators and on personal investigation. Twenty thousand have gone broke in New York and Chicago alone, he said. Many, he believes, have turned into law-abiding retailers of beer.

Spouse Reported Dead, Bride Asks Police Aid

Denver, May 22 (A.P.).—Police assistance in solving the disappearance from El Paso, Tex., of J. B. Torbert was asked today by his 58-year-old bride, Mrs. May White Torbert, who told authorities she had received two anonymous letters from Juarez, Mex., informing her Torbert was dead.

The last letter, received today, said Torbert had been found slain south of Juarez a few days ago, but authorities there told Mrs. Torbert they had no report of the death.

Brewery Quiz Set By Hyattsville Unit

A committee was appointed by the Hyattsville Chamber of Commerce last night to investigate the proposed brewery to be erected near Tuxedo, Md.

The committee, to be headed by Emmanuel Zalesac as chairman, will go into the financial, rezoning and other plans of the propcsed establishment. The same body was also authorized to investigate the roadside stand situation.

W. F. Mulligan was appointed to represent the chamber of commerce at the next meeting of county commissioners in requesting that the county appropriate from the race track fund $150 each for the Boy and Girl Scouts. This is to take the place of the District of Columbia appropriation recently canceled.

After giving President Roosevelt every good wish and commending him for his battle against economic problems, the convention condemned the Chief Executive for his alleged interest in the repeal of the eighteenth amendment and for aiding in the revival of beer.

The Chief Executive was charged with allowing the White House to be used for the advertising of beer. Dr. Barton asserted that the White House has been turned into a billboard. The resolution Dr. Barton offered expressed belief that this is deplored by the majority of Americans.

Another target of criticism hurled at President Roosevelt was defeated. This expressed "great concern" over "the unusual and extraordinary grants of power given the President." Hope was entertained in this defeated resolution that with the dispersal of present conditions Congress would assume its powers and responsibilities.

Dr. Walter P. Binns, Roanoke, Va., was instrumental in the defeat of this resolution. Dr. Binns also tried to bring about defeat of the other criticism of the president, but he was submerged by a deluge of no's. Dr. M. E. Dodd, who was presiding, had some difficulty in restoring order at this point.

The convention defeated a motion to employ a social service worker for general field work.

It went on record as vowing to continue for law and order until "all human rights shall be respected and human liberties safeguarded under the orderly processes of justice administered by constituted authority."

It condemned as "the worst form of lawlessness the neglect of duty or the disregard of public servants of the people whether they occupy legislative, executive or judicial positions."

Lynching and all other forms of lawlessness were condemned by the body. Renewed support was pledged to the cause of international good will and world peace. The United States Senate was urged to ratify without delay the protocol of the international courts of justice.

Today the Southern Baptists will hold a dramatic reunion with the Northern Baptist Convention. Divided by the slavery question, it will be the first time since then that the two groups will assemble in joint gathering.

TWO SHIPS COLLIDE OFF VIRGINIA COAST

American Vessels Reported Still Afloat as Aid Is Being Rushed.

Norfolk, Va., May 22 (A.P.).—The motorship City of Rayville and the Sage Brush, both American, were in collision late today 20 miles off Parramore Banks, on the Virginia Coast, according to a wireless message received here. Neither ship was in immediate danger after the crash and both were able to proceed under their own power, the City of Rayville to Philadelphia and the Sage Brush to Norfolk.

Whether any one had been injured or killed was not stated in the message. The Sagebrush was last reported as leaving Boston May 16, and the City of Rayville left Norfolk yesterday for Philadelphia.

The message said the Sage Brush is coming to Norfolk with 34 persons aboard, but whether these were members of her crew or included men from the other ship was not disclosed. No circumstances of the collision were given. The Coast Guard cutter Ponchartrain was 80 miles from the position and was proceeding there to offer aid.

The CG 138 also was proceeding to the Sage Brush, and the cutter Mascoutin was standing by at Norfolk ready to put to sea if her services are needed.

Delegation to London Must Pay Its Share

(Associated Press.)

A prospect that American delegates to the World Economic Conference will have to dig into their own pockets for a share of their expense money is handicapping President Roosevelt in completing the delegation.

At least one prospective appointee is said to have lost interest on learning that under the economy bill delegates will be allowed but $6 a day for maintenance in London. The State Department has been quoted hotel rates of $8 a day per guest.

The $6 allowance is less than the stenographers received at the 1930 Naval Conference in London, when the scale was $20 a day for American delegates, $15 for assistants and $8 for stenographers and clerks.

'POISON PEN' NOTES UPSET CHICAGOANS

Federal Authorities Seeking Woman Familiar With "Gold Coast."

Chicago, May 22 (A.P.).—A woman apparently familiar with the movements of Chicago's society folk was sought by postal inspectors today as the writer of numerous "poison-pen" letters to local social leaders.

The first of the threatening missives reached the "Gold Coast," the city's fashionable residential district, about two weeks ago, it was revealed.

Activities of the Government operatives were kept as secret as possible and contents of the letters were closely guarded.

Many women who figure prominently in the city's social life were reported to have received the notes. Mrs. Hayden B. Harris, wife of a banker, said she and several of her friends had been targets of the mysterious writer. They had compared the letters, she said, and found the handwriting—that of a woman apparently, who was acquainted with their daily comings and goings—identical.

"I can not understand the motive behind these communications," she said. "I know of no enemies. This has been a terrible shock to my nerves. My friends, too, are upset."

SPRAGUE IS CHOSEN TO AID STABILIZING

has been studded with considerable difficulty, each side holding out for a common ratio that would work to the most advantage of their exporters and manufacturers as well as to the maintenance of financial hegemony.

It is believed that the selection of Prof. Sprague will go far in smoothing out the various intermediate stages of negotiation, as he has an unrivaled knowledge of the situation of the Bank of England through his familiarity there over the past three years and he has at the same time a commanding authority in academic circles which was established well in advance of his selection by the British financial authorities.

Sprague's Background.

Prof. Sprague was the Edmund Cogswell Converse professor of banking and finance at Harvard University since 1913. Previous to that time he secured his Ph. D. there and went to the Imperial University at Tokyo as professor of economics. He has been holding the chair of banking at Harvard since 1913 and accepted the position as advisor to the Bank of England in 1930. His appointment caused a furore in British academic and financial circles, because of the action of the bank's directors in going outside the country for a technical advisor. He administered his job with notable distinction in the midst of difficulties of every sort.

The first meeting of the President with Prof. Sprague took place last Friday when Secretary Woodin brought him to the White House after a lengthy conference at the Treasury Department. Undoubtedly the stabilization of the dollar and the pound, even on a de facto basis, in advance of the London Economic Conference would create a tangible argument for ultimate agreement on the financial and monetary principles of the conference.

French Assurances.

However, neither the American authorities and even still less the British, are willing to accept a stabilization figure unless there is every possible assurance that this stabilization will be solid enough to resist the attacks of international speculators. The present fluctuation of the two Anglo-American monies works to the disadvantage of all the currencies. The authorities in Paris have indicated their desire to see the pegging of the dollar and the pound as one of the most encouraging preliminaries to the London conference. They have even expressed the informal assurance through the financial counselor of the French Embassy here, Emmanuel Monnick, that the Bank of France will be glad to participate in any three-cornered move to assure the permanency of the dollar and pound value in international exchange operations.

Secretary of State Cordell Hull has cautioned against a too great optimism for what the London conference may bring forth. But the minimum of accomplishment will see the stabilization of the two great forms of exchange, the dollar and the pound, either before the conference actually meets in a temporary or de facto form or after the delegates have definitely determined on a de jure form of stabilization which will go into effect as soon as the conference is over.

WAXEY GORDON HELD UNDER $100,000 BAIL

Gang Czar Admits Being in Elizabeth Hotel at Time of Murders.

New York, May 22 (A.P.).—Waxey Gordon, who rose from small-time pickpocket to alleged baron of a beer empire in New Jersey, admitted to police today he was in an Elizabeth (N. J.) hotel when two of his wealthy lieutenants were slain.

Squat and pudgy, "Mr. W.," as he is known in the rackets, frankly acknowledged he was in the elaborately furnished eighth floor hotel suite when Max Hassel and Max Greenberg were mysteriously shot to death on April 12.

"I heard a noise and I got out quick," Gordon, whose real name is Irving Wexler, told Union County, N. J., authorities, who have been wanting to question him for a month. He said he was "resting" when the shootings occurred.

Gordon, arrested in his eight-room hideaway lodge at White Lake, in the Catskills, yesterday, on an indictment charging evasion of $382,974.46 income taxes for 1931 and 1932, pleaded not guilty when arraigned in Federal court today and was held in $100,000 bail.

The gangster, unshaven, wearing a soiled shirt, and his dark suit wrinkled and unpressed, was an unimpressive figure as he repeatedly denied any knowledge as to the identity of the slayers of Hassel and Greenberg, or of anyone who might have hired gunmen to slay them.

The questioning concluded, Gordon was locked in the Federal building "strong room," as he had not posted his $100,000 bail. His case was placed on the calendar for hearing June 5.

Reckless Driver Jailed By Laurel Police Court

Anthony Genco, of Baltimore, was committed to the Marlboro Jail for five days yesterday by the Laurel (Md.) Police Court in default of a fine of $5 and costs. Genco was charged with reckless driving on the Baltimore boulevard near Laurel.

David Daman and James Bumby, both of Baltimore, were each fined $25 and costs by Judge J. Chew Sheriff for speeding on the boulevard. They pleaded not guilty. Perry Joseph Thompson, 124 Carroll street street southeast, was fined $11 and costs for having no registration card and improper markers.

Capital Iris Show Is to Open Today

The spring iris exhibition and flower show of the National Capital Dahlia and Iris Society will open at 2 p. m. today with hundreds of brilliant-hued irises, roses and other hardy flowers on display in the ballroom of the Carlton Hotel. Fifty-six classes of flowers are provided for, made up of 24 classes of irises, 12 classes of peonies, 5 classes of perennials, artistically arranged in baskets, bowls and vases, and 15 classes of roses calling for exhibits of an individual bud in a vase to sprays of climbing roses 3 feet or more in length.

Among the special awards to be made will be a silver model offered by the American Iris Society to the exhibitor winning the most points in the iris classes and a bronze medal to the exhibitor scoring the second largest number of points. Three awards will be made to exhibitors in each of the classes specified in the schedule.

A public lecture in the ballroom of the Carlton Hotel at 8 o'clock tonight will be given by John C. Wister on the subject of the iris, followed by an illustrated talk by B. Y. Morrison.

Influence Denied Over Elkins Will

A denial that he unduly influenced Mrs. Hallie Davis Elkins in making her last will, which disposed of an estate valued at $1,500,000 was made in District Supreme Court yesterday by George P. Snyder.

Snyder's answer to the charge was filed through Attorneys Wilton J. Lambert and R. H. Yeatman. Their answer was directed toward a protest filed by a grandson, Stephen B. Elkins, which alleged that his grandmother "was mentally incapable of executing the instrument and that it was procured by the undue influence exercised upon her by Davis Elkins, a son, and George P. Snyder, who was named as executor."

Last week Justice Jennings Bailey appointed Snyder and Hugh H. Obear, collectors of the estate, pending a solution to the litigation over the will. He also designated Lambert and J. V. Morgan, attorneys to defend suits pending against Mrs. Elkins at the time of her death or any that might be brought against the collectors.

Cat Scratch Victim Is Still Gravely Ill

The condition of Miss Dorothy Bailey, of Clarendon, who is suffering from blood poisoning and erysipelas, resulting from a cat scratch, remained about the same throughout yesterday, it was said at Garfield Hospital last night.

Miss Bailey, who was clawed on the chest last week by a small kitten, spent a fairly comfortable day, authorities at the hospital said, although her condition is still serious.

Members of the family made it clear yesterday that Miss Bailey was given medical treatment at the time she received the injury, though it was not until two days later, when the wound showed signs of infection, that she was removed to the hospital.

Toss of Hat Wins Freedom for Boy

He threw his hat—and gained freedom from a possible sentence, did Thomas Logan, colored and 18 years old, in Police Court yesterday.

Logan and a companion he identified only as "Red Mice" were arrested when they were found on the roof of a building in the southwest. He testified that "Red Mice" had thrown his cap up on the roof of the building and that he was merely up on the roof to retrieve the cap.

Judge Gus A. Schuldt asked Logan to give a demonstration of how a cap could be thrown to the top of a 25-foot building, whereupon the prisoner threw his own cap with a resounding smack against the roof of the 20-foot high courtroom. "Case dismissed," Judge Schuldt remarked.

U. S. ASKS INDICTING OF NEW 'AL CAPONE'

Imposing Evidence Brought Against Gang Leader, Murray Humphreys.

Chicago, May 22 (A.P.).—The Government asked a Federal grand jury today to indict Chicago's "new Capone" and his chief aids for failing to pay income taxes on millions allegedly terrorized from industry and commerce.

Specially commissioned at Washington for the task, Assistant Special United States Attorney General Leslie A. Salter carried into the grand jury room an armful of documentary evidence showing income of rack-steering trade associations and labor unions.

Assisting him was District Attorney Dwight H. Green, a central figure in the legal battle that put Al Capone and a half dozen others in Federal penitentiaries.

Murray Humphreys, successor to Capone as "public enemy No. 1," was reported to be the man against whom the most imposing evidence had been gathered. Others were William ("Three-fingered Jack") White, "Klondike" O'Donnell and Marcus ("Studdy") Looney, his chief lieutenants, and Thomas Maloy, head of the strife-torn motion pictures operators' union.

Evidence of toll extorted from the dyeing and dry cleaning industry was reported to be the first introduced to the grand jury. Evidence of gangster domination of many labor unions and trucking organizations was reportedly being prepared for the jury.

Pierce Hall Opera Scenes Tomorrow

Scenes from several operas will be presented by the Zalipsky Opera Club at its annual public performance at 8:30 p. m. tomorrow at Pierce Hall, Fifteenth and Harvard streets northwest.

Mme. Marie Zalipsky, director of the amateur operatic group, is a former prima donna of the Imperial Opera of Russia. Theodore Bekefi presents the ballet and has charge of the stage.

The soloist having leading roles are: Sola Holmen, Marjorie Isaacs, Melba Osmond, Vittoria de Andreis, Guiseppi Bruno, Domenic Balardo, Eugene Swygert, John Kiernan, Nathan Bachrach and Melville Slaughter. Milton Schwartz, violinist, and Richard Bell, pianist, will have important instrumental roles.

Officials of Three States Confer on Phone Rates

Officials and accountants of the New York, Wisconsin, Pennsylvania and District commissions handling public utility matters yesterday were in conference all day in the District Building on a report submitted by a special subcommittee of accountants, suggesting corrections in the classifications of telephone accounts.

The report, when approved after modification, will be submitted to the Interstate Commerce Commission by June 1, preparatory to a resumption of the hearing June 14. Among those present yesterday were Dr. Milo Maltbie, chairman of the New York Public Service Commission, and David E. Lilienthal, of the Wisconsin commission. Riley E. Elgen, vice chairman, and William A. Roberts, special counsel, represented the District commission.

1935, are those on automobiles, radio receiving sets, mechanical refrigerators, sporting goods, firearms, shells and cartridges, cameras, matches, candy, chewing gum, soft drinks, toilet articles, furs, jewelry, tires and inner tubes, malt, wurt, grape concentrates, amusement admission taxes, checks, safety deposit boxes, oil pipe lines, yachts, boats and stamp taxes on transfers of stocks, bonds, conveyances and sales of produce for future delivery.

During the night executive session, Douglas told the committee that it was the desire of the administration to assure sufficient revenue for the operation of the Government and for improving the Government's financial credit situation.

The committee temporarily laid aside the Marland oil control measure, referred to it Saturday by Speaker Rainey, with the suggestion from President Roosevelt that they be combined.

"I haven't any instructions to put it into the bill and there has been really no request," Chairman Doughton said. "As I understand it, the President is willing for it to be put on the industry bill, but that he is leaving it up to the Ways and Means Committee."

Doughton said he favored considering the bill separately, because the oil control proposal was controversial, and President Roosevelt had not asked Congress directly for its inclusion into the industry bill, although he mentioned it in letters to Vice President Garner and Speaker Rainey.

F. Scott McBride, general superintendent of the Antisaloon League, said in a statement that the estimates of revenue from the return of legal liquor anticipated the sale of as much as was sold before the adoption of prohibition.

"In other words, the old time liquor revenues are being offered for the restoration of the same old liquor traffic," he said. "This means the saloon with its bums, its promotion of lawlessness, drunkeness, immorality, corruption and crime."

While the ways and means committee was considering the industrial control section with a view to making minor amendments, the Senate finance committee opened hearings on the measure.

Senator Wagner (Democrat), New York, one of the coauthors, frankly described it as an "experiment" for two years, but as "an experiment worth making, for our objectives are to preserve the merits of competition in industry and to avoid its abuses, to multiply the opportunities for employment and to lift our standards of living."

Representative Kvale (Farmer-Laborite), Minnesota, suggested to the Ways and Means Committee that the child labor law that was declared unconstitutional by the Supreme Court years ago, be revamped and included in the bill.

"By preventing children less than 16 years old from working, 2,000,000 jobs would be given adults," Kvale said.

CHEVY CHASE SAVINGS BANK JOINS WITH RIGGS NATIONAL

Treasury Department as soon as final arrangements are completed. Following consummation of the plans, the name of Chevy Chase Branch of Riggs National Bank will be adopted.

More than 500 stockholders and depositors of the Northeast Savings Bank last night gathered in the auditorium of Stuart Junior High School and enthusiastically indorsed the institution's decision to join the proposed "Hamilton National Bank of Washington."

Ratification of the new plan was decided upon after abandonment of a proposal to reopen the bank as an independent institution. Under the latter plan depositors were requested to waive 25 per cent of their deposits to secure $250,000 worth of new stock to reopen. Under the merger plan 12½ per cent will be required.

Warren R. Forster will be the Treasury Department aid in organization of the Hamilton National. Consolidation of six or more restricted banks in Washington will complete the new institution, with Edwin C. Graham as president.

Mr. Forster is being lent by the Treasury Department. He will have headquarters in the main banking house of the Federal-American National Bank & Trust Co., Fourteenth and G streets northwest, and will appraise the assets of participating banks and perfect details for the consolidation.

A campaign to sell $1,250,000 worth of new stock to create the proposed bank, thereby making available 50 per cent of the deposits in participating banks, was launched yesterday. Fifty thousand shares of the stock, at a par value of $20, must be sold at $25 each, it was declared.

Stockholders and depositors of the participating institutions will be given first opportunity to subscribe to the stock. Favorable reaction to the plan has been shown among officials and depositors.

William John Eynon, vice president of the Federal-American National Bank & Trust Co., and chairman of the subscription committee, forwarded letters yesterday to stockholders and depositors, in which they were urged to join ownership of the proposed Hamilton National Bank of Washington.

C.U. GLEE CLUB WINS MERITED APPLAUSE

Delightfully Sung Program Marks Spring and Final Concert.

In its spring concert, last of the season, the Catholic University Glee Club presented last evening in McMahon Hall auditorium a delightfully sung program, eliciting from the capacity audience salvos of applause. Assisting the glee club, singing under the direction of Dr. Leo Behrendt, with Frank J. Brennan as accompanist, was John J. McMahon, well-known tenor of St. Matthew's choir.

Between the Baldwin arrangement of Oley Speaks' "Morning" and the traditional singing of Catholic University's "Alma Mater," as the finale, the glee club offered a wide variety of numbers, outstanding among which were a musicalizaton of Thomas Moore's "The Minstrel Boy," "On the Road to Mandalay" (Speaks); "Going Home" (Dvorak), "Ole Uncle Moon" (Scott), and "Drinking Song," from Romberg's "The Student Prince."

The heretofore much-abused "Marcheta" (Schertzinger) gained tremendously in new beauty with the club's rendition, and Bullard's stirring "Sword of Ferrara" served a fitting climax to the program. Dichmont's "The Little Banjo" was offered as an encore.

In "The Trumpeter" (Dix), "The Wanderer" (Schubert), and "Morning" (del Riego), Mr. McMahon had the opportunity to display his fine tenor voice and he lived up to the possibilities of his numbers. As an instrumental interlude, Accompanist Brennan played "Pastorale" (Scarlotti), "Valse Triste" (Sibelius) and "Jardin sous la Pluie" (Debussy).

W. A. WHITNEY.

During last night's spring concert of the Catholic University Glee Club, Dr. Edward Pace, president of the university, presented medals to senior class members of the club rendering meritorious service to the organization. Dr. Leo Behrendt was also similarly honored.

Those receiving the medals were: Accompanist Frank J. Brennan, W. B. Carmody, H. E. Clinton, L. L. Covino, J. T. DeBettencourt, E. F. Grassman, W. T. Hannan, W. R. Hanrahan, jr., G. D. Herrmann, J. S. Lomenso, F. G. Tigani.

Neighborhood House Dramas on Thursday

Because of the inclement weather during the annual spring festival at Neighborhood House, the three playlets which were given during that period will be repeated Thursday night at the settlement, 470 N street southwest, according to Mrs. Clara D. Neligh, head resident. The costumes have all been refurbished and the children are practicing hard for Thursday night's entertainment.

In addition to the three playlets, there will be folk dances and a May pole dance by the children.

Officials Gathering Data To Figure District Rate

District official are gathering data in anticipation of figuring out what the 1935 District tax rate will be, but the rate will not be announced until after the pending District appropriations bill is passed and the May tax collections are known.

William P. Richards, tax assessor, estimates that tax assessments will be between 5 and 10 per cent less in the next fiscal year than this year, the present assessment base being $1,226,000,000.

POWERS ARE HAPPY OVER MOVE BY U. S.

French officials were less optimistic about the final approval by the various governments involved of the four-power pact for peace approved at Rome over the past week-end by representatives of the nations in question, namely, France, Italy, Germany, and Great Britain.

Contrary to Rome dispatches announcing complete agreement, and similar advices from London and Berlin, the Quai D'Orsey declared negotiations were still under way and that the agreement had not finally been completed.

Diplomatic representatives of the Little Entente—Czechoslovakia, Jugoslavia and Roumania—opposed to the four-power pact were busy in Paris, particularly the Czechoslovakians, who insist that they all remain bitterly opposed to the pact.

The French appeared willing to accept the American definition of an aggressor as outlined by Davis at Geneva, namely, any power, large or small, that sends its troops into the territory of another nation "in violation of the treaties."

Rome, May 22 (A.P.).—Semiofficial circles expressed today deep satisfaction with the declaration at Geneva by Norman H. Davis, American representative, of the policy the United States will pursue to aid in preserving peace.

They welcomed his declaration that America would enter into consultation with European nations in event of a war threat. Italy already has expressed a favorable reaction to the American indorsement of the MacDonald disarmament plan.

Premier Mussolini, in a speech at an executive session of the Fascist grand council, declared the international situation "is greatly improved" as a result of recent events.

He informed the council of the outcome of negotiations for his four-power peace pact, informally accepted by Great Britain, France, Germany and Italy and now awaiting official initialing. The date for the formal announcement invoking the pact has not yet been fixed.

Mussolini described President Roosevelt's initiative and the speech last week by Chancellor Hitler of Germany as the high spots in recent events which have led Europe out of a dangerous crisis.

London, May 22 (U.P.).—The United States is closer to the peoples in Europe than at any time since the World War, a British spokesman said tonight, praising the arms declaration by Norman H. Davis, American delegate, at Geneva.

Berlin (Tuesday), May 23 (A.P.).—The disarmament speech in Geneva by Norman H. Davis, American special envoy, was published prominently in German newspapers today and was warmly praised in Chancellor Hitler's mouthpiece, Voelkischer Beobachter.

THE FEDERAL DIARY

By GEORGE D. RILEY

Success of the Federal Diary First Annual Golf Tournament at Indian Spring Thursday is assured by the careful planning of the general committee pictured above. Left to right, front—L. T. Hopkins, Agriculture; John J. Lynch, Treasury; J. L. Acuff, Justice; Homer Pope, G. A. O., and D. Paul Swope, Interior. Back—Frank G. Butler, War; Frank G. Erskine, Commerce; A. L. Duncan, Internal Revenue; Robert Leighhey, Patent Office, and Frank S. Borden, Commerce.

FOLLOWING is the list of entrants arranged in foursomes and their starting time for No. 1 tee, at Indian Spring, where the Federal Diary first annual golf tournament will be held Thursday. The number following the name is the handicap. Where there is no handicap shown the player will be allowed a handicap of two-thirds of the difference between his score and par 71, J. Leland Acuff, Prohibition, general chairman, announces.

It is requested that all players be on hand ready to play at the time specified. Some of the prizes will be on display in the window of R. Harris & Co., jewelers, F street, today.

Many late requests have been received from men desiring to enter the tournament. However, at the outset a definite closing date was set and those who were late in filing could not be placed, the general committee found. Yesterday the rules of the tournament were published. Please keep a copy handy to facilitate play. They will not be repeated. Starting times and handicaps:

To Willis E. Hurd,(*) secretary, Weather Bureau Lodge, No. 25, A. F. G. E.: Thanks for the kind expressions when you voted this sentiment, "We are grateful for the helpful and illuminating tone of your editorials and comments and trust that we, as a part of the citizenry of the Washington area, may always merit the kindly and steadfast aid of your column."

I Kiss Your Lips, Madame.

I AM generally insignificant in price, but I carry far and my mission is most important, dealing in joys and sorrow; wealth and poverty; love and hate; injustice and charity.

I have touched the lips of pretty women and have been tongue-lashed by angry and wronged men and women. I am treasured by school children and plain people. Presidents, statesmen and kings prize me and I am valuable when both new and old. I have been smashed in the face in the line of duty and have had my countenance smeared and blackened. I have passed through terrible machines in the service of mankind.

I was at one time under the control of a man who obtained quite a notoriety on account of a high hat. He increased my price and decreased my usefulness, causing quite a lot of discontent with the public. I am now controlled by a man important in the affairs of the Nation, call him Jim, who has promised to restore my old time popularity and usefulness by reducing my price. It is said that everything has its price, but I consider my price too high.

I am to be found in every city, town and village of the United States and I am carried around by faithful men to be used in your service.

Now I have been licked, being a postage stamp that has stuck to the job.

CHARLES J. SIMPSON.

IN the first page news today it is stated that the administration's railroad reorganization bill will insure workers their jobs at present wage scales. In the next column is an item stating that the Navy Department would dismiss 210 Federal employes here by July 1, and that thousands of civilians, enlisted men and officers throughout the service would lose their jobs.

The head man, in his talk before the United States Chamber of Commerce, asked business to keep up wages. Then he turns around and orders his Congress to cut the salaries of the Federal employes nearly in half—40 per cent to be exact.

I ask you, is this two-faced? And will somebody please tell me why this administration is so deathly bitter against the Federal employe?

Meeting in Paris recently the Permanent Committee of the International Veterinary Congresses elected Dr. John R. Mohler, chief, Bureau of Animal Industry, vice president, to succeed Dr. Emanuel Leclainche, chief of the Government Veterinary Services in Paris. Dr. Leclainche was elected president to succeed the eminent bacteriologist, Dr. Francis von Hutyra, rector of the Royal Hungarian Veterinary High School, Budapest, Hungary, who resigned office on account of serious illness.

As vice president, Dr. Mohler will take an active part in the twelfth International Veterinary Congress, to be held in New York City, August 15-19, 1934.

MISS ADA GREEN,(*) Records Division, Internal Revenue Bureau, took one of the prominent parts in a musical play entitled "The New Minister." It was presented in Calvary Baptist Church by the Christian Endeavor Society. She has a fine soprano voice and was the lead in nine of the seventeen musical numbers. Miss Green formerly resided in Lancashire, England. She visited the Royal Scot, England's finest train, in Union Station, and the pictorial scenes on display reminded her of school days.

PROBATING DUNMIRE WILL IS PROTESTED

Husband and Sister-in-Law Charge Fraud on Part of Unknown Persons.

Charging "undue influence and fraud on the part of persons unknown," Roy F. Dunmire, husband of the late Edna Shaw Dunmire, and his sister-in-law, Harriet H. Shaw, yesterday filed in District Supreme Court a joint petition protesting against admitting to probate the "last will" of Mrs. Dunmire.

The husband and sister also claimed that Mrs. Dunmire was not of "sound mind" at the time she executed the document, which made her husband the beneficiary of a life interest in the income from the estate.

The will, after specifying certain gifts of jewelry, household furniture, and the like, left the balance in trust for the husband. Upon his death, one-third of the income was to go to the trustees of the Baptist Home for Children, of Washington, and the balance to the trustees of the Baptist Home for the District.

Mrs. Shaw, Mrs. Rachel Palmer Creighton and Mrs. George W. Clarvoe were given $500 each. All the furniture, silverware, bric-a-brac, pictures and linens were to go to Mrs. Julia Dunmire. Dorothy V. Dunmire is given a three-stone diamond ring. No value of the estate was given. The will was dated August 31, 1932.

Alexopolus' Trial In Stabbing Opens

George Alexopolus, 47, yesterday went on trial before Justice Daniel W. O'Donoghue, in District Supreme Court, on an indictment charging him with having stabbed Christos Haralampidis in a restaurant on Eleventh street northwest in 1931.

The Government, through Assistant United States Attorney John J. Fitzpatrick, is basing its case against Alexopolus solely on circumstantial evidence, while the defense, through Attorney James O'Shea, has not yet disclosed what it would attempt to prove.

A bloody shirt and a cap, found in the defendant's room after the murder, are to be utilized by the prosecution.

3 Directors Will Aid Northeast Boys' Club

Albert W. Howard, vice president of the Firemen's Insurance Co., of Georgetown and Washington; Alvin Hall, director of the Bureau of Engraving and Printing, and Capt. Richard Mansfield, Ninth Precinct, Metropolitan Police Department, were elected members of the board of directors of the Northeast Boys Club yesterday.

Bruce Baird, president of the board, explained that there are still vacancies on the board and that the desire of club officials is to fill these as quickly as possible with men interested in boys and their problems. All three men named yesterday have taken a patricular interest in boys' work in the city.

House Gets Norton Bill To Raise P. U. C. Power

Chairman Mary T. Norton of the House District Committee yesterday introduced in the House the Public Utilities Commission's bill for broadening the commission's powers.

The measure, forwarded last week to Speaker Rainey, would prevent a court review of any of the commission's orders except those involving legal questions exclusively. The cost of litigation, where the commission's orders are contested, would be saddled upon the protesting utilities.

District Insurance Bill Hearings Due Thursday

Two local measures, one providing a new insurance code for the District and the other giving the superintendent of insurance emergency powers to safeguard the interests of policy-holders, beneficiaries, creditors and the public, will be the subject of hearings before the House District banking and insurance subcommittee Thursday morning at 10:30.

St. John's College Drill Of Cadets Is Tomorrow

The cadets of St. John's College will hold their annual competitive drill on the Ellipse tomorrow from 10 a. m. to 12 noon.

The drill is to be judged by officers furnished by the office of the chief of infantry U. S. Army, the District National Guard and the Marine Corps Reserve.

Ridley Accountants Facing Jury Today

New York, May 22 (A.P.).—Authorities conferred today to prepare the evidence they will offer tomorrow in the grand jury investigation of George G. Goodman and Arthur J. Hoffman, accountants charged with grand larceny in dealings with Edward A. Ridley, aged millionaire, who, with his secretary, Leo Weinstein, was slain in Ridley's subsidewalk office.

Meanwhile, Surrogate James A. Foley authorized the Central Hanover Bank & Trust Co., as temporary administrator of Ridley's estate, to offer a $10,000 reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of Ridley's slayer or slayers.

The reward is to be paid out of the funds of the estate.

Jewish Center Tonight Gives Variety Program

A variety of entertainment will be presented 8:15 tonight at the Jewish Community Center as the closing feature of the spring program of the center. The entertainment will be directed by members of the service council.

The officers of the council are: Maurice Eanet, president; Mrs. DeLavies and Stephen Sills, vice presidents; Miss Rose Shatenstein, recording secretary; Miss Gertrude Yoelson, corresponding secretary; Sam Mirman, treasurer, and Harry Debowitz, sergeant at arms.

HEALER TESTIFIES AT JURIST'S TRIAL

Microphone Enables Invalid to Speak in Senate on Louderback Case.

(Associated Press.)

From an invalid's chair before the Vice President's desk, W. S. Leake, a San Francisco healer, yesterday told the Senate of his friendship with Federal Judge Harold Louderback, to whose defense he came in impeachment proceedings against the California jurist.

Speaking slowly and at times with difficulty into a microphone placed on the arm of the reclining chair, Leake said "Not one cent" of the fees allowed receivers and attorneys by the judge had gone to his pocket.

The elderly, gray-haired man, clad in pajamas, was taken to the Senate chamber on a stretcher. He was brought to Washington under a Senate warrant over defense objections he was unable because of illness to make the trip.

Louderback himself probably will go on the stand today as the trial nears its close.

Leake was charged in the House indictment with having recommended to Louderback that H. B. Hunter succeed Addison G. Strong as receiver for the Russell-Colvin Brokerage Co. and with receiving $1,200 through John D. Short, who was Hunter's attorney.

At one point in his testimony, Leake said he had hired a detective to find out who was "shadowing" Judge Louderback, but did not reveal the circumstances or the outcome.

He told the Senate his income was in contributions from clients, including several figures involved in the impeachment report of House—W. L. Hathaway, Guy H. Gilbert and Samuel Shortridge, jr., son of the former California senator.

Short, Gilbert, W. N. Edwards and Shortridge, the latter three receivers in cases involved, were among those who testified during the day.

Edwards and Shortridge each said none of the amounts paid them went to Judge Louderback.

Lesley Anderson Burial Rites Today

Funeral services for Capt. Lesley Barratt Anderson, U. S. N., attached to the Navy Yard Division of the Navy Department, will be held this morning at Arlington National Cemetery with full military honors. Capt. Sydney K. Evans will officiate.

The honorary pallbearers will include Capts. I. C. Kidd, H. M. Cooley, C. A. Bonvillian, R. M. Ghormley, P. L. Wilson, all of the Navy and Kirby Smith. Capt. Anderson died at the Naval Hospital late Saturday. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Beatrice Hawley Anderson, of the Wyoming Apartments.

Capt. Anderson was born in Philadelphia September 22, 1884, and was appointed to the Naval Academy in 1902. He was a graduate of the Naval War College and had served several years at Annapolis as an instructor.

RITES FOR COMDR. KELLER.

Military Services Are Held in Arlington Cemetery.

Funeral services for Commander Charles S. Keller, U. S. N., were held in Arlington National Cemetery yesterday afternoon with full military honors. Capt. Sydney K. Evans, U. S. N., officiated.

MORGAN BANK PROBE TO BE OPENED TODAY

terday with associates completing plans for the opening of the hearing, but he would not disclose the nature of the evidence to be offered.

Income tax statements filed by the Morgan partners have been used by committee investigators as a basis for their inquiry into operations of the bankers.

Pecora predicted the investigation would result in "much important legislation" to revise banking laws.

As he talked to newspapermen, two additional trunk loads of evidence were hauled in from New York under a Justice Department guard. Already he and his aids were surrounded by a room full of documents.

Eleven members of the Morgan firm have been subpenaed for the investigation. Others called include Leonard Keyes, office manager of the firm; George H. Howard, president of United Corporation, and O. P. and M. J. Van Sweringen, the railroad operators.

John W. Davis Counsel.

As counsel the Morgan firm will have John W. Davis, the Democratic presidential nominee in 1924.

The committee also has subpenaed John P. Murphy, secretary of many of the Van Sweringen Corporations.

No Senate investigation since the Teapot Dome inquiry a decade ago has attracted the Nation-wide interest evidenced in the Morgan inquiry.

Not only has the head of the house of Morgan lived a life sheltered from public view, but the operations of his firm have been a mysterious but magic name in American finance.

It will be the first time the head of the firm has been called before a congressional committee since the father of the present Morgan was interrogated during the famous Pujo "money trust" investigations in 1912.

In the Pujo inquiry, the father of the present Morgan was questioned for hours by Samuel Untermyer, counsel for the committee, about his influence over the Nation's financial system.

The committee at that time, however, obtained little information about the operations of the firm. It did not have the advantage of the months of preliminary examination of the firm's books that the present investigators have had.

The financial set-up of the Morgan firm has been one of its most closely guarded secrets. Investigators have reported to the Senate committee that the firm challenged its authority to ask for this information.

Alexandria P.-T. A. Parade Tonight.

A parade will be held tonight preceding the educational rally to be held in the auditorium of the Maury School, Alexandria, under the auspices of the Parent-Teacher Association. The parade will start at 7:30 o'clock from King and Royal streets. The speaker of the evening will be Dr. Sidney B. Hall, State superintendent of public instruction. Mrs. W. J. Greenan will preside.

DR. FLOYD M. ALLEN DIES OF PNEUMONIA

Capital Physician and Police Surgeon Expires After Week's Illness.

Dr. Floyd McJ. Allen, 38, of 2831 Bancroft place northwest, well-known Capital physician and police surgeon, died from pneumonia late yesterday in Emergency Hospital.

Dr. Allen contracted la grippe early last week. His condition at first was thought to be not serious. Taking a turn for the worse Saturday, he was removed from his home to the hospital and it was found that his illness had developed into pneumonia. Blood poisoning set in Sunday and a transfusion was necessary.

Dr. Allan had been a police surgeon for about two years. He is survived by his wife and two children, one 2½ years old and the other 3 months.

Dr. Allen obtained his medical training at the University of Michigan, the Mayo Foundation and Harvard University. During the World War he served in the Medical Corps of the Navy. He was a member of the medical staffs of the Episcopal Eye, Ear and Throat; Emergency, Children's and Gallinger hospitals, and of the medical faculty of George Washington University.

Cuban Rebels Flee In Separate Bands

Havana, May 22 (A.P.).—Reports reaching here today led this capital to believe rebels active in Santa Clara and Camaguey provinces last week have retired to the hills, probably dividing into small bands the better to avoid capture.

Only one band of any size was known definitely still to be in the field. Approximately 30 men, led by Gerardo Meneses, who was one of former President Mario G. Menocal's aids de camp in the latter's abortive revolutionary movement of 1931, was reported near Manicaragua, in Santa Clara Province.

No advices were received today or yesterday as to the whereabouts of the larger group numbering at one time around 250 men, which was headed by Juan Blas Hernandez, another revolutionist of 1931. The presumption here was that the men had taken to cover, divided into small units.

City Tries to Slash Telephone Expense

The District economy committee is trying to cut down telephone calls made by municipal employes to reduce the District government's telephone bill, it was learned yesterday. An order was issued by the Commissioners to department heads more than a year ago that no employe could use a District phone except for municipal business, but it failed to cut the calls for any length of time.

For a while employes used the pay telephones in the hall when making personal calls, but within a few months the average of 60,000 calls a month was again recorded. Last month there were 63,000 calls made from the District Building, exclusive of the fire and the welfare departments, which have private switchboards. In March there were 56,000.

The cost per call, after a limited number, is 3 cents. Consequently, the April bill was $1,874.71, the March account $1,683.35.

Glen Echo Mayor Heads Fire Board

Henry P. McCuen, Mayor of Glen Echo, Md., has been chosen president of the newly elected Conduit Road Fire Board, which is to administer the fire tax collected in the area along Conduit road. Frederick Page, of Crest View, and O. M. Kile, of Mohican Hills, were elected vice presidents; Clarence W. Sands, of Glen Echo Heights, secretary, and L. H. Odell, of Brookmont, treasurer.

L. H. Odell, Edward Fagan, of Glen Echo, and B. B. Vaden, of Glen Echo Heights, were appointed a committee on budget, and Frederick Page, L. H. Odell and O. M. Kile, a committee on constitution and by-laws.

Mayor McCuen announced that the town of Glen Echo has donated a plot of ground known as the "Circle" for use of the fire board when it is decided to erect a new firehouse. The board will meet again June 2 to perfect details of organization.

Flowers to Be Received For Confederate Graves

Mrs. Charles W. Howell, president of the Daughters of the Confederacy chapter, has requested all who have flowers to donate for the annual Confederate Decoration Day, May 24, to please send them to Lee Camp Hall, 806 Prince street, tomorrow morning, beginning at 10 o'clock, when a committee will be ready to receive them.

Confederate flags will be placed on the graves of soldiers of that army this afternoon, and the annual exercises will be held at the monument, Prince and Washington streets, at 6 p. m. tomorrow.

Alexandrians Today Get Higher Water Pressure

Beginning today the water pressure in the greater part of the residential section of Alexandria will be increased. The higher pressure will be turned on this afternoon, and will be gradually increased from day to day, reaching its peak of approximately double the present pressure by the close of the present week.

Residents have been urged to watch all water pipes and fixtures during the next few weeks, it being pointed out that damage may result from defective or wornout plumbing.

Chevy Chase Home Robbed.

Gaining entrance with a skeleton key through a back door, robbers yesterday entered the home of W. Boyce Morgan, 6320 Brookville road, Chevy Chase, and stole property valued at $75. Included in the loot was a typewriter and a silver finger ring. Montgomery County police of the Bethesda substation are investigating.

River Loot

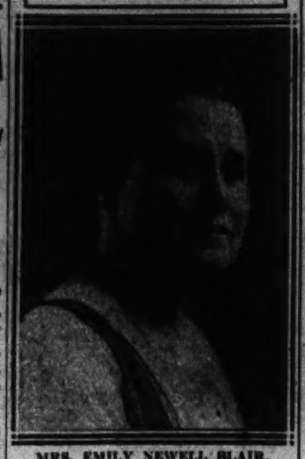
Suspect in Cottage Robbery Seized Before Crime Was Discovered.

Before the owners of the cottages knew they had been robbed, police yesterday had arrested an alleged robber and recovered goods said to have been stolen from two cottages on the Potomac River.

Seventh Precinct police arrested the man on suspicion and turned him over to Sergt. Leroy Rodgers and Policeman Windsor Poole, of Bethesda substation, Montgomery County. The man gave his name as Robert William Brisell, of Hazleton, Pa., and said he recently was released from the Maryland House of Correction, where he served a 30-month sentence for robbery of camps in the same section.

The man admitted entering the camps of W. B. Gilpin, 830 Madison avenue northwest, and Robert N. Miller, a lawyer in the Southern Building. He was charged with larceny and will be given a preliminary hearing in county police court today.

SPEAKER



MRS. EMILY NEWELL BLAIR, honorary vice president of the Woman's National Democratic Club and former vice chairman of the Democratic National Committee, who, with Miss Lavinia Engle, director of the Maryland League of Women Voters, will address a county-wide meeting Thursday under auspices of the Woman's Democratic Club of Montgomery County at the Lincolnway Hotel, Rockville, Md. Mrs. Ernest Offutt, Mrs. George Edmunds, Mrs. Roger Shaw and Mrs. Gordon Stup form the committee in charge of arrangements for the affair, to which all interested women are invited. Tea will be served by members of the Rockville branch.

PRESIDENT EXTENDS VISIT TO ANNAPOLIS

Special to The Washington Post.

Annapolis, Md., May 22.—Although it was originally expected that President Roosevelt's trip to Annapolis June 1, to deliver the address and present diplomas to the graduating class of midshipmen would be hurried, the Chief Executive will prolong his stay long enough to be luncheon guest of Rear Admiral Thomas C. Hart, superintendent of the Naval Academy, it was announced today.

Officials of the academy and of the Navy Department are shaping a program for the President's visit. It also has been announced that the President's address and the complete commencement ceremonies will be broadcast. Admission to the exercises in Dahlgren Hall will be by ticket, and officials said today that the number of requests indicate a record throng, with demand exceeding supply.

But there will be a greater number of luckless ones for the farewell ball in honor of the graduates the night preceding commencement, at which members of the second class will be hosts. Invitations for the ball are under the supervision of an officer of the executive department. Because of existing conditions, authorities felt that the midshipmen should be saved some of the expense that the ball entails.

While the regular academic routine has abated to a marked extent, today midshipmen launched upon the series of competitive company drills that figure in the annual award of the right to carry the national and regimental colors during the next academic year. Presentation of the colors is one of the interesting features of June week.

Alexandria Rotary Meeting.

J. Rixey Smith, secretary to Senator Carter Glass, will be the principal speaker at the meeting of the Alexandria Rotary Club in the George Mason Hotel today. He will speak on "The Federal Pie Counter."

3 CAPITAL MEN PLAN BLUE LAW APPEALS

Montgomery Police Court Fines to Be Tested; Darrow to Aid.

Montgomery County Bureau of The Post, 8706 Georgia Ave., Silver Spring, Md. Telephone Shepherd 2363.

Writs of certiorari will be asked in the cases of three Washington men, who were fined $5 each yesterday on charges of violating the blue laws of Maryland, enacted in 1723, by Judge Donald A. DeLashmutt in Montgomery County Police Court at Rockville, Md. The men are M. D. Shear, G. P. Minor and H. C. Kearns.

Defense Attorneys John J. McGinnis, John Wheeler Cleaton, both of counsel of the Association Opposed to Blue Laws, and Samuel H. Horne, claim that their clients' constitutional rights have been infringed, in that an attorney was forced to testify against his client; that John Doe warrants on which the men were arrested were changed to specific warrants after their arrest; that the warrants were served on Sunday in violation of the Maryland law, and that the parties involved had not been properly identified. They will apply to the Maryland Court of Appeals for a writ within a few days, Attorney McGinnis said last night.

The Maryland law does not provide for appeals from police court cases in which the fines do not exceed $10. Defense attorneys also were denied the right of having their case tried by jury, they claim.

The three men were arrested while moving furniture belonging to Attorney Horne from his Washington home, where the lease had expired, to Somerset, Md., on Sunday. The warrants were sworn out by Leroy Weber, of Somerset.

Mr. Weber, under cross-examination by Mr. McGinnis, said that he could not positively identify the three men and could not remember what it was that attracted his attention to them.

He said that he was an attorney and a court stenographer, but that he had not worked since 1906.

When Mr. Weber was unable to identify the men, State's Attorney Stedman Prescott called Attorney Horne to the stand as a State's witness in an effort to identify the men. Defense counsel protested that this violated the rights of a lawyer with his client, and that any knowledge of the lawyer concerning the case was privileged and confidential. The judge ordered Mr. Horne to testify, and he said that the three men had been hired by him to move his furniture.

Clarence Darrow, noted lawyer, is expected to arrive in Washington in about ten days to assist in presenting the case before the Maryland Court of Appeals. He was unable to reach here in time for the trial in police court.

Marylander Guilty In Extortion Plot

Baltimore, May 22 (A.P.).—Harry Surasky, of Baltimore and New York, today was found guilty of conspiracy to extort money from L. Manuel Hendler, wealthy ice cream manufacturer, and of abducting Hendler's 17-year-old son, Albert. The trial, which started this morning, ended suddenly when the defense announced it would offer no testimony.

Hyman Goldfinger, also charged with conspiracy, is scheduled to go on trial tomorrow. Samuel Max Lipsitz, another defendant, pleaded guilty. Judge Robert F. Stanton withheld sentencing Surasky and Lipsitz until Goldfinger's case is completed.

A Federal charge involving use of the mails is entered against the men in New York, where Hendler was to have delivered the money.

Aged Man's Death Laid to Fire Fight

Exertion of extinguishing a fire in the basement of his home is believed to have been the cause of the death of Thomas E. McAvoy, 80, of Rockville, Md., yesterday.

Mr. McAvoy, who lived with a daughter, Mrs. May E. Fisher, about 5 a. m. yesterday discovered a fire, caused by the oil burner in the basement, and managed to put out the flames after a lengthy battle. He collapsed from a heart attack when he started back to his bedroom and died before medical aid could reach him.

The man was a native of Waddington, N. Y., and had lived in Rockville 14 years. The body was removed to the Colonial Funeral Home at Rockville. Funeral arrangements had not been completed last night. Burial will be in Waddington.

Prince Georges Appeal For Clothing Is Made

A special appeal for winter clothing that residents may be ready to donate was made yesterday by the Associated Charities of Hyattsville and vicinity.

Although there are still many names of the employment register, according to Mrs. Retta D. Morris, president of the Associated Charities, employment conditions have improved. Clothes obtained at this time will be stored to meet present needs and the increased needs of winter.

ARLINGTON HALL'S GRADUATION HELD

ARLINGTON COUNTY BUREAU OF THE POST.
Tel. Clar. 809. Clarendon, Va.

With the chapel of Arlington Hall College for Girls filled to its capacity, the sixth annual graduating exercises were held yesterday. The ceremonies opened with invocation by the Rev. Joseph R. Sizoo, pastor of the New York Avenue Presbyterian Church, Washington, who congratulated the 24 members of the class.

Dr. William E. Martin, president of the college, presenting the diplomas, said:

"Do not be satisfied now that you are about to receive your diplomas denoting that you have completed your course of study here at Arlington Hall, but as the years come and go, continue to strive to learn more."

To Miss Henrietta Myers, of Pennsylvania, president of the class, went the highest honors for a mark of 95. Miss Elizabeth Hite, of California, was second with an average of 94 plus, and Miss Dorothy Reo Winings, of Oklahoma, was third with an average of 91.

Only good beer of proven merit could earn such insistence on the part of discriminating people.

35 years . . undeviating adherence to the principle of making "the best" has won for Abner Drury's Royal Pilsen and Old Glory beer a host of loyal friends.

Every good and necessary quality the perfect beer should have will be found in Royal Pilsen and Old Glory . . . To offer less than the best . . . would be in direct conflict with our 35-year-old policy, "To make beer as you like it."

AN EXPLANATION

Since April 7th the demand for Royal Pilsen and Old Glory has been tremendous and many were disappointed in not being able to purchase it. It does seem strange that with one of the best equipped and finest breweries of its size we could not meet the demand . . . But the truth of the matter is that we have over a long period of years built a reputation for quality beer. We could use short-cut methods and forget quality. This we will not do. Good beer, besides having the highest grade of malt and hops obtainable, must be properly lagered (aged). Only then will you get that exquisite flavor—the sparkle in the foam—and a pleasing, satisfying taste.

We would rather have you disappointed in not being able to buy Royal Pilsen and Old Glory today—than to have you disappointed when you drink it.

FOR COLLECTIVE WAR.

In his speech at Geneva yesterday the spokesman of the United States, Ambassador Norman H. Davis, offered in behalf of this country to enter into engagements of a novel character, more far-reaching in their possible consequences of "foreign entanglements" than the United States has ever before been willing to consider. As Mr. Davis speaks with authority, so far as the Executive is concerned, the proposals he outlines may mark a turning-point in American history.

On condition that the nations proceed to a disarmament agreement, notably by abolishing offensive weapons, Mr. Davis states that the United States is willing to consult with other nations in case of a threat to peace; that if the states in conference determine that a state has been guilty of a breach of the peace in violation of treaty obligations and take measures against the violator, the United States, if it concurs in the identification of the guilty party, will refrain from any action tending to defeat the collective effort to restore peace; and that the United States will assist in setting up an international system to insure performance of disarmament agreements and will participate in this supervision.

American policy under Presidents Hoover and Roosevelt has moved toward agreement with other nations to confer upon threatened breaches of the peace in violation of treaties; but not until now has the United States Government signified that it was willing to forgo neutrality in case it should concur with conferring nations in identifying an aggressor. Nor has the United States ever before intimated that it would consent to the supervision of an international system set up to insure fulfillment of disarmament engagements.

Mr. Davis suggests that the simplest and most accurate definition of an aggressor is one whose armed forces are found on alien soil in violation of treaties.

This is a practical test, so far as Japan's aggression in China is concerned; but it does not apply to the breach of the peace in the Gran Chaco. War is going on in South America, but it would baffle any conference to determine the identity of the aggressor. Moreover, hostilities might bring about a condition in which the armed forces of each party would be found on the soil of the other. So it is evident that Mr. Davis' test to determine the aggressor may be simple, but not always accurate.

Great as is the desire of the United States to co-operate with other nations for disarmament, it is yet to be learned whether a treaty proposing to accept international supervision of American armaments would be acceptable to the Senate and the people.

An engagement to abandon the policy of neutrality in case the United States should agree with other nations in identifying an aggressor is in essence an agreement to join other nations in going to war to put down the aggressor. The undertaking is described by Mr. Davis as a "collective effort . . . to restore peace." This proposal is substantially a plan to form war alliances—a policy against which the United States has always set its face. It refused to become an ally of the allied powers during the World War. Its association with other nations in that war resulted in great embarrassments, which are not yet removed. Perhaps the present idea of joining the nations to make war against an aggressor includes a provision stipulating that each nation shall pay its own war expenses and not borrow from the others. If no such provision is in mind, it might be well to consider it, in order to facilitate approval of the proposed treaty by the Senate.

Many students of international affairs are apt to suggest that Mr. Davis' proposals make possible future complications, including wars and war debts, which might be even more objectionable and costly than the present lack of agreement concerning reduction of armaments. There may be danger in going too far in foreign engagements for the sake of inducing other nations to cut down their arms. It is as much their duty to reduce armaments as it is the duty of the United States to do so. The price which Mr. Davis offers to pay seems to be too high, in view of the fact that disarmament does not absolutely secure peace, while the proposed commitments of the United States would almost surely sooner or later involve it in war.

REORGANIZATION SAVINGS.

President Roosevelt is about to bring forth another major economy bill which, if it is approved by Congress, will bring up to nearly $900,000,000 the estimated savings of the Government since the new administration took the helm. That in itself is a remarkable achievement. Not many months ago it was considered impossible to effect such sweeping economies. But the President has used the financial crisis to bludgeon Congress into action.

Apparently Mr. Roosevelt expects to use pressure once more to bring about the enactment of this measure for reorganization of the Government. The House upset Mr. Hoover's reorganization plan, just as it rejected his effort to reduce veterans' unjust allowances. Since President Roosevelt was able to force the large Democratic majority into line for the veterans' cut, he doubtless expects to push this bill through.

The act authorizing the President to reorganize the Government service was drawn so that action by Congress on the finished plan would not be necessary. One consolidation project—the Farm Credit Administration—will become effective this month after laying before Congress for 60 days without rejection. But Congress does not expect to remain in session 60 more days. Hence, affirmative approval of the reorganization plan will be essential if its economies are to become effective in the next fiscal year.

President Roosevelt's vigorous campaign to reduce Federal expenditures represents the "deflation of government" which business leaders have been demanding. There has been a widespread feeling that the Government was spending too much on its bureaus and independent agencies. Yet it must be recognized that in making these reductions the Government is abandoning activities that are highly beneficial to business, industry and agriculture, and it is creating more unemployment by depriving thousands of Government workers of their jobs. These changes in the Federal service correspond to the evolution through which private enterprise has passed in the last two years.

THE FROZEN DEPOSITS.

The Chairman of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, Jesse H. Jones, in expressing the opinion that the operations of his great organization give decided evidence of a trend toward economic national recovery, with a decreasing demand for loans, also reveals that closed banks are being reopened at the rate of 125 per week. With the evident desire of the country to expand business activity, governmental energy can be expended in no direction that will yield such prompt and beneficial returns as the restoration to current use of the many millions of deposits still lying idle in closed banks.

The R. F. C. has already participated in the reestablishment of sound banks by purchasing preferred stock to the extent of $52,000,000. The organization is prepared to extend these purchases, and the process should be pressed with all possible expedition compatible with assurance that banks are reopened on a sound basis. About 25 per cent of the banks that were closed at the time of the general holiday have not yet been reopened for business. The money of depositors that is still tied up in these institutions according to an average of estimates is about $5,000,000,000. It is not difficult to realize what the removal of this vast amount of active capital from circulation means at this time.

Release of these deposits puts money into immediate use. The public works program and combined farm and home mortgage plans can not hope to release any such sum in the course of a year's operation. It will take weeks and months to get the various relief measures working at full speed. If the R. F. C., the Treasury and the Federal Reserve System can combine their efforts to accelerate the opening of banks, here is offered the most practical and legitimate "reflation" possible. There is nothing but equity and justice in restoring to the possession of depositors the use of their own money.

CONQUERED WITH KINDNESS.

Dispersion of the second bonus army which has invaded Washington in the last year is being completed. Most of the men showed good judgment in registering for jobs in the woods. Having come to Washington to demand a handout from the Government, they were reluctant to accept work at $1 per day instead. Yet the logic of President Roosevelt's offer appealed to the more reasonable veterans. While demanding relief they could not consistently reject an opportunity to work.

Thus the problem of handling the major portion of the bonus army is passed on to officials of the Civilian Conservation Corps. A few hundred veterans who refused to compromise, and who are more determined than ever to bring pressure upon the Government for payment of the bonus, remain a problem for the Government. These men are leaving Washington with the avowed intention of recruiting a larger bonus army for another march on the Capital. Their stories of the treatment they received at Fort Hunt may lead to the belief, on the part of a great many veterans, that they can come to Washington at the expense of Uncle Sam and enjoy an excellent vacation while yelling for the bonus.

So far as the present encampment is concerned, President Roosevelt undoubtedly conquered a majority of the veterans with kindness. He acted on the old theory of Brigham Young, the Mormon pioneer leader, who said it was easier to feed the Indians than to fight them. But how far will the administration go in feeding armies of lobbyists who seek to intimidate the Government? The news of Uncle Sam's largess will spread rapidly, and such a reputation may become very embarrassing. Prudence suggests that the Government take immediate steps to discourage marchers heading for Washington under the illusion that the Government will feed all comers.

SCUTTLING PUBLIC WORKS.

After all the different factions interested in the reconstruction program had indorsed the sales tax as a means of financing a gigantic bond issue the House ways and means committee threw that levy overboard. All objections to temporary application of the sales tax had been overcome, except those of timorous congressmen who remember that a similar levy was rejected a year ago.

The effect of this action is to cast a shadow over the entire public works program. President Roosevelt has definitely stated that he will not jeopardize the credit of the Government to raise money for public works. He insists that the yield of revenue for the purpose of servicing the proposed bond issue must be adequate and certain. Experience shows that higher income taxes in times like the present can not be relied upon to produce a definite amount of revenue.

Furthermore, revenue from higher income taxes would not become available until next March 15. If the Government must wait until next spring to make certain that it will have funds to carry its proposed bonds, the public works program had better be abandoned, at least for the present. Maybe it is the intention of the committee to provide only an uncertain source of revenue so that the President will have a good excuse for not pushing this vast program of expenditure while the Government is so deep in the red.

If the committee is sincere in sponsoring a public works program, it would be a reckless policy indeed to leave the Treasury with uncertain means of revenue to finance it. Common sense demands either the sales tax to preserve the credit of the Government or abandonment of the public works plan. Recovery might be faster if the Government should go ahead with its plan to reorganize industry, while postponing the public works plan. But under no circumstances can the public works program be justified if it is not financed by adequate taxation.

Expediency has taken control of judgment in the ways and means committee. The House may not accept the hasty action of this group. Either the House or Senate ought to step into the breach and force adoption of the sales tax or kill the public works section of the bill.

Congress is a rubber eraser as well as a rubber stamp, and can easily rub out its inadequate tax plan and substitute the sales tax whenever the word comes.

Viscount Ishii may agree that the crossing of a frontier by armed forces identifies an aggressor, but he's not in favor of retroactive clauses.

In view of what American engineers have done for the Soviet, Moscow might lend Uncle Sam an administrator for Muscle Shoals.

Adjournment on June 10 will just suit the boys who shrink from cancellation of their immovable resolve not to cancel the debts.

NO RECOGNITION

From the Boston Transcript.

Inclusion by President Roosevelt of Soviet Russia among the countries to whom he informally addressed his peace note is being distorted in a symbol of recognition of the government of that country. We fail to see the connection. Presidents of the United States do not recognize foreign governments that way. The very informality of the President's method of address, passing over the ambassadors and ministers and sending a telegram direct to the government heads, in itself suggests a sense of personal communication remote from consideration as an official act. The message was signed "Franklin D. Roosevelt," without the appendage, "President of the United States." The message was to the peoples of the world. It used the government heads only as a device to reach those peoples. All conventionalities were thrust aside because of the need of haste, in contemplation of the Hitler speech.

The President could not have avoided including Soviet Russia, if his message was to be given full force. In addressing Moscow he directed his appeal to the group which possesses the largest army; a government which may yet fail to avoid a clash with Japan. The drive at Japan and Germany, both potential enemies of Russia, would have been measurably ineffective had it not included the third of the triumvirate which easily can set the world on fire again. To warn a government that its activities are feared and must be confined to peace measures is not to recognize it as an acceptable partner in the family of nations.

Formal recognition implies an exchange of ambassadors. A suggestion that the world organize to smash militarism is not a step toward recognition of a distrusted government. Nor is an appeal to all governments that they keep their military forces at home.

Just Around the Corner

POST HASTE.

Mussolini did beat the Roosevelt announcement to the wires by a few hours, but he had to work Sunday to do it.

The head of the brain trust doesn't agree with the head of the Cabinet on the importance of tariff reforms, demonstrating that the professors are not simply yes men to their chiefs.

Also Secretary Hull had better take Secretary Wallace with him to London or he may be boosting tariffs just as the conference swaps reductions.

That Army chow seems to have reached the vital argumentative spot and turned the bonus boys into forsteers.

Europe always gets sore at American stand-offness and insistence upon independent decisions, but always has hopes of pulling us clear in next time.

It is astonishing to hear the brave chances the "if-I-had-the-money" investors would take.

Adding oil to the troubles of the industry bill taxes congressional powers of production.

New York has finally decided that her saloons must be called clubs or beer gardens.

In searching for a detour to avoid the sales tax highway, a stranger, the law of diminishing returns, is becoming as annoying as old supply and demand.

Prof. Piccard is examining the world's fair grounds at Chicago as a site for his ascent to the stratosphere. He should worry about the take-off spot.

Ambassador Davis would abandon isolation, Secretary Hull will forego tariffs, who will forgive the debts?

"Proposal to drop 3,000 officers from the Army." China has 2,500,000 privates under arms and look it!

What more incongruous situation can be imagined than Japan bringing a peace and good will offering to the White House as her army besieges impotent old Peiping?

Right off the bat France accepts any proposal in principle and with the same alacrity eases out of the finished picture.

There is some cheer in the thought that Maj. La Guardia might be rampaging about Washington instead of New York.

JUST FOLKS

By EDGAR A. GUEST.

GO AHEAD!

Be sure you're right, then go ahead!
Some sage old graybeard spoke that phrase,
And countless times has it been said;
But heeding it, who idle stays,
Letting the busy hours take flight,
No progress in the world will make.
So anxious is he to be right
The forward step he fears to take.

Be sure you're right! Could that we be,
Then courage were a needless trait.
If past tomorrow we could see
And to the goal the path were straight;
If clearly marked were right and wrong,
'Twere simple then to march ahead;
But men must doubt and still be strong
And risk the blundering they dread.

Who waits until he's sure he's right
But very little will achieve.
A man has not the power of sight
Always the outcome to perceive.
When dark and troublous times occur,
Beset with dismal doubt and dread,
He must be strong enough to err
And brave enough to go ahead.

By ROBERT QUILLEN

YOU doubtless have read of the havoc wrought by man's violation of nature's laws.

Nature's plan is one of checks and balances. Every creature that preys upon others is in turn preyed upon, lest it multiply too fast and claim the earth.

This balancing of one against another is so exact and so nicely adjusted that it can not be disturbed in any degree without inviting disaster.

This grim truth has been brought home to the people of America by their experience with plant pests.

A certain moth, comparatively harmless in its native land, was brought to America by a scientist who wished to study it. Liberated by accident and free of its natural enemies, it became the worst of pests. Efforts to control it have cost the people millions of dollars and the damage it has done is beyond computation.

Some years ago a lover of birds imported nine pairs of starlings from England. Nobody seems to know why a bird that is inoffensive in one land should be a pest in another, but in America the starling has multiplied until flocks of many thousands drive song birds from invaded communities and make such clamor at night that people can not sleep.

In one of the West Indies, where rats had become a pest, the mongoose was imported from India to devour them. It did. But when the rats were gone, it began to devour all other small creatures. The birds and lizards were destroyed. And then numerous kinds of insects, formerly held in check by natural enemies, became a pest and a scourge.

In some parts of America the seed business is ruined because the insects that once pollenized the crops were destroyed by spraying and the burning of grass and weeds.

The evidence is almost unlimited. You can't interfere with nature's scheme of things without paying a penalty.

For reasons easy to comprehend, nature requires permanent mating of creatures whose young need the care of both parents. And if custom approved by the ages means anything, permanent mating is her plan for mortals.

The opposite plan is common now, but it still flourishes best where moral restraint is least or where wealth and power have taught disregard for law and custom.

The sad part of it is that the penalty isn't limited to the guilty. The man who brought in the moths doesn't own the orchards they destroy.

POLITICAL COMMENT

A Plea and a Warning.

Cincinnati Enquirer.

The President's circular telegram to the heads of those states participating in the disarmament conference is a spectacular piece of diplomacy. Casting aside historic precedent in foreign affairs, as he has done so extensively in other matters, Mr. Roosevelt addressed directly the presidents and sovereigns of foreign nations, instead of dealing through the ministers of foreign affairs. His language likewise has a quality of directness unusual in diplomatic correspondence.

The President's telegram is important because it comes at a very critical juncture in world affairs. Europe is in fact standing on the brink of new disaster. No overt act, no specific change, can be cited which explains the present condition. But distrust is widespread, popular antagonisms are running high and friction between governments has reached a dangerous point. Some powerful and disinterested force making for agreement must be brought to bear soon or the present efforts in that direction will break down entirely.

Comparatively Speaking.

Buffalo Courier Journal.

Having almost emerged from prohibition, the job of getting out of the depression ought to seem merely a trifle.

Especially Deuces Wild.

Boston Globe.

It is all very well for President Roosevelt to talk in baseball terms, but he needs to be studying up on his poker in preparation for that conference with Europe.

Boosting Ingratitude.

Minneapolis Journal.

It can not be denied that we have helped the foreigner "bite the hand that fed him." Over $1,000,000 worth of false teeth were exported from this country last year.

Democracy and the Boss.

Minneapolis Journal.

In emergencies men turn instinctively to authoritative leadership. Democracy does not yield its ultimate authority, when it turns for action to the boss on the job.

In a crisis that demands quick, decisive procedure, there is no infringement on the principles of democracy when authoritative leadership comes forward. When the people with earnestness and loyalty delegate authority, the action becomes not a menace to democracy, but evidence of its ability to function.

The American people have a better chance to see economic order reestablished, with revival of business, promotion of opportunity and accompanying happiness, because President Roosevelt is being clothed with broad powers. The board of directors has not been discarded—but the boss will run the business.

A Democrat Who Declined.

Kansas City Star.

While the new administration is being besieged by job hunters, the Associated Press reports from Washington, it has found one Democrat at least who does not want a political appointment. That man is Clark Howell, editor of the Atlanta Constitution. Besides being one of the most distinguished editors in the South, Mr. Howell long has been an important figure in the Democratic party, having served both as president of the State Senate in Georgia and as a member of the Democratic national committee for more than 30 years. Naturally, with a Democratic administration in Washington, Mr. Howell was in line for one of those honorable diplomatic appointments which usually are given to suitable members for their services to the party in power.

THE ONCE OVER

By H. I. PHILLIPS

GOVERNMENT OPERATION—AND HOW!

Uncle Sam, tired of being only a back-seat driver, will now change places with the business man and try to show him what good driving really is. Through the new "recovery bill" President Roosevelt has power to direct an employer in every action from the purchase of a new factory to the number of times he may invite his stenographer to dinner.

• • • •

The latest hand dealt in the new deal gives the Government a grand slam over business.

• • • •

President Roosevelt becomes a combination of Judge Landis, J. P. Morgan, Will Hays, the late Samuel Gompers, Mussolini, Joe Cook, Mustapha Kemal and Houdini.

• • • •

He can tell the corner delicatessen dealer what he can get for egg salad, control the haberdasher's price of polka-dot ties and punish the lunch room proprietor who cuts the number of strawberries in strawberry shortcake.

• • • •

If the doughnut shop is producing too many doughnuts for the good of the doughnut industry, he can order it to slow up production or convert part of the factory into a pretzel plant.

• • • •

If any workers in any trade are having trouble with the boss they can come down to the White House and have everything ironed out.

• • • •

If the employers can't get along with the help, they can shoot over to Washington and have everything taken off their hands, and a White House lunch thrown in.

• • • •

Uncle Sam is going to be business manager of Deflated America, and is out to tell the heads of industry just what they may do, even to the matter of how many cigarettes a day they dare smoke.

• • • •

Heretofore everything has been fair in love and business conferences, but the Democrats have slapped more rules and regulations on business than Hitler has slapped on non-Gentiles.

• • • •

The bill limits the control to two years, but this is sheer nonsense. It will take that long to hear both sides of the first argument between the plumbers' helpers and the office manager.

• • • •

A fund of $3,300,000,000 is to be provided for public works under the recovery bill, and in order to see that a little work goes a long way, the administration will fix the matter of hours, wages, competition, distribution and what have you.

• • • •

The curious thing about the whole business is that the big business interests seem to approve the idea of wizard control.

• • • •

They have been in so deep a hole that they are in no mood to quibble over who gives the orders while the ladder is being lowered.

• • • •

It is the experiment of the ages. And if Uncle Sam gets away with it, all those folks in Russia and Germany who thought it couldn't be done without destroying everything first as they did, will wonder what they were smoking.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Alexandria Sets an Example to Washington in Maintaining Summer Camp for Children.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: Alexandria, Va., is to be congratulated that there is in its midst the Kiwanis Club, whose members show such fine public spirit and the desire to be of service, and who are giving of themselves and their money to start a camp for the children in their vicinity who would not otherwise have a real holiday.

It should be a mortification to us of Washington that with the many wealthy people here there has been no concerted effort to maintain the camp already equipped and ready for the reception of the 600 mothers and children who for many years have had their greatest, and, often, their only joy in the two weeks at Camp Good Will.

Not only does it mean a building up of the campers physically, but the regular life, the instruction in healthy sports and the lessons in self-discipline all combine toward the making of good American citizens.

Why do not the various men' clubs combine to continue this valuable work?

Mrs. Roosevelt Guest At Brilliant Ball In New York.

MRS. ROOSEVELT last night attended the May Ball held at the Seventh Regiment Army in New York for the benefit of the rest rooms which she opened last winter. Before the ball, Mrs. Roosevelt attended a dinner given by Mrs. William Randolph Hearst, chairman of the benefit. Eighteen cadet captains of the United States Military Academy at West Point acted as honorary members of the regimental guard for Mrs. Roosevelt.

It is the first time in the history of the academy that the cadet officers have left the post for any social event and the first time that they have attended in a body any similar function away from the academy.

From the opening of the doors of the armory at 8:40 until the arrival of Mrs. Roosevelt at 10:45, the guests were entertained by a concert by the Army and Navy Bands. Mrs. Roosevelt's appearance was heralded by the "Star-Spangled Banner" and after she was seated the regiment staged the impressive guard mount ceremony.

Dancing started at 11 o'clock with the Central Park Casino Orchestra playing. The entertainment program was offered by stars of the radio, stage, screen and opera.

The President and Mrs. Roosevelt have accepted a box for the Davis Cup Tie match, which will be played between the United States and Argentine teams on Thursday, Friday and Saturday at the Chevy Chase Club.

Others who will occupy boxes are the Ambassador of Argentina, Senor Felipe Espil, and the Ambassador of France and Mme. de Laboulaye. Representatives from the embassies and legations of Brazil, Chile, Uruguay, Paraguay, Cuba, Mexico and Canada have accepted seats in boxes which have been set aside for representatives of nations which have taken part in Davis Cup matches in North and South America.

The list of boxholders includes Mrs. Keith Merrill, Mrs. Newbold Noyes, Mrs. Mark Brook, Mrs. Clarence Norment, Mrs. Vernon Prentice, Mrs. Frederic A. Keap, and Mrs. George Hewitt Myer.

Secretary of State Hull To Entertain Delegates.

The Secretary of State, Mr. Cordell Hull, will entertain at luncheon on Thursday in honor of the Brazilian and Japanese delegates to the President's conferences.

The Minister of Uruguay has been joined in his apartment at Wardman Park Hotel by Mme. Varela and his two young daughters, who have been spending several months at their home in Uruguay.

The Minister of Austria and Mme. Prochnik will entertain at luncheon on Tuesday, May 30, in honor of the retiring Minister of Bulgaria and Mme. Radeff.

The Minister of Switzerland and Mme. Peter entertained at a farewell dinner last evening for the retiring Minister of Bulgaria and Mme. Radeff. The ranking guests were the Ambassador of Brazil and Mme. de Lima e Silva and the Ambassador of Spain and Senora de Cardenas.

The Secretary of Agriculture and Mrs. Henry A. Wallace will have as their guests for some time at Wardman Park Hotel, the former's sister, Miss Ruth Wallace, who arrived in Washington yesterday.

Mrs. Breckinridge Long, wife of the Ambassador to Italy, entertained at a buffet luncheon yesterday at her country home, Montpelier, near Laurel, Md., for the members of the Monday Duplicate Club.

The Minister of the United States to Canada and Mrs. Warren Delano Robbins will be the guests of honor at a luncheon to be given today at the Willard by the Women's National Press Club.

Senator Patrick McCarron, of Nevada, has moved to Wardman Park Hotel.

Mrs. Carey, wife of Senator Robert D. Carey, with their daughter, Miss Sarah Carey, has left for Boston to visit friends for a short while before proceeding to their home in Careyhurst, Wyo., for the summer.

Chief Justice and Mrs. Wheat To Summer in Italy.

Chief Justice and Mrs. Alfred A. Wheat will sail, on July 8 on the Conte di Savoia for Italy, where they will spend a month in Rome and Paris, sailing for this country on August 12.

Mrs. A. Mitchell Palmer entertained at luncheon yesterday at the Sulgrave Club in honor of Mrs. Thomas R. Marshall, widow of the former Vice President. The other guests were Mrs. Claude A. Swanson, Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, Mrs. Alexander Weddell, Mrs. Andrew Long, Mrs. John Allan Dougherty, Mrs. B. B. Jones, Mrs. T. T. Ansberry, Mrs. Joseph E. Davies, and Mrs. Leslie Garnett.

Miss Mignon Sherley has gone to New York, where she will be for about a week.

Mr. and Mrs. Madison Boyd Jones, of Los Angeles, are guests at the Mayflower while the former is here attending sessions of the Northern Baptist Convention, of which he is junior past president. Mrs. Jones is a sister of Mrs. William E. Evans, wife of Representative Evans, of California, who returned home about two weeks ago after spending the winter in Washington. They will remain in the city until next Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. I. Denning are at White Sulphur Springs, W. Va.

Judge and Mrs. John Rutherford, who have been guests at the Mayflower for the past few months, will leave Washington today for a two weeks' stay at their home, Green Plains, in Matthews County, Va., and will then go to New Rochelle, N. Y., for the late spring.

Mr. Holly Stover is at White Sulphur Springs, W. Va.

Mrs. Charles B. Howry has as her guest her niece, Mrs. Caldwell Haynes, of Jacksonville, Fla.

Col. and Mrs. Thorpe Staying At Chevy Chase Club.

Col. and Mrs. George C. Thorpe are at the Chevy Chase Club for the remainder of May and the first part of June. Mrs. Thorpe recently returned from Europe, where she has been for several months with her daughter, Miss Jane Thorpe, who is studying music in Paris. Miss Thorpe is remaining in France and will spend the summer near Biarritz, later going to England to visit her brother-in-law and sister, the Commercial Counselor of the British Embassy in Chile and Mrs. Arthur Pack, who will take a house near Ascot for the late summer.

Mr. Pack is on leave of absence and, with Mrs. Pack, spent a brief time in Washington last week before sailing for England. Mrs. Pack will be presented at court on June 23.

Miss Susan L. Crooks, accompanied by Miss Frances Roberts, Miss Margaret Roberts and Miss Elizabeth Lawrence, of Richmond, was at the Dodge.

Mrs. Newton K. Fox, of Kew Gardens, Long Island, is the guest of Col. and Mrs. Joseph Reddy at their home in Chevy Chase. Mrs. Fox has been visiting her family in Baltimore for several days before coming to the Capital, and will return to New York the end of the week. Mrs. Nelson Hartson will entertain at luncheon today for Mrs. Fox.

Dr. and Mrs. Louis Marks, of New York, are at the Mayflower.

Mrs. Joseph Mullally, of Pittsburgh, is spending the week with her mother, Mrs. Edward S. Munford, at the Kennedy-Warren. Mr. Mullally will join them here on Friday to spend the week-end. Mrs. Mullally was formerly miss Norvell Munford.

Mrs. Raleigh Gilchrist will entertain at tea on Sunday in honor of the officers and members of the Art and Archaeology League of Washington at her home at 4939 Thirteenth street.

Mrs. Frank H. Simonds has returned from New York where she went to meet Baroness Irina von der Pahlen, of Potsdam, Germany, who arrived on the Bremen to spend the summer with Mr. and Mrs. Simonds.

Miss Ruth Miller Green, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lincoln Green, has left Washington to visit in Boston and Philadelphia.

Miss Bertha Rogers left Washington on Saturday for her home in Beverly, Mass.

Maj. and Mrs. Albert Fletcher will close their apartment at 2400 Sixteenth street tomorrow and will go to the North Shore to spend the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Graves Mather have closed their apartment at the Mayflower and gone to Gibson Island, Md., for the summer

---

Mrs. M. de Clare Berry, who returned recently from a week's visit to North Carolina, spent the week-end in Philadelphia, where she attended the reception and tea given at the Barclay for the Descendants of Knights of the Garter, Colonial Dames of the Order of the Crown and the Society of Americans of Royal Descent.

Mrs. Robert Kennon Smith, of Washington and Paris, will arrive in Washington tomorrow from Europe to be the guest of Mrs. Denwood S. White for two weeks at her home, 1661 Crescent place. Mrs. Smith now makes her home in Paris and will sail on June 7 to return to France.

Miss Margaret Boss to Marry At St. Margaret's, June 10.

Miss Margaret Boss, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry K. Boss, has selected June 10 as the date of her wedding to Mr. Arthur Yates Taylor, son of Mrs. Taylor and the late Gen. Harry Taylor, chief of engineers of the United States Army. The ceremony will be performed at noon in St. Margaret's Church, when only members of the immediate families will be present. Miss Boss will dispense with attendants and Mr. Francis Jameson will act as best man for Mr. Taylor.

Mrs. Pinchot Speaker At Democratic Club.

Mrs. Gifford Pinchot spoke on "Sweat Shops and Baby Strikers in Pennsylvania" at luncheon at the Woman's National Democratic Club, yesterday. Mrs. Pinchot was introduced by Mrs. Charles S. Radio Dial Flashes

By ROBERT D. HEINL

Ed Wynn insists that the opening of his new network, the Amalgamated, will take place as per schedule next month.

"The parent network which embraces the inclusive territory from New York to Washington, is being tested nightly with perfect results," the comedian said yesterday. "On the network are Stations WMET, in New York; WTNJ, Trenton; WPEN, Philadelphia; WDEL, Wilmington; WBCM, Baltimore, and WOL, Washington. Engineers who have attended the proving-up tests are frankly amazed at the acoustical perfection attained by the innovation of employing Western Union circuits with our privately owned booster equipment.

"More than 50 features daily are to go on the air with Amalgamated. Hundreds of artists are rehearsing daily in special studios. Their initial offerings will range from individual presentations to full-length musical shows. In the latter, one of which it is announced will be two and one-half hours in length, the Ed Wynn "Theatre of the Air" will reach fulfillment.

"This will be a light opera production, one of the historical hits of the contemporary stage, and it is to be presented with a cast of 45 with symphony orchestra. Between its many scenes the radio audience will be taken backstage, into the dressing rooms of the stars and again into the theater lobby, the intermissions thus being invested with the atmosphere of a Broadway first night.

"The next step in the plans is the completion of its privately operated circuit between Baltimore and Pittsburgh, when Station WWSW, in Pittsburgh, is to serve as the link between the so-called Atlantic Seaboard network of Amalgamated and its Michigan network. This comprises stations WXYZ, in Detroit, the twin unit WOOD-WASH in Grand Rapids, WELL in Battle Creek, WKZO in Kalamazoo, WIBM in Jackson and WFDF in Flint. These stations now are operating as a subsidiary unit of Amalgamated.

There is a decided difference of opinion with regard to Ed Wynn's new chain. There are those who believe he will put it over and become a factor in the broadcasting field to be reckoned with. Others contend that he will not.

"I'll predict Wynn will lose everything he has, including shirt, pants and pocketbook in this new network of his," one of the latter declared, "and the network will fold up or some one with funds and plenty will take it over."

SECRETARY of the Navy Swanson will explain the government's new policy in regard to naval affairs when he speaks in the National Radio Forum over WRC at 9:30 p. m.

Instead of fewer legislative investigations Senator Gerald P. Nye, of North Dakota, will advocate more when he speaks tonight over WMAL at 6:15.

"As a result of the Continental Trading Company investigation the United States received in taxes $7,027,000.09 against a cost of $30,000," Senator Nye said. "Consider with this the millions of dollars that were recovered by the government as a result of the Naval Oil Lease investigation, and there must be agreement that these two investigations have been sufficiently profitable to pay for all the investigations conducted by the houses of Congress during our lifetime as a nation."

A JUBILEE program on the occasion of the dedication of the new studios of Station WRVA in Richmond, Va., will be heard over WRC at 11 o'clock tonight.

Federal Radio Commissioner Thad H. Brown and Senator Harry F. Byrd, of Virginia, will voice congratulatory messages. The Richmond Blues Band will provide the musical portion of the program. Gov. John G. Pollard and other distinguished citizens of Richmond and the State will be guests at the gala opening during the evening preceding the broadcast.

In beginning operations from its new studios, Station WRVA, at which the Corn Cob Pipe Club programs originate each Wednesday evening, has installed the most modern radio equipment in quarters located in the Hotel Richmond.

"Woman's Health at Middle Age" will be discussed by Dr. Maurice O. Magid, president-elect of the Bronx County Medical Society (WJSV, 10:45 a. m.).

Crosby has been handed a new contract by Paramount. The agreement calls for two more pictures this year, and three next year, for which Bing will receive $275,000 according to his p. a. First of the two pictures to be made this year will be "Every Man For Himself," another comedy musical, with Jack Oakie, Skeets Gallagher and Harry Green in the cast. The next will be "Cloudy With Showers," with Crosby, Jack Oakie and Burns and Allen.

The YMCA Chorus of Chicago, an organization of 20 male voices under the direction of Jacques Homier, will present a special concert over WMAL at 8:35 p. m.

NANCY GARNER, cousin of Vice President Jack Garner, who was greeted by about half the State of Texas at the Earle last night, is a radio star. She appears regularly over Station WOR, Newark, and is another of "Hollywood" McCosker's radio "finds."

The program of "Radio Joe" tonight, which will be the 249th consecutive weekly step out, will be dedicated to the women mighty in position, who stand over the stove from week to week, and prepare the meals.

"In other words, we are going to have a 'Cooks' Nite' and I hope to bring out the names of fifteen or twenty of the greatest cooks that have ever tickled my palate," Radio Joe explains, "and tell something about them and the best things they cook, thereby putting myself in position to get food from them the balance of my life.

"Maybe one or two of the cooks will be present and have a word to say about how the old dough is mixed, and the gravy stirred."

For the first time since its invention, the electronic piano will be used as the solo instrument in a concerto, when Anton Rovinsky plays the first movement of the Schumann Concerto in A minor with Barlow's Solon Orchestra, during its program tonight at 9:45 o'clock.

"Three to One Shot," a drama of the Belmont track and a race with a man's life as a handicap, will have its opening tonight in Crime Clues program over WMAL at 7 p. m.

What Today Means to You

"GEMINI."

IF May 23 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 6:30 a. m. to 8 a. m., from 2 p. m. to 3:15 p. m. and from 9 p. m. to 10 p. m. The danger periods are from 9:15 a. m. to 10:40 a. m. and from 5:40 p. m. to 6:40 p. m.

The child born on this May 23 is quite likely to be self-conscious; the girls especially will like to dramatize themselves. These children will show some dramatic talent, but few of them will take to the stage as a career. Inclined to be aggressive in their approach to people.

If May 23 is the date of your birth, you are quite likely a person who will go along through life quite unnoticed, though accomplishing a great deal of good along the way. You should establish yourself comfortably in the field of education or in the ministry or as a physician. Numerous other fields of endeavor would seem to open to you if you cared to pursue them. Whatever your line of work, your heart will lie primarily in building about you a real home, and secondarily in helping to build and support your community.

Successful people born on May 23: Douglas Fairbanks, actor.

A New Yorker at Large

By MARK BARRON.

NEW YORK—That old bugaboo, the budget, is up again.

In other words, New York, as what city isn't, is having money troubles. The latter part of June will find this metropolis in need of $114,000,000, which is considerable potatoes in any language. That's when the bills fall due.

The bankers are demanding economy before they advance any more money, and Mayor O'Brien is promising economy. What with the budget needs and the forthcoming election of a new mayor this fall, all of the town's politics is in a tangle.

Tammany wants O'Brien again for mayor. McKee, the hope of the fusionist groups, has definitely withdrawn from the picture. Al Smith says he is out, too, although there was a strong movement growing to draft him as a candidate. La Guardia probably will be entered in the race by a combination of Republicans and independents.

No "Picnic" for Tammany.

Whatever the entries, the mayoralty race will be a free-for-all and Tammany will have no picnic. Tammany, undoubtedly, will win, just as Tammany nearly always does.

But, back to the financial problem, New York City must have money. Looking at that item of $316,000,000 in uncollected taxes, there doesn't seem to be much chance there.

New revenue must come from somewhere else. Comptroller Berry suggested that a 3-cent tax be placed on every 5-cent subway fare. Tammany leaped on this proposal as quickly as a football squad diving for a fumble.

Keep That Nickel Fare!

That is one thing the wigwam dictators won't stand for. Whenever the Tiger has gotten into a tight spot it has always been able to muddle through by boasting that it has maintained the nickel subway fare.

That nickel fare is a complex with New Yorkers. I think you might boost their real estate, income and all other taxes to practically any figure without much of a protest.

The Meanderer

Secures Unusual Recipe for Spanish Dish From Favorite Restaurant; Discovers "Pantry Corner" in Big Store.

Telephone questions on The Meanderer's column to The Washington Post, National 4205. Extension 19; or address The Meanderer, The Washington Post, inclosing self-addressed, stamped envelope for reply.

Diners at a popular downtown restaurant have marveled at a Spanish dish often served there. For in this Spanish dish, known as "Paella Valenciana," there is a melange of fish, pork and chicken. It sounds unthinkable, but evident enjoyment of the dish by the diners, and the numerous requests for the recipe for "Paella Valenciana" prove its desirability on the menu. So the Meanderer secured permission to pass the recipe on to all those who ask for it, following directions at the head of the column.

This dish, combining fish, pork and chicken, which seems to be in violation of all cookery rules, is said to have originated with some Spanish boys who had to forage for food in a long march along the coast of the Mediterranean. Some of the boys found eels and molluska from the seashore; some found beans and tomatoes and rice from the fields, and others found chickens from backyards and pork from farm larders. The intrepid leader of the group even persuaded a farmer's wife to lend them a very large, shallow pan which they call a paella in Valencia, and to allow him onions, garlic and paprika to flavor their cooking.

With only one pot to cook in and not enough of the fish or enough of the meat for all, they decided to put all the supplies into the big paella at once. They put in everything to boil together except the fish. The fish finally went in to make enough bulk of food to serve everyone. To their surprise they had created a new dish, sensationally pleasing in taste.

The restaurateur who presides at the popular place where "Paella Valenciana" is served has given the Meanderer the receipe with explicit directions for making this extraordinary dish. Readers have only to send their self-addressed stamped envelope for a free copy of the rare recipe.

"The Pantry Corner" is the interesting food shop in one department store. Only pickles, jellies, jams and potted meats, or other prepared foods such as might be found on any pantry shelf, are on the shelves of this store's food corner. Four-pound jars of preserves sold there for 89 cents. The flavors of the preserves are raspberry, strawberry, damson and grape and there is also a similar sized jar of grape jelly at the same price. Jumbo olives stuffed with almonds and pimientos are in 11 ounce jars for 23 cents. A meat sandwich spread is 15 cents and a jar of more than three ounces of deviled ham sells for 25 cents. Minced chicken and butter spread is 25 cents; three-ounce jars of anchovies also are 25 cents.

Adding to a sterling set piece by piece costs only 85 cents for spoons, salad forks and smaller pieces, and $1.35 each for knives, forks, tablespoons and larger pieces, if the pattern is a certain sterling one chosen by an F street specialty shop. The pattern is the Gainsborough, the only pattern the store sells. It is known to be a true value in sterling.

Sugar and creamer sets in imported white metal ware that will not tarnish are only $1 in the specialty shop offering the silver value listed above. The sets are in a design that harmonizes well with the more decorative of the Steiff silver designs. Small flower or candy dishes in this metal in basket shapes sell for $1.

A small beverage cart for the porch, the terrace, or the garden, has a lower tray with racks for six glasses and beverage pitcher and a removable upper tray. This interesting implement for dealing summer hospitality is priced just $3.95. A folding table for much the same use is $4.50.

SOCIETY

A musicale and garden tea will be given tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock by Mrs. Edmond Kaufmann at her home, 4805 Colorado avenue. The artists to be heard on the musical program are Miss Gretchen Hood, soprano; Mr. Milton Schwartz, violinist, and Mr. Sol Sax, pianist. Mr. Sax and Mr. Schwartz are members of the National Symphony Orchestra. The program was arranged by Miss Esther Behrend, chairman of the Jewish Activities committee of the Women's committee of the National Symphony Orchestra.

Al Fresco Tea Planned By Democratic Club.

The annual spring party of the Woman's National Democratic Club to be held tomorrow at Highland, the estate of Admiral and Mrs. Cary T. Grayson, on Wisconsin avenue, will be not only a card party but an al fresco tea.

Card tables will be placed on the terraced lawn bordered by the iris and roses for which the Grayson garden is famous, and also under the great trees that were at Highland almost a hundred years ago when it was the Nourse estate, the home of the first treasurer of the United States.

The arrangements for the awarding of the prizes will be particularly interesting. Mrs. Roosevelt, the guest of honor, will arrive shortly before 5 o'clock and exactly at 5 will present the prizes to the fortunate players.

Mrs. Roosevelt and Mrs. Woodrow Wilson have taken tables for cards. Among others who have subscribed are Mrs. Virginia E. Jenckes, Mrs. Jesse H. Jones, Mrs. Edward P. Costigan, Mrs. Wilton J. Lambert, Mrs. J. Harry Covington, Mrs. Paul Bastedo, Mrs. Edward Keating, Mrs. Daniel C. Roper, Mrs. Samuel Herrick, Mrs. Tucker Brown, Mrs. Charles S. Hamlin, Mrs. Robert W. Wooley, Mrs. J. Frederick Essary, Mrs. Harry B. Hawes, Mrs. Bates Warren, Mrs. H. H. C. Bryant, Mrs. Frank S. Bright, Mrs. Thomas Armat, Mrs. Florence Livingston, Mrs. James G. Field, Mrs. Hugh Thompson, Mrs. Malcom McConihe and Mrs. Hugh T. Nelson.

WHAT'S GOOD TO EAT

OUTDOOR EATING SEASON IS INAUGURATED MAY 30

By ANN BARRETT

For instance, you can go in for all the good old picnic favorites such as potato salad, which screen star Bette Davis wouldn't miss on a bet. For cold chicken and sliced baked ham, that spell picnic in capital letters to sports writer Grantland Rice. For pickled beets and hard-cooked eggs, that take the spotlight for screen star Irene Dunne. For sandwiches and cakes. And plenty of good, hot coffee, if columnist Franklin P. Adams is about. But rivers of orange juice if authoress Ruth Comfort Mitchell is present.

Picnic Gadgets Fascinate.

Or you can hook yourself up to the special 1933 picnic gadgets and carry along more elaborate food. Say fricassee chicken or Hungarian goulash in a big thermos jug. Or road-made ice cream—frozen in a container on the running board while your balloon tires go glub-glub over the macadam. Or steak—carried in a portable ice box and cooked in the open over a portable grate.

You can have—no, I'm going to urge you to see for yourself, in your own stores, what you can have—besides paper plates, cups, napkins, picnic baskets and so on—to make the coming summer the best picnic season ever.

A-1 Potato Salad.

As for recipes, I'm going to give you some tips on making the kind of potato salad that'll lead friends and family to regard you in a new and flattering light.

The secret of this excellence is to start your salad hot and end it very cold. Like this: Mix 2 cups hot sliced (or cubed) potatoes with 1 tablespoon grated onion and 2-3 cup French dressing (½ teaspoon salt, 4 tablespoons vinegar, 6 tablespoons salad oil) and let this stand in the refrigerator till flavors are blended—at least 1 hour. Then mix in ½ cup mayonnaise or mustardy cooked dressing. Or use only ¼ cup dressing and finish up with thick cream, sweet or sour. Then—if you've got one of those little pepper grinders that no real salad fan would be caught without—sprinkle through that salad plenty of freshly ground pepper. What flavor!

Pickled Beets and Eggs.

Speaking of pepper, here's another old-time picnic favorite that owes a lot to its peppy seasoning—pickled beets and eggs.

This starts with 1 quart cooked sliced beets, ½ cup raw, sliced onions and 12 hard-cooked eggs. While these are getting acquainted with each other in a large earthen jar, put the following into a saucepan: 1 cup vinegar, 1 cup water, ½ cup sugar, 2 bay leaves, 6 whole cloves, 1 tablespoon mustard seed, 1 teaspoon whole black peppers, 1 teaspoon salt. Let this mixture boil 3 minutes, then pour it over the foods in the jar. Cover and let stand in a cool place a day or two. Simple, but swell.

Duck in a Pickle.

Duck can get into a pickle, too—and come out as angelic in flavor, you'd wish you'd known about it sooner or could live longer so as to eat more. It's the kind of dish that needs ice, however, to save it for your porch or back-yard picnics—unless you have a portable ice chest.

Here's how: Cut up a young duck (about 5 pounds) and put it in a kettle with 3 cups of water, 2 tablespoons sugar, 1½ cups vinegar, ½ tablespoon whole clove, ½ tablespoon whole black peppers, 2 bay leaves, 2 teaspoons salt, ⅛ teaspoon pepper. Cover and simmer slowly till very tender. Then take meat from bones and pack it into a mold or loaf pan in alternate layers with 1 cup thinly sliced raw onion. Strain the liquid left in kettle and pour it over duck. Chill thoroughly and skim off grease. The gelatin in the duck will make the meat hold together in fine shape so you can turn it out on a platter. Then garnish it with mayonnaise in curly cups of lettuce.

Frosted Spice Squares.

For a happy ending to any picnic, spice squares, made like this, are a big number: First, cream ¾ cup butter with 2 cups brown sugar. Add 4 eggs, beaten well. Mix and sift 2½ cups sifted pastry flour, 3 teaspoons baking powder, ¼ teaspoon salt, 1½ teaspoons ginger, 1¼ teaspoons cinnamon, 1 teaspoon clove, ½ teaspoon nutmeg. Add to first mixture, alternately with 1 cup milk. Pour into a shallow, greased pan (about 12 by 8) and bake in moderate oven (350) 30 minutes. Mark into squares while warm, turn out, cool, then frost with following: Two tablespoons lemon juice, 1 teaspoon melted butter and enough confectioner's sugar to spread. Makes about 20 squares.

Send for More Recipes.

Beyond these recipes, I have a whole new bulletin of dishes for picnics. Eight different harmonies worked out on the main theme of potato salad. A veal loaf that slices slick and tastes like chicken. Sandwiches. And more salads. Outdoor punch—(you drink it!) Picnic cup cakes. And hints about packing and carrying foods. Yours with best wishes, if you send me a self-addressed envelope, 6 cents in loose stamps and the coupon below.

Culbertson on Bridge

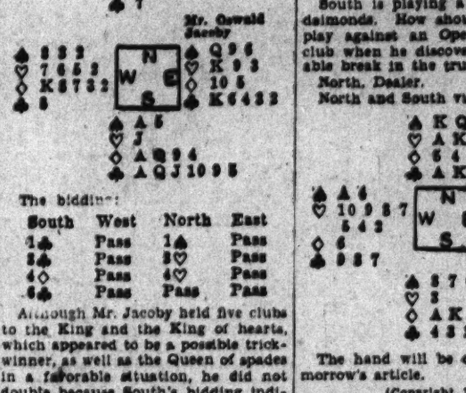
A RESOURCEFUL DEFENSE.

MR. OSWALD JACOBY has gained most of his Bridge-playing reputation, which is a very fine one, from his unusually brilliant bidding. The fact that he plays so many hands himself has, in the minds of many, minimized his skill as a defensive player. But a few days ago, playing at Crockford's Club, New York, he had a opportunity for a most brilliant defense, which defeated a Slam contract. That defense involved giving the Declarer a free finesse in a suit. This was designed to remove the West entry that would make the Slam possible.

South, Dealer.
Neither side vulnerable.
Part-score: North and South 60.



The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1♠	Pass	1♠	Pass
3♠	Pass	3♡	Pass
4◇	Pass	4♡	Pass
6♠	Pass	Pass	Pass

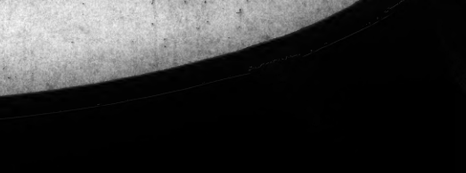
Although Mr. Jacoby held five clubs to the King and the King of hearts, which appeared to be a possible trick-winner, as well as the Queen of spades in a favorable situation, he did not double because South's bidding indicated a very freakish hand.

West's Opening lead was the spade 8, from Dummy the Ten was played, Mr. Jacoby played the 6, and the Declarer played the 5. The club finesse was taken and the Ace of clubs led, West showing out. At this point Mr. Jacoby got a very accurate count on the hand and marked the Declarer with six clubs, four diamonds, two spades and one heart. Obviously, he had the Ace of spades remaining as he had already played one card in that suit. He had shown six clubs and he must have four diamonds to bid them. The Declarer now led the Ace of spades and then another club, which Mr. Jacoby refused to win. When the Declarer followed with the fourth round of clubs, however, the trick was taken, and East realized that the only way to set the hand was to kill the Declarer's entry into the Dummy for the three spades by leading a heart away from the King up to the Ace-Queen. This play, which was made without hesitation, is one of the most unusual defensive plays in Bridge, requiring, as it did, a lead up to an Ace-Queen-Ten holding from King and two small at the right. The leader also knew that the Declarer held but a single card of the suit and hence that the play must present him with at least one free discard. However, it did effectually shut out the established spade suit, leave South with a diamond loser and prevent the making of the Slam.

TOMORROW'S HAND.

South is playing a contract of six diamonds. How should he plan the play against an Opening lead of a club when he discovers the unfavorable break in the trump suit?

North, Dealer.
North and South vulnerable.



The hand will be discussed in tomorrow's article.

Stocks Continue Reaction In Quiet, Narrow Dealing

One-Tenth Loss Recorded as Sales Decline to 2,227,660 Shares.

New York, May 22 (A.P.).—Stocks jogged along today in the quietest trading since April 26. Most of the time the market's direction was downward, thus continuing reactionary tendencies of late last week, but toward closing time quotations firmed and final prices were narrowly irregular.

Wall street of course noted the House Ways and Means Committee's vote for higher income taxes, as well as the constructive appearance of "peace" developments in Europe. However, traders seemed chiefly concerned with looking for signs of the market's next move and with "bulls" unwilling to commit themselves extensively, doubtless because there has been no important decline in more than a month, the day's performance was rather inconclusive.

Oils were comforted a bit by word of firmer prices for Pennsylvania crude as well as expectations of Federal control of output, but their early advance was hardly sensational and in some cases it was more than lost. American Telephone and Allied Chemical had extreme losses of around 2 points; the former more than recovered its dip while telephone's net decline was a minor fraction. A higher steel operating ratio helped keep representatives of that industry steady; U. S. Steel preferred was up nearly 2 net. American Can, General Motors, Case, Harvester, Chrysler, Westinghouse and Bethlehem finished unchanged to a shade higher. Rails were dull with net changes small. Dome and Homestake, two gold mining issues, rose more than 2. Continental Can, Celanese, National Distillers, Nash, Barnsdall and National Biscuit firmed, while Western Union, Consolidated Gas, McKeesport, Coca Cola, Borden and National Dairy eased. Sales came to 2,227,660 shares.

Reports that the Federal Reserve System had begun the program of Government security purchase provided by the Thomas amendment to the farm relief-inflation bill brought no comment from the local bank which usually takes the initiative in open market operations. However, Government bonds were up slightly. The system's last buying activities in these securities were suspended in the summer of 1932 following purchase of more than $1,000,000,000 in Federals over a period of several months; that portfolio has since been maintained at approximately $1,850,000,000; it could be expanded by three billions under the recent act of Congress.

Wall street now is engaged in wondering to what extent industry will recede this summer from the relatively advanced position many lines have now occupied. Some observers are pointing out that interruptions to the climb are to be expected but that they would be of comparatively small importance provided the basic trend of business has finally turned upward.

U.S. BONDS MOVE UP ON LOSING MARKET

New York, May 22 (A.P.).—Bond prices mulled about in a relatively narrow range today and were a trifle lower at the finish of a rather dull session.

Most United States Government securities moved up fractionally following reports that the Federal Reserve system had begun purchasing. Officials of the New York Federal Reserve Bank declined to comment on the reports. Activity in both the Liberty and Treasury loans continued somewhat restricted.

Sales totaled $12,070,000, par value, and the average for 60 domestic corporate bonds sagged one-tenth of a point.

Most of the recent secondary rail favorites suffered losses of around a point.

European obligations generally improved following acceptance of the Mussolini four-power peace plan. The Germans rallied 1 to 2 or more points. Austrian 7s were up 3½ and Bavarian State 6½s gained 4. The Argentines, French, Colombians and Italians improved. British 5½s eased.

Copper Fabricating Keeping Pace With Steel in Revival

New York, May 22 (A.P.).—With operations now running at the highest rate in two years, the copper fabricating industry is apparently enjoying a revival comparable to steel. Estimates from usually reliable sources place the operating schedule of the copper manufacturing industry as a whole at 40 per cent of capacity, as compared with 20 to 25 per cent during the meager days.

The red metal is now being consumed at the rate of approximately 25,000 tons a month, while production, under curtailment, is running around 15,000 tons monthly, authorities state.

Foreign users of copper continue to draw steadily on American stocks. The foreign market does not have the huge surplus of metal that has accumulated here. Stocks in the United States now total around 1,300,000,000 pounds, it is estimated, or about three-fourths of the world's storage holdings.

In conservative quarters satisfaction is expressed with the recovery scored by copper from 5 cents to around 7 cents a pound, and, if the market is protected from artificial restraint, it is believed that the price will hold.

Based on normal consumption, the world present surplus supply of copper is equal to approximately six months' world demand, officials explain.

CURB RALLIES TRIM EARLY TRADING LOSS

New York, May 22 (A.P.).—The curb market quietly backed and filled today and closed somewhat irregularly. Considerable uncertainty among traders was indicated in the sudden reversal of trends. Prices were steady at the opening and turned upward for a time under buying in oils, but soon drifted off. A late upturn, however, was sufficient to cancel the major losses.

In the petroleum group, gains of major fractions to more than a point were made by such issues as Standard of Indiana, Humble and Standard of Ohio.

Most of the active utility shares closed steady to fractionally improved. Transactions approximated 332,000 shares against 421,000 last Friday.

WHEAT VALUES SINK ON STOP-LOSS SALES

Chicago, May 22 (A.P.).—Stop-loss selling tumbled wheat down today to a maximum of 8 cents a bushel below recent top figures.

Many small speculators who had made eleventh-hour purchases when the wheat market was going upgrade were pressing to unload today, and found that the aggressive buying, which was so much in evidence a short while ago, had disappeared. Favorable crop reports from domestic spring wheat territory had a bearish effect, and there was nervousness relative to uncertainties about administrative procedure under the new farm emergency act.

Wheat closed unstable, 1¾ to 2¼ under Saturday's finish; corn, unchanged to ¾ higher; oats, ½ to ⅝ down, and provisions unchanged to 15 cents off.

Lowest Since April 29.

Lowest prices since April 29 were reached by wheat, and the market closed at almost the day's bottom level. From the outset, sellers of wheat were in a majority, except for brief intervals, when buying power improved temporarily as a result of soaking rains in parts of the corn belt. In the late dealings, however, the corn market lost independence, and was largely dominated by wheat.

Notable skepticism by traders was shown regarding Washington reports that the wheat administrator under the new farm emergency act was formulating plans to draw on the Federal Treasury for funds to put wheat on a 93-cent basis, without waiting for levy of a processing tax.

Position of Bears.

Bears contended that it was very doubtful any appointee would embark upon a course not entirely in accord with the complete administration program. Weakness of securities added to unsettlement of wheat, and so, too, did the fact that a decrease of the United States wheat visible supply total today was smaller than expected.

An increase of 1,433,000 bushels in the corn visible supply acted as an offset to planting delays. The increase apparently made certain that the corn visible supply for May would show a gain, the first time this has occurred since 1895. Oats went lower with wheat.

Provisions averaged lower, responsive to downturns of hog values.

	Mon.	Sat.
Advances	231	116
Declines	381	485
Unchanged	188	129
Total issues	800	730

Stocks.

Trading jogged along in narrow channels and continued recent reactions. The average loss was one-tenth of a point. Sales decreased to 2,227,660 shares.

Bonds.

United States loans moved higher as the general market declined one-tenth of a point. Sales volume totaled $12,070,000.

Curb.

The market backed and filled and closed irregularly. A late rally trimmed major losses. The turnover approximated 332,000 shares.

Wheat.

Stop-loss selling tumbled wheat, the losses making a maximum to 8 cents below recent top figures. Small speculators rushed to unload. Corn was mixed; oats, down. May wheat sold at 66⅝ to 66¾ cents.

Cotton.

Prices advanced again after fluctuating. Trade buying started the upturn. Gains ranged from 8 to 12 points. July sold at 8.31. Liverpool reported speculative buying.

FOREIGN MARKETS.

(Associated Press.)

London—Influenced by more favorable international outlook, trading on the stock exchange was generally cheerful. German bonds advanced steadily and gilt-edged securities, industrials and rubber shares were also supported. Argentine rails rose ½ to 1½ points, but profit taking weakened oil shares and transatlantic issues. The close was steady.

Paris—Political uncertainties caused a slackening in trading on the bourse, but prices were generally sustained. Oil shares and international issues improved but French stocks sagged owing to the weakness in rentes. The market closed firm.

Berlin—Quotations on the bourse were firm and the market closed strong.

U. S. TREASURY RECEIPTS.

(Associated Press.)

Treasury receipts for May 19 were $8,631,665.66; expenditures, $14,142,914.93; balance, $394,975,914.50. Customs duties for nineteen days of May were $13,556,080.97.

COTTON PRICES RISE ON TRADE'S BUYING

July Closes at 8.31 With General Market Up 8 to 12 Points.

New York, May 22 (A.P.).—Conflicting influences were reflected by irregular fluctuations in cotton today. After selling off from 8.35 to 8.11 for July contracts, or about 11 points lower, the market rallied on a renewal of trade buying and covering. July closed at 8.31 with the general market closing firm at net advances of 8 to 12 points.

Initial prices were 4 to 11 points higher in response to relatively firm Liverpool cables and over-Sunday reports of improving general business conditions.

Active Months Higher.

Active months sold from 11 to 14 points net higher during the early trading but the bulge met liquidation and scattered selling which forced the market to levels about 11 to 15 points net lower.

The decline was then checked by a renewal of trade buying. Closing quotations were within 3 or 4 points of the best for the day on most positions.

The revised figures on last year's acreage and yield per acre showing a reduction in the former and a substantial increase in the latter as compared with the previous estimates, were about in line with expectations based on the recent general revision of acreage and yield figures for previous years back to 1866.

Weather News Favorable.

Doubts were expressed as to their adequacy. The weather news as a whole evidently made a favorable impression on sentiment.

Some buying on the midday decline was accompanied by talk of an improved technical position. Liverpool cables said the futures market there was steady and reported some speculative buying in anticipation of favorable Geneva news, but said traders generally were inclined to await developments.

Exports today, 17,681, making 7,012,749 so far this season. Port receipts, 11,634. U. S. port stocks, 4,035,851.

Cottonseed Oil.

Bleachable cottonseed oil was irregular today, closing 4 points lower to 7 net higher, with most positions lower under liquidation promoted by the easiness of grains and lard. Sales were 15 contracts. Bleachable spot and May closed 5.05; July, 5.04; September, 5.18; December, 5.35.

TRADE TRENDS.

(Associated Press.)

Sulphur—Consuming sources are increasing orders, the trade hears. Fertilizer and chemical manufacturers are replenishing stocks against an improving demand for their own products.

Coal—Bituminous production exceeds by a fair margin that of a year ago, according to trade estimates. Prices are generally unchanged.

Paper—Prices are said to be firmer in many lines, reflecting less shading by sellers who are anxious to move stocks. Coarse paper sales are reported on the upgrade.

Crude drugs—Insect flowers continue in good demand, but many items are now experimenting the usual seasonal quiet.

Knit goods—Some manufacturers of knitted outer wear have withdrawn fall prices and others are placing a limit on contracts because of rising worsted yarn prices.

†Officially listed.

Other stocks and bonds are traded on the Curb Exchange as "unlisted." They include those of corporations from which the exchange has deemed it unnecessary to require financial statements such as must be filed periodically if listed. The exchange states it investigates at regular intervals the financial status of "unlisted" securities.

XD—Ex dividend. EX—First sale since ex dividend date or dates. XR—Ex rights. (a) Plus extra or extras. (b) Including extra or extras. (d) Payable in scrip. (e) Paid last year. (f) Payable in stock. (g) Paid so far this year. (h) Cash or stock. (m) Also extra cash or stock dividend paid since January 1. (ur) Under rule. (ww) With warrants. (xw) Without warrants.

PROFITS INCREASED BY ILLINOIS CENTRAL

New York, May 22 (A.P.).—Illinois Central System had April net railway operating income of $1,149,002 against $721,846 in the same month of 1932.

Warner Quinlan Co. reports March quarter net loss of $467,937 against loss of $414,120 in the same period of 1932.

Electric Bond & Share Co. reports net income of $12,009,396 for the twelve months ended March 31. This compares with $23,412,235 for the year ended March 31, 1932. Gross income was $16,936,349 against $30,484,225.

Shell Union Oil Corporation and subsidiaries had a March quarter net loss of $9,239,550 compared with net loss of $2,742,800 in the first quarter last year. Gross operating earnings totaled $30,719,411 compared with $37,152,155 in the 1932 period.

The company reported cash on hand at December 31 of $23,806,177 against $36,756,553 on the same date last year, the decrease reflecting purchase and retirement during 1932 of the company's debentures and prepayment of other obligations to save interest.

GOODS MARKET.

New York, May 22 (A.P.).—An easier cotton market week led to quieter trading in cloths today, with prices maintained. Finished goods prices are still tending higher in spots where full advances were not named.

Wool goods are stronger, with agents reluctant to sell far ahead until more is known concerning future production and selling methods. Silks are quiet. Rayon weavers find it difficult to accept orders owing to the uncertainty of rayon yarn supplies. Prices are firm. Burlaps were firm.

REAL ESTATE JOINS UPTURN, BERGE SAYS

National Boards Convene for Two-Day Session; Residential Needs.

By THOMAS M. CAHILL.

Real estate, as other business, is beginning to feel improved conditions, so A. John Berge, sales counselor, National Association of Real Estate Boards, informed members of the Washington Real Estate Board yesterday at the first of a two-day sales conference at 2400 Sixteenth street northwest.

"Inflation," he said, "has, of course, played a part, but the average person is prone to forget that while inflation is functioning there are many other factors that also enter into the picture. Even though business has not been as good as we would like it to be since 1929, nevertheless the United States has not been standing still."

Reviewing the situation, he said: "Since 1929 the following things have happened: We have 104 more power houses, 3,600 more miles of pipe lines, 15,000 more miles of surfaced highways, 6,600,000 new customers, 1,825,000 people have graduated from high schools and colleges, 6,000,000 have married and established homes.

Two Cycles Similar.

"In this connection, it is interesting to note that there are two cycles that correspond very closely—one is the real estate cycle and the other is the marriage cycle. In the average American city today, the marriage rate is way below normal. In St. Louis, for example, since the marriage depression started there is an accumulated shortage of 20,000 marriages. The marriage rate in St. Louis is 56 per cent below normal, and this figure is characteristic of the average American city."

"This fact becomes important when you consider the number of vacant homes and apartments in St. Louis. There are today 12,000 such vacant homes and apartments. If only three-quarters of these accummulated marriages take place it will mean that they will use up all the vacant homes and apartments in that city and St. Louis will be facing a shortage of homes and apartments immediately, simply because these accummulated marriages have taken place.

"Of course not all of them are going to take place but if only 75 per cent of them do it means that all of the vacancies in St. Louis and some more besides will be used up and there will be immediately a strong demand for real estate. Furthermore, even though our cities are not growing as fast as they used to, we are still going to have a demand for real estate because our families today are not as large as they used to be.

Family 50 Years Ago.

"Fifty years ago the average family was 5.6 persons. Today it is 3.8. In other words it takes 47 per cent more homes to house 1,000 families today than it did 50 years ago. Another favorable sign for real estate is the fact that our building program is 2,880,000 behind the normal rate. In 1930, there were 29,000,000 homes in this country. Assuming that the average life of a building is 50 years that means 2 per cent of them becomes obsolete every year, or 580,000 homes become obsolete every year.

"In other words, just to take care of the buildings that wear out every year, we need a building program of 580,000 homes, which is more than we have had in the last few years. In other words, the building program of the last few years has not taken care of the normal wearing out of our homes and this means that some time in the near future we are going to have to have a lot of building."

Today's session will be in the nature of a consultation service held by Mr. Berge at the offices of the local board at 1417 K street northwest.

W. K. QUINTER WILL FILED FOR PROBATE

Widow and Two Children Are Named as Chief Beneficiaries.

Mrs. Grace B. Quinter, widow of William K. Quinter, and her two children were named the principal beneficiaries of his estate, it was disclosed in District Supreme Court yesterday when the will was filed for probate.

Mrs. Quinter will receive the home at 3232 Woodley road northwest, its furnishings, a life insurance policy for an unspecified amount, $10,000 of income producing stock, and $500 a month income from the estate.

A son, Louis H. Quinter, was given $5,000 in stock, and $100 a month from the estate, while a daughter, Maude Louise Quinter, was given the same bequests. Mrs. Alvina M. Quinter, the testator's mother, is given $5,000.

Ralph D. Quinter, a brother, is given a law library, office furniture and $1,000 in cash. Two other brothers, Alvin S. and Hubbert R. Quinter, were given $1,000 each, and Inez C. Burrows, his secretary, was given $1,000 also.

The remainder of the estate is to be held in trust for fifteen years and is then to be divided between the widow and children.

Mr. Quinter, in his will, disclosed that he was obligated to dispose of the estate of the late Rose J. Coleman. He asked that his wife dispose of it as follows:

Children's Hospital, 12 per cent; Washington Home for Children, 12 per cent; Sibley Hospital, 10 per cent; Episcopal Home for Children, 8 per cent; Florence Crittenton Home, 8 per cent; Hospital for the Women of Maryland at Baltimore, 20 per cent, and Johns Hopkins Hospital, 30 per cent.

Inquiry Launched In Airplane Crash

A detailed investigation into circumstances surrounding the crash of an airplane at Beacon airport, near Alexandria, Va., late Sunday, in which Lyle N. Jordan, 28, of 209 Ninth street southwest, was seriously injured, was launched yesterday by the Department of Commerce.

Frederick R. Neely, chief of the aeronautic information division, declared last night that although a complete inquiry is now in progress, the investigator's report probably will not be made for several days. Improvement in the condition of Jordan, who suffered concussion of the brain and other severe injuries, is being awaited so he may be questioned, Neely said.

Meanwhile, friends of Marvin Soloman, flying instructor at the airport, deny that he was in any way responsible for the crash. Although witnesses reported Soloman's plane was also in the air when Jordan fell, friends of the former, who said they saw the accident, claim his maneuvers had nothing to do with the crash.

Chemical Society To Award Prize

In recognition of their discoveries of the chemical structure of rotenone, a substance with insecticidal properties, Dr. F. B. LaForge and Dr. H. L. J. Haller, of the Bureau of Chemistry and Soils, Department of Agriculture, have been awarded the Hillebrand prize of the Chemical Society of Washington, it was announced yesterday. The presentation will be made Thursday at a dinner of the society. The award is made in memory of Dr. W. F. Hillebrand, formerly chief chemist of the Bureau of Standards, and a founder and past president of the American Chemical Society.

The discovery of the chemical structure of rotenone by Drs. LaForge and Haller has received world-wide recognition both for the important part which this new insecticide is expected to have in ridding farms of insect pests, and for winning over scientists of Germany, England and Japan in their discovery.

University Women See Banquet Skits

Humorous sketches enlivened the annual dinner of the American Association of University Women last night at their clubhouse on I street northwest. Mrs. Dudley Willard was hostess and Mrs. Harris T. Baldwin was mistress of ceremonies.

Each of the standing committees was represented on the program.

Following the dinner, attended by more than 100 members, the annual business meeting of the local branch was held in the drawing room of the club. Mrs. William John Cooper presided. Committee reports, organization business and the Minneapolis convention were discussed.

ABOUT THE SHOW SHOPS

With NELSON B. BELL

NOT having done anything on the stage for months on end now, and their playful lunacies having been kept alive in the minds of the motion picture public only by hilarious recollections of "Horse Feathers" and the assiduous activities of their press agents, the Four Marx Brothers suddenly come to life!

Groucho Marx.

The Four Marx Brothers, since you are 'way out on the edge of your chair, will be starred in a new Paramount feature-length comedy, "Duck Soup," which is expected to be ready for release early this fall.

Harpo Marx left New York yesterday for the West Coast and will be followed in a few days by Groucho, Chico, Zeppo, Righto, Cheerio, Whatho, Hello and the rest of the boys.

The picture will go into production early in June. Leo McCarey, director of Eddie Cantor's "The Kid From Spain," has been assigned to handle the new production. A musical score of some pretension, with specialty numbers no end, is now reported by Paramount's Mr. Al Wilkie to be in preparation.

The Marx boys may make pictures that lean none too far in the direction of intellectual diversion, but they certainly select highbrow titles for their nonsensicalities! You will recall, of course, that they have already made "The Cocoanuts," "Animal Crackers," "Monkey Business" and "Horse Feathers." Now added to this compendium of profundity and erudition will be "Duck Soup."

Next to Joe Cook they come first in sheer titular insanity!

Speaking of forthcoming divertissements, Miss Katharine Roberts—who, along with Miss Cornell and Miss Hepburn, spells it with an "a"—missionary de luxe on behalf of the American Theater Society, before departing these shores dropped a farewell hint that the three plays of Theater Guild sponsorship to be offered on next year's subscription season will be S. N. Behrman's "Biography," starring Washington's own Ina Claire; "The School for Husbands," by Moliere, in a rhymed adaptation by Arthur Guiterman and Lawrence Langner, with music adapted and arranged from the seventeenth and eighteenth century French melodies by Edward Rickett, and a choice to be made from among several possibilities, including "Sarah Simple," by A. A. Milne; "Winesburg, Ohio," a play by Sherwood Anderson and Arthur Barton, based on Mr. Anderson's novel; "Versailles," by Emil Ludwig, the noted biographer, and "The Purple Testament," by John Haynes Holmes and Reginald Lawrence.

In the list of three plays from other Broadway producers will be "The Nobel Prize," an adaptation from the Swedish original of Hjalmar Bergman, which will be presented by Lawrence Langner and Frank Reilly, with Otis Skinner in the leading role; a comedy by Clare Kummer, as yet untitled, and a selection from among the plays to be produced by Gilbert Miller, John Golden, Brock Pemberton, William A. Brady, Dwight Wiman, Macgowan and Reed, Lee Shubert and the Erlanger Enterprises.

And all this after a fearful rumor that the American Theater Society might not again function locally!

Speaking of Dwight Deere Wiman, he and Tom Weatherly announce that they have just bought the dramatic rights to Edward Hope's new novel, "She Loves Me Not," and have commissioned Howard Lindsay to do the dramatization. Mr. Lindsay, who sails on Thursday for three months in the Austrian Tyrol, will work on the adaptation there and expects to have it in readiness for production on this side by September 1.

"Gay Divorce," the Wiman-Weatherly current hit, by the way, just passed its 200th performance at the Shubert Theater, in New York. Now in its seventh month, it is played by Fred Astaire, Luella Gear and Dorothy Stone, who recently supplanted Claire Luce, forced to retire by illness.

Although her screen career is usually credited to Maurice Stiller, Dr. Arnold Genthe, who is in Washington this week to photograph certain distinguished members of the Government and diplomatic service and to open his exhibition of pictures of Greece at the Ten O'Clock Club, 1603 K street, is reputed to be largely responsible for Greta Garbo's appearance in American motion pictures. When she arrived in Hollywood, she was armed with a collection of photographs of herself by Dr. Genthe, whom she knew as the favorite photographer of the late Isadora Duncan.

Mr. Carter Barron, city manager and perfect host of Loew's, Inc., in the National Capital, tossed a late afternoon soiree in honor of Smith Ballew in suite No. 127 of the Willard yesterday from 4:30 until the boys and girls of the press and allied callings went home. Mr. Ballew is by way of being the distinguished young conductor of the orchestra that is top-spotting on the stage bill at Loew's Fox the current week. A personable and talented fellow from all report, a surplusage of extraneous matters having prevented this department from investigating the matter first hand—a source of keen regret.

Because of the brilliant playing of Helen Corbin Heinl, Washington pianist, who is again to be the soloist with the United States Marine Band Symphony Orchestra, in their broadcast tomorrow night, numerous persons have wanted to know more about her.

"Being such a fine pianist isn't her head turned by so much attention?" some one asked Mrs. Heinl's colored maid.

"No, Ma'am," replied the maid. "Mrs. Heinl is just as natural and nice as she can be. Why, to look at her, you wouldn't think she knew A. B. C.!"

And, boy, I mean that's flattery!

Afterthoughts on the week-end's showshopping: Bernice and Emily, dance team at Loew's Fox, have an entirely new routine of acrobatic business which they execute with rare precision on a flight of steps that you would think wouldn't give them half room enough. . . Demonstrating the possession of rare discrimination, when "The Little Giant," knocking them silly at the Earle, wanted to use the first page of a nationally known newspaper, what do they ups and do but spread "THE WASHINGTON POST" clear across the screen. . . Rudy Bundy, also at the Earle with Walter "Mouse" Powell's roughhouse band, plays a solo on the first Neon lighted trombone ever seen in Washington, to the best of my knowledge. . . It still sounds just like a trombone, as far as that goes. . . Aunt Jemima, coming to Loew's Fox next week, offstage is Tess Gardell, a singing comedienne who is popularly supposed to have dieted 100 pounds off her ample avoirdupois in 15 minutes, or some such ridiculous time, by eating all she wanted of everything she liked, except. . . We shall see what we shall see. . . And if that has anything to do with last week-end, I'm a Chinaman!

So it is probably time I was Peiping down!

FIRM LOSES $6,000 AS DEED IS FORGED

The District Court of Appeals yesterday affirmed a decision of the District Supreme Court in holding that Arms & Drury, Inc., would have to bear the loss which resulted when the company made a $6,000 loan on a forged deed of trust.

The company had brought suit against the Columbia Title Insurance Co. for the amount of the loan on the ground that the title company had disbursed the money to a person other than the one named to receive it.

The court held, though, that as between two innocent parties the one that should suffer the loss must be the one whose "misplaced confidence" made the fraud possible. It was pointed out that a man and woman who negotiated for the loan were imposters who had been sent by the real estate firm to the title company to complete the deal, after they had gained the confidence of the officers of the firm.

The loan was ostensibly made to a colored woman who posed as Mrs. Wilhelmina Wunder, the owner of the real estate. It later developed that Mrs. Wunder, the true owner, was a white person and did not authorize the transaction, the signature of herself and her deceased husband being forgeries. The title company searched the title and disbursed the money when it ascertained that the title was good.

The law firm of Minor, Gatley & Drury represented rms and Drury, and E. C. Brandebur, and L. M. Denit represented the title company.

Sousa Monument Design Is Chosen

Selection of the design and award of the contract for the erection of the long-discussed monument to John Philip Sousa, Washington's world famous composer and band leader, was announced yesterday. The Georgia marble memorial, designed by Hans C. Volz, of New York, will be erected by the J. F. Manning Co., of Washington, at the grave of Lieut. Commander Sousa, in Congressional Cemetery. Upon the surface of the silver gray marble will be carved a facsimile of Sousa's original draft of his famous "Stars and Stripes Forever" march, at the suggestion of his widow, Mrs. John Philip Sousa, of Port Washington, Long Island.

Around the ledger over the grave will be an exedra, or semicircular carved seat. Beneath a carved lyre, symbol of Sousa's life-long devotion to music, the monument will record the date of his birth in Washington, November 6, 1854, the dead leader's rank as lieutenant commander, U. S. Navy Reserve Forces, and his death date, March 6, 1932.

By NELSON B. BELL.

Splendid as they have been in other plays, both earlier this season and in seasons that trail back nine years into the past, they have never, I think, so completely encompassed the spirit, the purpose and the full potentialities of any play as they do this runner-up for the Pulitzer prize award of 1933, Rose Franken's "Another Language," ignored upon the occasion of its premiere in the Belasco Theater 13 months ago, but now apparently destined to establish itself in Washington as the same sort of overwhelming success it has proved in both New York and London.

As was pointed out by that astute appraiser of dramatic values, Mr. Frank P. Morse, in these columns at the time of the Belasco premiere, "Another Language" is drama of a type that has not flourished on the American stage since Margaret Illington and John Drew appeared in "His House in Order." In one of its aspects—the mother of the Hallams' jealous devotion to her sons, as against the four in-laws they have brought into a family to which pride of clan has become a fetish—Mrs. Franken's play also finds a partial counterpart in Sidney Howard's "The Silver Cord," now being exhibited in motion picture form on a local screen.

It is a play that effects a successful transition from introductory scenes that are predominantly comic to later situations that are deeply and stirringly emotional; from the amusing spectacle of a family reunion in the home of the elder Hallams to the ensuing "party" at the apartment home of the only nonconformist daughter-in-law, who discovers that she and the grandson, Jerry, are the only two whose vision extends beyond the deadly monotony of the dreary family routine of a most commonplace and unproductive existence.

From this point on, the drama depicts the conflict that attends any triangular clash of domestic interests, the novelty in the present instance being that an entire family takes the place of the customary single interloper in the home of a young married couple.

The play's emotional content is intrusted almost wholly to Leona Powers and Donald Woods, as the son and daughter-in-law who detach themselves slightly from the Hallam tradition, and Freddie Sherman, the grandson who falls desperately and pathetically in love with his aunt. They play flawlessly parts that might so easily be ruined by the slightest falsity in reading, action or tempo.

Exceptionally effective are the comedy creations of Kathryn Givney and Ona Munson, as the two wisecracking daughters-in-law who accept their subordination to their husbands as part of the penalty of having married into the Hallam family. Miss Givney is a tower of strength to all three acts and Miss Munson confirms last week's sure impression that she is making almost unbelievable strides in those refinements of her art that lead to a surety of attack and versatile resourcefulness that insure her authoritative assumption of any role she may be assigned. Her work this week, like Miss Givney's, is spontaneous, natural and unfailingly amusing—especially the amplified embonpoint, also affected by Miss Givney—that gives her a distinctly upper West Side contour, and very "top floor back," at that!

Romaine Callander is another who gives a vigorous and interesting performance and the superlatively well balanced ensemble is completed by the excellent contributions of Mrs. Hibbard, Burke Clarke, Karl Nielsen, Forrest Orr and Bernice Bartl, a talented recruit from Mr. Brooke's Academy of the Dramatic Arts.

The two settings add greatly to the distinction of a bill that deserves to play to capacity audiences as enthusiastic as last night's throughout the remainder of the week.

GAYETY

"BEAUTY REVUE," Jimmy Lake presents a burlesque attraction starring "Peaches" Browning, in person, supported by Joe Yule, Bimbo Davis, Joy St. Clair, Nora Murray, Charlie Levine, Bob Sandberg, Lee Hickman, Lurrise Fox and Evelyn Brooks, with Wanda de Von and "Conchita" dance specialists. Reviewed by George H. Barrows.

Although the notoriety of "Peaches" Browning undoubtedly drew a great majority of the patrons to Washington's only burlesque theater over the week-end, it was the daring specialty numbers of the perennial favorite, Joy St. Clair, which stopped the show in its tracks on two occasions.

The "Beauty Revue," as the show is billed, proved to be one of the finest productions of the current season at the Gayety. Lee Hickman distinguished himself in a courtroom scene, as judge and attorney for both prosecution and defense all combined, and Charley LaVine (or is it "Levine" as the program has it this week?) again showed his versatility as a character actor. According to the reaction of the audience, however, Charley's songs should be restricted to amusing dittys or to the yodeling which he does so well.

On the other hand, Nora Murray has a really charming voice and in this week's bill takes other than singing parts with equal ability. Lurrise Fox, Evelyn Brooks and the talented South American dancer, "Conchita," receives liberal applause for other specialty numbers and Wanda de Von—third from the right in the chorus, to you—is given an opportunity to show possibilities as a feature for the future.

NEW CINEMA OFFERINGS

COLUMBIA

"TERROR ABOARD," Paramount picturization of a story by Robert Presnell, featuring John Halliday, Charlie Ruggles, Shirley Grey, Verree Teasdale and Neil Hamilton. Directed by Paul Sloan. Reviewed Monday evening by W. A. Whitney.

Absolutely not—for weak hearts! But if you like—and can take—your murders in strong doses, "Terror Aboard" is the one than which no than whichers have been made!

Cruising the South Seas on a vacation, Maximilian Krieg receives a radio message to the effect that his stocks have gone off the board and that he will be arrested for various financial crimes the moment he sets foot on land. Faced with that dilemma, Friend Max starts out deliberately to expunge all members of his passenger list and his crew.

Varied and weird are the methods he uses, but before the climactic moment is reached he has succeeded in murdering six of his passengers and all the crew. After firing the ship to eradicate the remaining passengers, locked in the engine room, Max jumps indiscreetly overboard — indiscreetly since there awaits him a shark quite in the mood for victuals and apparently impatient at the delayed service. And that's the end of Max.

As the demoniacal Krieg is John Halliday. Although it is a part that will elicit not one iota of sympathy, it is, nevertheless, a delineation that will rank with the best that Mr. Halliday has done. Such calm, deliberate, cold-blooded planning and execution (pardon, please, the pun) has seldom been the cinema's "pleasure" to present. Offhand there is only one other on the American screen whose diabolical machinations could be a match for those of Mr. Halliday—Eric von Stroheim.

GLEN ECHO PARK

Mid-May crowds hit the trail for Glen Echo over the week-end. From Saturday office closing time until Sunday evening they rang up a new attendance record at the popular Maryland resort.

The new $50,000 Spanish ballroom was one of the main attractions, and MacWilliams and his orchestra catered to thousands of dancers, attracted from all sections. Down in the midway house of fun hundreds of kids were having the time of their lives, and they swarmed on the big coaster dips, airplane swings and dodgem rides, all of which have been improved this season. The old mill, with its new scenic effects, the carrousel and the smaller amusements were kept busy over the week-end with enthusiastic customers.

Sunday was the big picnic day of the week, and entire families made straight for the park, where they enjoyed themselves under the shady trees and partook of the refreshments which are sold all over the park at city prices.

This MORNING with SHIRLEY L. POVICH

THAT two-hit shut-out beating that Walter Miller hung on the Nats last Sunday wasn't bargained for when Clark Griffith set out during the last off-season to buy up the Nats' pitching jinxes at various points around the league.

Griffith espied Walter Stewart at St. Louis and added him to the Nats' staff. He wheedled Earl Whitehill away from Detroit, and he weaned Jack Russell from Cleveland. Among them last season this trio handed the Nats enough setbacks to permit the Yankees to make a run-away race of the league.

Griffith apparently cleaned up the Nats' jinxes in the West. Or so thought, until last Sunday when Miller, who was able to hold his job with Cleveland a few years back simply by his ability to beat the Nats, reappeared with the White Sox. He had been in retirement for three years and thus Griffith overlooked him. The Nats kept Miller in the league while he was with Cleveland, and if Sunday's performance is any criterion, they'll make Miller's Chicago job safe for him.

Cronin's Glove Excites Rooters.

A white tape across the webbing of Joe Cronin's glove is giving the fans in the grand stand the heeby-jeebies. Every time Cronin comes up with a ground ball, it appears that he has barely made the catch in his finger tips and is in danger of fumbling it before he throws. The white tape, the color of the ball, creates the illusion.

Speaking of tapes, Tom Zachary used to wrap the first finger of his pitching hand with courtplaster to prevent blistering, until Ty Cobb protested so vigorously that the umpires ordered Zachary to take the tape from his fingers. Cobb charged that the wrapping enabled Zachary to get a freak spin on the ball.

For several years Dazzy Vance used to pitch with the shirt of his pitching arm torn in shreds. The sight of the shreds dangling in their faces as Vance wound up befuddled them, the batters charged, and they were successful in their attempt to make Dazzy don a new shirt with an orthodox sleeve.

RUNS, HITS AND ERRORS.

Dave Harris is the least fence-shy of all the Nats' outfielders. . . . This fellow Schoolboy Rowe, the Tigers' young pitcher, had thoughts of turning outfielder when he hit two homers on successive days against the Giants in exhibition games . . . they put in a pinch hitter for him yesterday. . . . If Hank Greenberg, on first base for the Tigers, lets in only half as many runs as he drives in he'll be a success. . . . Bucky Harris started Greenberg at first in New York the other day for the benefit of the thousands from the Bronx who came to see their old neighbor . . . he popped to Lazzeri three times and then struck out. . . . With Buddy Myer down in the line-up the Nats have the best seventh-place hitter in the league . . . and Luke Sewell is putting a punch in eighth place that the Nat's haven't enjoyed since the days of Hank Severeid, in 1925. . . . Joe Kuhel, who spent part of last week among the leading five hitters, has made two hits in his last 24 times at bat. . . . Exactly half of the left-handed pitchers on Western Clubs performed here yesterday . . . the Tigers have Fischer and Hogsett, the White Sox have Miller, the Browns have Hebert and the Indians have none.

Public Parks Golfers Led By Rippy

Match Play to Start Today Over East Potomac Links.

CLAUDE RIPPY, transplanted North Carolina golfer, shot a 77 yesterday to capture medal honors in the East Potomac Spring tournament and pace a field of 81 participants.

Rippy negotiated B course in 36 strokes, two above par, but encountered tougher going on the D side, which he made in 41, five above standard figures. He was decidedly off form on the stretch, finishing the last three holes in 5-6-5, three over par.

Rippy, who plays his golf at East Potomac, topped Harold Bowers, Larry Downey and Harry Saunders each, by a stroke. These four were the only first flight qualifiers who were able to smash 80. Even pint-sized Johnny Connelly, winner of the recent Rock Creek open championship, had a hard time controlling his woods and irons and soared to an 84; Ralph Bennie, Rock Creek finalist, also took an 84, while John Downey, one of the favorites, had trouble on the greens and posted an 81.

Pairings and starting times follow:

FIRST FLIGHT.

9, Claude Rippy (77) vs. R. B. Irwin (82); 1:35, Herman Hurdles (84) vs. Johnny Connelly (84); 9:10, A. M. Holmes (85) vs. Duncan Brooks (85); 9:20, Larry Downey (78) vs. Robert Lewis (85); 9:30, Harold D. Bowers (78) vs. William Seay (83); 9:40, Ralph Bennie (84) vs. Paul Heston (86); 9:50, Ross Smith (86) vs. John Downey (81); 10, Robert Marks vs. Harry Saunders (78).

SECOND FLIGHT.

10:15, H. C. Bannerman (86) vs. C. H. Fisco (86); 10:20, Walter Barrett (86) vs. Frank Beavers (87); 10:25, J. O. McAlwee (87) vs. Pat Ariel (87); 10:05, W. R. Welsh (87) vs. D. J. Kozak (88); 10:10, Joe Meeker (88) vs. Jack Abbott (88); 10:30, R. A. Allan (88) vs. P. K. Pratt (89); 10:35, D. K. Bent (89) vs. Robert Sibley (89); 10:40, R. S. Sinclair (89) vs. A. Oliveri (89).

THIRD FLIGHT.

5,000 See Savoldi Win Over Lewis

New York, May 22 (A.P.).—Jumping Joe Savoldi, the illustrious former footballer, advanced another step toward the wrestling heights tonight with a field goal victory over old Ed Strangler Lewis at Madison Square Garden.

About 5,000 fans saw the former Notre Dame line plunger down his broad opponent after 43 minutes and 7 seconds of tugging and hauling. The result was the reverse of their first meeting a week ago tonight, when Savoldi dived through the ropes onto the hard concrete floor and lost interest in the proceedings.

Although he weighed only 202 pounds to 240 for the mature Strangler, Jumping Joe was fairly well in control of the situation at all times tonight. The triumph put Savoldi in direct line for a match with Jim Browning, recognized as champion by the New York State Athletic Commission.

Shields Wins With Prenn In France

Establish Selves as Formidable Threat for Net Title.

AUTEUIL, France, May 22 (U.P.).—Frank X. Shields, of New York, and Dr. Daniel Prenn, of Germany, established themselves as a formidable threat for the doubles title of the French tennis championship today with an easy 6—2, 6—2, 6—3, victory over the French brothers team of Pascal and Francois Merlin.

Having drawn a first round bye, the victory placed the American-German combination in the third round.

Seeded teams came through undefeated in the first round. In a feature second round match the team of Jean Borotra and Jacques Brugnon, which may be the French Davis Cup doubles selection, eliminated the Italian internationalists, Giovanni Palmieri and De Ostiani, 7—5, 7—5, 6—1.

In other men's doubles second round matches, Fred Perry and George P. Hughes, of England, defeated Marcel Guillemot and Raymond Thierry, France, 6—2, 6—3, 6—1; Vivian McGrath and Adrian Quist, of Australia, defeated Beni Berthet and Rene George, of France, 6—2, 6—4, 6—3; Jack Crawford and Don Turbull, of Australia, defeated Louis Weiss and Jean Augustin, of France, 6—1, 6—3, 6—0.

In the mixed doubles, Helen Jacobs, America's No. 1 player, paired with Turnbull to win a second round match over the French team of Mme. Caron Culbert and Andre Merlin, 6—2, 1—6, 6—2. In the women's doubles, Mrs. Dorothy Andrus Burke, of Stamford, Conn., teamed with Muriel Thomas, England, to defeat Mmes. Suzanne Danet and Marie Speranza, 6—2, 7—4.

MACKS TAKE FOURTH IN A ROW

Browns Lose, 6 to 5, After Tying Score Three Times.

PHILADELPHIA, May 22 (A.P.).—The Philadelphia Athletics won their fourth straight game, 6 to 5, today in a seesaw affair that opened a three-day stand with the St. Louis Browns.

Homer With Two On Defeats Braves for Cards, 3-0.

ST. LOUIS, May 22 (A.P.).—Pepper Martin, playing despite a sprained ankle that handicapped him in the field, hit a home run with two men on base to break up a pitching duel between Ed Brandt and Bill Walker and give the St. Louis Cardinals a 3-0 victory over the Boston Braves in 10 innings today.

Brandt had the edge in number of hits allowed until the tenth, holding the Red Birds to five safeties, while the Braves made eight off Walker.

Gomez Bests Ferrell in Duel, 3-0

Each Allows 6 Hits, Yanks Bunching 3 in Eighth.

NEW YORK, May 22 (A.P.).—Triumphing over Wesley Ferrell in a fine pitching duel, Vernon Gomez hurled shut-out ball to give the New York Yankees a 3-to-0 victory over the Cleveland Indians today.

Each pitcher allowed only six hits, but the Yankees bunched three of their blows with an error and a base on balls to score all of their runs in the eighth inning and break up Ferrell's brilliant pitching performance.

With the game deadlocked, Ruth reached first safely when Burnett fumbled his grounder. Gehrig forced the Bambino at second, but Chapman singled and Lazzeri walked, filling the bases. Dickey came through with a single to produce two runs and Crosetti connected with another to score Lazzeri.

Indians Fill Bases in Ninth.

The finish was drawn a bit fine, however, when, following a single by Kamm with two out in the ninth, Gomez wavered and passed Spencer and Ferrell, loading the bases. Gomez bore down, however, and forced pinch-hitter Hale to ground out to Lazzeri.

Both pitchers were generous with bases on balls, Gomez walking five and Ferrell six.

NATS OPPOSE MARBERRY TODAY

By FRANK H. YOUNG.

FRED MARBERRY, one of the most popular Washington pitchers of the last decade, will work against his old mates at Griffith Stadium this afternoon, with Walter Stewart opposing him. Marberry did not have a particularly good season here last year and so was traded last winter to the Tigers for Earl Whitehill, but he has been doing good work under Manager Bucky Harris, and promises the Nats quite a battle this afternoon. Marberry's record to date is five victories as against two losses.

Two minor injuries cropped up among the Nationals yesterday, Goose Goslin pulling a leg muscle when bounding off the right field wall trying for Gehringer's double in the fifth, while Ossie Bluege, just back in the game yesterday, slightly reinjured the ailing leg which had kept him inactive since the Nats' final Nats Bunch Hits in Fourth to Gain 5-2 Advantage.

By SHIRLEY L. POVICH
(Sports Editor of The Post).

THE Detroit Tigers showed their claws yesterday, but the Nats made good their escape and staggered over the finish line with a 6-5 victory in tow in the opening game of the series.

The Tigers gave Carl Fischer and his southpaw fire-ball a two-run lead in the first inning, but the Nats wiped out this deficit in their first turn at bat and unhooked Fischer from the ball game in the fourth inning in the midst of a four-hit, three-run uprising that all but salted the game away.

But Earl Whitehill was not defending his 5-2 lead with a great deal of success against his old mates. They picked up a run on him in the fifth and the Nats got it back for him against Schoolboy Rowe in the seventh, but when the Tigers started clawing Whitehill for two runs in the eighth and put the tying tally on base, Joe Cronin dispensed with his services.

Thomas Puts Stop to Advance.

Cronin called Bridegroom Al Thomas to the mound and Thomas dispersed the uprising in the eighth by fanning Pinch Hitter Rhiel on four pitches. He set them down in order in the ninth after striking out Pinch Hitter White on four pitched balls.

But don't be misled. The game wasn't very exciting. The innings dragged by in a vast silence as the 1,000 customers in the stands refused to become aroused by the listless play. The reaction of Walter Miller's pitching feat on Sunday had apparently set in and there was no stir in the stands even when the Tigers threatened to tie the score. Came the finish and came the yawn.

If it hadn't been for big Hank Greenberg, whose slugging offsets his fielding shortcomings in the eyes of Manager Bucky Harris, the Nats would have had a smoother path yesterday. Big Hank drove in all of the Tigers' first four runs and had a hand in the fifth.

By their victory the Nats kept pace with the winning Yankees, a game behind the lead, and gained a full game on the closely pressing Indians and White Sox, both of whom were tripped by Eastern opposition yesterday.

Two Out in First When Tigers Rally.

DON PEDRO NOSES OUT NIGHT PATROL IN BOWIE FEATURE

Open Hearth, 3d, Beaten 6 Lengths

Incandescent Wins in First Race and Pays $16.40.

Squeeze Play Takes Sixth, at $25.40; Mexico Victor.

By WALTER HAIGHT.

DON PEDRO was up in the last jump to take yesterday's Bowie feature from Night Patrol by the narrowest of margins recorded by the chartmakers. Third and beaten six lengths came Open Hearth. Johnny Gilbert had the mount on Night Patrol and his backers were spending their winnings as the 1932 jockey champion hustled the son of Under Fire to the front going to the clubhouse turn and then settled down to a confident ride as the field pitter-pattered on the swing for the back stretch.

In the meanwhile, Don Pedro had come to the outside to lay second and there was no change in the positions of the pair until the stretch.

Munden was content to stay behind the Night Patrol-Gilbert combination, but once straightened out he hand rode the Spanish Prince II gelding up on the leader. Slowly but surely he cut down the advantage. A small army of backers was helping Munden, but it was only in the last jump that he made the grade. The hanging of the numbers was awaited with much interest.

Open Hearth Finishes Third.

Open Hearth, third most of the way, finished in that same position.

It was another summer day at the nearby track and a crowd in the neighborhood of 8,000 witnessed the program. Both long-shot players and chalk backers had their innings.

The combination of C. V. Whitney and Johnny Gilbert accounted for another purse in the first race when Incandescent, a daughter of Chicle, ran the favored Marge into the ground to take the 5-furlong sprint by a two-length margin. Marge managed to hang on to the place award ahead of Stimulaw. Gilbert held the ultimate winner behind the rapid pace set by Marge and Stimulaw until the turn for the stretch. Incandescent moved out nicely at the end. A $16.40 mutuel was gathered by the faithful.

Race Street Wins Second.

Race Street, which has done a lot of racing for a 2-year-old, took the second race, another 5-furlong dash. Davoc, with Gilbert up, enjoyed a brief spell in front, but Erickson soon had Race Street in high gear, and, for all purposes, the race was then over.

Race Street scampered across the finish line five lengths in advance of Front, Mrs. John Hay Whitney's representative, with Davoc having trouble taking the show.

With his mother down at the rail rooting him home, little Harold Cruz, Capital boy, rode Major General to an easy victory in the third race. A pair of longshots completed the money picture when Glenburnie took the place and Canteret the show. Cruz won the race at the clubhouse turn when he found an opening on the rail, sifted through the field to take the lead before they straightened out on the back stretch. From that point it was a romp for Major General. The winner was well played and paid a $6.80 mutuel. Calgary Kay, with Gilbert up, and made the choice, was nowhere in particular.

Mexico, Victor, Pays $4.60 Mutuel.

Mexico won for his new owner at the first asking, drawing away in the stretch to defeat the fast charging Sublevado and the tiring The Gen. Mexico and The Gen waged a battle from the start to the quarter pole. The winner paid $4.60 and the second horse $41.40 to place.

Squeeze Play, at $25.40 won the sixth race, leading Aenby home after setting most of the pace. Eddie Smith, a Washington boy, rode the winner.

DEAR AL: BOWIE RACE TRACK, MAY 22.

Johnny Gilbert leaves after today's program for New York and many of the Gilbert players will miss him. The 1932 jockey champion is riding in excellent form. On the contrary, Jockeys R. Leischman, E. Watters, E. DeCamilis and D. Lyons motored in from New York, being unable to find mounts there. However, Gilbert is assured plenty of action. Well, friend, it looks like we'll have to stick pretty close to the chalk today. If you get the urge to speculate, you might do worse than give some of these consideration. BILL.

FIRST RACE—SCOUT CHIEF was near the leaders at the finish of his only race. Was going gamely at the end and I'm going to give him a chance to make good here. Expect Preston Burch to pick a good rider. MATHIAS has been well educated and will be close. IDLE ALONG for the show.

SECOND RACE—Giving BOY CRAZY a chance here despite the fact that Jimmy Smith will have the mount from all indications. This one ran a fine race at Havre de Grace and this field is none too classy. LOUGH PORT'S last was a beaut. CORDOBA for the show.

THIRD RACE — ROCK POINT shapes up a shade the best in this. Is right at tops and will give MACK SENNETT all he can handle, I believe. The latter is consistent and should like the course. WAR BANNER, with light weight, may improve.

FOURTH RACE—INDIAN RUNNER is so sharp I'm not looking elsewhere for a winner. That last was all the doctor ordered. MONEL is a fine mare and romped home with a stableboy aboard the other day. HOPE TO DO has been carefully prepared.

FIFTH RACE—GOLD PRIZE is the class here and might have walked home had not Pool fell off the last time and let the horse run away. Might need a little price, however. GARLIC and WARD IN CHANCERY shape up next best.

SIXTH RACE—DAMASCENE barely failed to run a winning race the last time and gets the call here. REVONAH could place. COVENTRY QUEEN has worked well and may upset the dope.

SEVENTH RACE—BURNSIDE comes off a fast sprint to try this route and appears to be well suited. BUBOLA drops weight and may force the issue. ZEMBLA for the show.

BOWIE, MARYLAND, CHART, MAY 22, 1933.

WEATHER, CLEAR. TRACK, FAST.

FIRST RACE—Five furlongs. Purse, $800. For maiden 2-year-old fillies. Start good from gates. Won driving; place, same. Went to post at 2:32. Off at 2:33½. Winner, C. V. Whitney's b. f. (2), by Chicle—Masia. Trained by J. A. Healey. Value to winner, $625; second, $100; third, $50; fourth, $25. Time, 0:23 1-5, 0:47 2-5, 1:01 2-5.

Two-dollar mutuels paid—INCANDESCENT, $16.40, $6.40, $3.80; MARGE, $4.00, $2.60; STIMULAW, $2.80.

INCANDESCENT, kept forwardly placed and rushed hard the entire trip, wore MARGE down when straightened into the home stretch and then came out steadily under pressure. MARGE gained command early, displayed good speed to resist STIMULAW, but could not stay with the winner. STIMULAW, stoutly ridden the entire trip and saving ground through the final stages, continued gamely under punishment. YAP worked his way up on the outside and made up ground. HERO OLGA closed a good gap. The others were outrun.

SECOND RACE—Five furlongs. Purse, $800; allowances. The Calvert. For 2-year-old colts and geldings. Start good from gates. Won easily; place, driving. Went to post at 3:06. Off at 3:11½. Winner, S. W. Menaquale's blk. g. (2), by Don Deick—Raincrow. Trained by H. Wakoff. Value to winner, $625; second, $100; third, $50; fourth, $25. Time, 0:23 2-5, 0:48, 1:01 1-5.

Two-dollar mutuels paid—RACE STREET, $3.60, $2.80, $2.20; FRONT, $15.20, $5.20; DAVOC, $3.20.

RACE STREET, fractious at the post, broke in the first flight and, hurried to the front, showed good speed while saving ground and came away stoutly when shaken up at the stretch turn. FRONT worked his way up on the outside and withstood a drive willingly to outstay DAVOC. Latter, always well up, continued willingly under strong handling. HOGSHEAD closed full of run during the last quarter mile. ASKE held a forward position for three furlongs before tiring. XERSEISE came with a belated rush during the last half mile. FABULOUS raced well. BEAU KILRANE was crowded out of contention after the start.

THIRD RACE—One and one-sixteenth miles. Purse, $800; claiming. For 3-year-olds and upward, foaled in Maryland. Start good from gates. Won easily; place, driving. Went to post at 3:38. Off at 3:44. Two-dollar mutuels paid—MAJOR GENERAL, $6.80, $4.60, $4.00; GLENBURNIE, $12.20, $7.80; CANTERET (field), $14.60.

MAJOR GENERAL went through a wide opening at the first turn, drew out into a commanding lead and was never menaced. GLENBURNIE dropped back midway of the back stretch, was placed to punishment and closed courageously thereafter. CANTERET, taken up when entering the back stretch, held to a forward position and finished in game fashion. AIR KING was held safe in the final drive. CALGARY KAY showed a dull effort and failed to respond when hard urged. FAIR BILL had no excuses. FUSCO stopped. WALTER K. quit badly.

FOURTH RACE—Six furlongs. Purse, $800; claiming. For 4-year-olds and upward. Start good from gates for all but Wild Olive. Won easily; place, driving. Went to post at 4:12. Off at 4:13. Winner, F. Two-dollar mutuels paid—MEXICO, $4.60, $3.80, $2.80; SUBLEVADO, $41.40, $9.60; THE GEN., $3.00.

MEXICO, hurried to hold a brief early lead, resisted stout contention in the first half mile, came away readily when shaken up at the stretch turn and had speed in reserve at the end. SUBLEVADO, going stoutly and kept close to the leaders, continued willingly to outlast THE GEN. Latter, in the thick of contention and going in good fashion, held on with good courage when the final test came. SURTEES improved his position on the outside and made up some ground during the stretch run. DUNROCK was outrun. CAPTAIN ED was unable to reach the leaders.

FIFTH RACE—One and one-sixteenth miles. Purse, $1,000; allowances. The Valor. For 3-year-olds and upward. Start good from gates. Won driving; place, same. Went to post at 4:41. Off at 4:45. Two-dollar mutuels paid—DON PEDRO, $12.60, $4.00, $2.20; NIGHT PATROL, $2.60, $2.20; OPEN HEARTH, $2.40.

DON PEDRO, rated close to the leaders, gained fast when put to strong pressure and, closing in tenacious fashion, was up in the concluding strides. NIGHT PATROL sprinted into a clear early lead, saved ground and then continued stoutly when placed to punishment in the final furlong. OPEN HEARTH, saving a lot of ground all the way, weakened during the last quarter mile. MY COUNSELLOR was unable to enter into contention. PENCADER was never a factor. ONCE was overmatched.

SIXTH RACE—One and three-sixteenths miles. Purse, $800; claiming. For 4-year-olds and upward. Start good from gates. Won driving; place, same. Went to post at 5:13. Off at 5:19. Winner, Mrs. E. A. Two-dollar mutuels paid—SQUEEZE PLAY, $25.40, $13.60, $7.60; AXENBY, $6.20, $3.80; MAINSHEET, $3.00.

SQUEEZE PLAY, racing in close pursuit of DARK VISION, displaced the latter when straightened into the home stretch, withstood a long drive willingly and just lasted to stall off AXENBY. Latter, restrained in the early racing, moved around on the outside and finished in determined fashion. MAINSHEET, as usual slow to get going, circled her field and finished full of run. JODHPUR worked his way up steadily in the last half mile and was gaining steadily at the end. DARK VISION was used up setting the pace and tired when the final test came. BRIGHT DAY was held safe.

SEVENTH RACE—One and three-sixteenths miles. Purse, $800; claiming. For 4-year-olds and upward. Start good from gates. Won driving; place, same. Went to post at 5:49. Off at 5:55½. Winner, W. A. Two-dollar mutuels paid—TAZEWELL, $8.20, $3.60, $2.60; TUFFY G., $4.30, $3.00; WILLIAM T., $4.60.

TAZEWELL, away clearly and taking command when midway of the back stretch, stalled off repeated efforts from WILLIAM T. and, holding on gamely, lasted to withstand TUFFY G. Latter, kept under reserve until the last three furlongs, closed full of run when taken around the leaders. WILLIAM T., going close up in the early stages, weakened slightly under punishment in the final drive. MAKE BELIEVE, fractious and taken to the outside, made up ground in the last half mile.

ManleyMeets Raymond at Portner's

Clash Tonight Feature of Star Card; Strickler Battles.

THIRTY rounds of boxing will be presented fistic fans tonight at Portner's Arena in Alexandria, with Roy Manley, the Arkansas junior welterweight southpaw, clashing with Lew Raymond, of Baltimore, in an eight-rounder that is expected to steal the show.

Manley and Raymond are not billed to meet in the feature bout. They are battling on a card that has been advertised of all-star caliber, and that shows three eight-round bouts. However, Manley has been coming along at such a dizzy pace of late in his ring wars and Raymond has been meeting with such success that the so-called ring experts are prone to think that the match between these two will put a fitting climax to the night's proceedings.

Irving and Overlin to Clash.

Vying with interest with the Manley-Raymond encounter is the duel between Henry Irving, the Northeast Popeye, and Ken Irving, Chris Dundee's smashing, tearing middleweight from Norfolk. Irving's last match was with Young Van. He showed enough stuff to defeat the strong-armed stereotyper decisively. Irving will carry a large following tonight. Overlin already is an established favorite. The way he stopped Joe Finazzo, of Baltimore, was a gem from the standpoint of boxing skill. Last week the Norfolk sailor buried his fists deep into Walter Kirkwood's solar plexus and midriffs, and cracked him with monotonous regularity on the jaw, earning a unanimous verdict.

Strickler Faces Tough Foe.

The third eight-round bout brings into action Red Journee, Norfolk wildcat, and Billy Strickler, the Terminal Bulldog, who has won his last three fights via the knockout route. Journee is remembered for his knockout over Lloyd Phelps. Both are rough and tough scrappers, but Strickler is the most versatile of the two.

Opening the program, Chief Perry Knowles, Goldie Ahearn's Indian importation, and Willie Essinger, of Washington, will clash in a six-rounder. Knowles is fresh from a victory over Joe Raspi in Baltimore.

Dusek-Raines May Steal Mat Show

Rudy Is Still Popular With Fans and Is Willing Worker.

ALTHOUGH Ernie Dusek is wrestling in the feature bout at the ball park Thursday night, another member of the Nebraska family, Rudy, may steal the show from him. Rudy meets big Dick Raines, the reformed Texas cow-puncher, in a 45-minute semifinal bout.

Although not quite as good as he was last season Rudy still remains a great crowd pleaser with his punishing rocking-chair scissors hold. Rudy is one of the best conditioned members of the profession and a willing worker.

Bright Future for Raines.

In Raines he tackles a boy who should be a master before long. In the few months he has labored under Joe Turner's auspices, the ponderous Texan has come a long way. The big fellow knows a number of valuable tricks of the trade and does not depend entirely on the rough stuff to win.

The card lined up for the first outdoor show of the year is well balanced. Everett Marshall leads off against Jim McMillan in a 30-minute engagement. Vic Christy will tackle Nick Condos and Fred Grobmier has been matched with Henry Piers.

Hank Mills Hurt In Jamaica Spill

Jamaica Race Track, New York, May 22 (A.P.).—Spectators got a bad scare here this afternoon with the running of the featured Belle Harbor Purse, a 6-furlong test for 3-year-old fillies.

The popular Colorado youngster, Hank Mills, took a spectacular spill from the back of the Wheatley Stable's Iseult on the final bend approaching the head of the stretch and the boy was rushed away in the ambulance for examination. It was reported that no bones were broken. Young Hank arose after the spill, but apparently was badly shaken up and seemed to have wrenched his back.

Edelweiss, the other half of the Wheatley entry, which ruled one to three favorite, just got up in a great finish to win by a nose from A. C. Schwartz's Tickory Tock. W. S. Kilmer's Dark Love was third, a length away. The time was 1:12 4-5.

MD. WINS, 10-0; DAVIDSON HERO

Hurler Yields Only 2 Hits To Foe

Western Md. Shut Out in Home Team's 4th Straight.

WITH Ray Davidson hurling two-hit ball, University of Maryland turned back Western Maryland via the shutout route, 10 to 0, yesterday afternoon at College Park. It was the third successive home contest in which the Old Liners have held their opponents scoreless, and their fourth victory in five starts on the home field this season. It also was their fourth straight win.

Davidson ran his string of consecutive runless innings to 23 as he held the Green Terrors over the nine-inning route. He pitched five innings during the game in which V. M. I. was blanked, 6-0, 10 days ago, and a few days previous he shut out Washington and Lee, 4-0. Only 13 hits have been scored from his delivery over this period.

Lipsky Gets First Safety.

Western Maryland did not hit safely until the seventh, when Lipsky, left fielder, singled to right. In the ninth Doughty got a bingle to left for the Terrors' second hit. Three batters received passes and only one runner reached third base. The Old Liners played errorless ball behind Davidson, who struck out 11.

Meanwhile, Maryland was making merry at the expense of Shilling and Martin, two right-handed Terror hurlers. Eighteen bingles, including two doubles and a triple, rattled from the bats of the Old Liners. Shilling retired after the fourth, with 6 runs and 12 hits marked against him, while Martin was charged with 4 runs and 6 safeties the balance of the route.

Donnie Bartoo, shortstop, and Hymie Gorman, second sacker, led the Old Line assault, the former with a double and three singles and the latter with a triple and a trio of one-sackers.

NATS BEAT TIGERS, 6 TO 5, IN OPENER

cut a hit to Rogell, and the Nats had tied the score.

The Nats couldn't score in the third despite two singles and a walk. Goslin was flagged at the plate on Walker's perfect throw when he tried to score on Bluege's outfield fly.

But Buddy Myer whacked a triple to right center to lead off the fourth and ignite a three-run conflagration in which a walk to Sewell and singles by Whitehill, Manush and Goslin figured. Rowe was pitching when the latter two blows took place.

Bluege's error on Fox's roller contributed to the Detroit run in the fifth. Gehringer sent Fox to third with a double to the right field wall. A whirling catch by Manush of Greenberg's liner near the fence rescued Whitehill from further difficulties although Fox scored on the play. The Nats were the beneficiaries of an error by Rogell on Harris' grounder in the sixth that was converted into a run when Bluege sacrificed and Luke Sewell singled.

A pair of surprising catches by Dave Harris in deep center kept the Tigers off the bases in the sixth and seventh, but Walker led off the eighth with a double and was quickly scored by Greenberg on a single. Owen forced Greenberg, took second on a wild pitch and scored on Hayworth's single. With the tying run on base, Cronin called in Al Thomas and on base it perished when Thomas struck out Rhiel.

Central Nine Blanks Bethesda-C. C., 7 to 0

Central High School shut out Bethesda-Chevy Chase in a five-inning game yesterday on the Monument grounds. The final score was 7-0. The Chumbris brothers and De Lisio led the winning attack, collecting six hits between them.

GOLF WOMEN TOPPED BY COLUMBIA

COLUMBIA COUNTRY CLUB'S women golf team maintained its lead as the third round of matches for the Number 1 teams was decided yesterday over the Congressional Country Club course. The Columbians made a clean sweep over Beaver Dam, 15 to 0, while Kenwood, second in the standing, fared almost as well against Army-Navy, winning 12½ to 2½.

Chevy Chase, third in rating, downed Indian Spring by the one-sided score of 13½ to 1½, while other matches saw Congressional beat Washington Golf and Country, 14 to 1, and Manor and Woodmont tied at 7½-all.

Al Houghton Wins Mid-Atlantic Golf

Al Houghton hung up his third Middle Atlantic P. G. A. sweepstakes victory of the season yesterday afternoon over his home course, Kenwood.

Houghton shot the rugged layout in 70, even professional par, to beat out Glenn Spencer, of the Maryland Country Club by one stroke. Mel Shorey, galloping East Potomac tutor, won third prize money with 72.

Miss Sard's Net Victory Features

Beats Mrs. Stone in City of Washington Tourney.

ABBIE SARD'S victory over Mrs. Charles P. Stone in the second round of women's singles featured play in the City of Washington tennis tournament yesterday at the Rock Creek courts. Miss Sard disposed of her opponent in straight sets, 7—5, 6—3.

The tournament produced another endurance match as Buchanan triumphed over Haney in three sets and a battle that lasted two and a half hours. Buchanan took the lead in the first and longest set, winning by a score of 12—10. He lost the second, 4—6, but came back to win the deciding cluster of games, 6—2.

MEN'S SINGLES—THIRD ROUND.

Buchannon defeated Haney, 12—10, 4—6, 6—2.

WOMEN'S SINGLES—SECOND ROUND.

Sard defeated Stone, 7—5, 6—3; Butler defeated Omwake, 6—3, 7—5; Tabler defeated McCullough, 6—3, 6—3; Colladay defeated Cochrane, 6—3, 8—6; Davis defeated Willis, 6—0, 6—2.

MEN'S DOUBLES—SECOND ROUND.

Shore and Latona defeated Rutley and Howenstein, 6—3, 6—4; Garnett and Gould defeated Ballard and Collins, 5—7, 6—4, 9—7. Mangan and Graves defeated Hoffacker and Drechsler, 6—1, 6—1.

TODAY'S SCHEDULE.

ROOSEVELT'S GAME WITH TECH OFF

BECAUSE coaches of the two teams involved could not see their way clear to play yesterday, the game between Tech and Roosevelt in the interhigh series was deferred until next Monday. Meanwhile, Tech will go to Annapolis Saturday to play the Navy Plebes as champion of the District high schools.

Leading the race with three victories in as many games, Tech virtually is assured of winning the title. Roosevelt is out of the race, but it can throw the series into a two-way tie between Central and Tech if it trims Tech next week.

Eastern plays its final game of the race today when it tangles with Western. Thursday brings Central and Roosevelt together in what will be the last game of the Blue and White.

Today's game will be for third place. Both teams have triumphed over Roosevelt and both have lost to Central and Tech. The Lincoln Parkers are a slight favorite. Either Joe Sullivan or Cecil Hale will twirl for Eastern, and Joe Ready will go to the mound for the Red Sox.

G. W. Nine Defeats Marine Reserves

It was George Washington's fourth win, against as many defeats.

A home run by Ed Baer with three men on bases gave the Colonials a 4 to 1 lead in the fifth inning. At this moment Pitcher Hottle, who started for the Marines went out of the box and he was replaced by J. Alberts.

Vines Reaches City For Interzone Play

Ellsworth Vines, gangling Pasadena, Calif., youngster, holder of the American and Wimbledon tennis crowns, made his appearance at Chevy Chase yesterday—but not on the tennis courts.

Arriving with his bride to prime himself for the important interzone Davis Cup matches with Argentina Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Vines decided he had plenty of tennis in the matches with Canada in Montreal last week and limbered up by playing an 18-hole round of golf. He admitted before he reached the tenth hole that golf was a great sport to condition a tennis player.

"There's a big difference in the two," the lanky Californian said. "Tennis calls for speed and concentration, golf demands cool nerves and concentration." Vines' three comrades, Wilmer Allison, George Lott and John Van Ryn, are expected in this morning.

MARBERRY FACES NATIONALS TODAY

game in the West, while running out his sacrifice in the seventh. This means that Cecil Travis will return to third with Sam Rice and Dave Harris helping Manush patrol the outer gardens.

Neither Goslin nor Bluege expects to be kept out of action more than a day or two.

Watch out for Pitcher Earl Whitehill from now on. Just before yesterday's game, a package was delivered to him. It came from a dusky admirer of his in Birmingham, who inclosed the left hind foot of a rabbit, killed under a full moon in a graveyard. So Earl, who has lost some well-pitched games this year, looks for a change of luck; in fact, he credits yesterday's victory as the turning point, despite the fact that he did not quite finish out the string.

The Tiger pinch-hitters were not so hot yesterday. Bridegroom Al Thomas fanned Rhiel to end the eighth and then he sent White, up for Fox starting the ninth, back to the bench mumbling to himself via the three-strike route.

It was not until the final out of the fourth that Greenberg had a chance afield yesterday. Kuhel, rival first-sacker, made the first four putouts of the game and then did not have another until the fifth.

Manush made three putouts in a row ending the fifth and starting the sixth. The first of these, off Greenberg's bat in round five, was a masterpiece and cost the Tigers at least one run.

Advices from Chattanooga are to the effect that First Baseman Bruce Connatser, on option by the Nats, is being returned.

"Maybe so, but I haven't heard about it yet," said President Clark Griffith last night. "We're up to our player limit now and if the Lookouts do return Connatser, I'll have to sell or trade him."

STRANGE AS IT SEEMS —By John Hix

LEONARDO DA VINCI, great Italian artist, scholar and philosopher, exercised his genius in almost every field of learning—he was a master painter, sculptor, architect, musician, mechanician, engineer and natural philosopher.

Strange as it seems, Leonardo was at once a great artist and scientist. His works of art are well known throughout the world—the "Mona Lisa," the "Last Supper"—but his scientific discoveries, because he studied and observed for his own love of knowledge, have not been popularly credited to him.

To Galileo goes credit for first discovery of the law of the pendulum, to Bacon development of logic, to Newton for the law of gravitation, and to Harvey for discovery of the circulation of blood in the human body.

Sir Sidney Colvin, of the British Museum, concerning the scientific research made by Leonardo da Vinci, says:

"In science he was the first among modern men to set himself most of those problems which unnumbered searchers of later generations have labored severally or in concert to solve.

"A hundred years before Bacon, say those who can judge best, he showed a firmer grasp of the principles of experimental science than Bacon showed, fortified by a far wider range of actual experiment and observation. Galileo, Bacon, Newton, Harvey—he knew what each of them would one day discover. He was Watt's precursor; only he meant steam to project a missile from a cannon; experts aver that, had he had at his disposal some power like petrol, he would have completed his mechanic of aviation."

NORTHEAST CITIZENS ASK EARLY EASTERN HIGH ENLARGEMENTS

Other School Needs Pointed Out at Conference on Budget for 1935.

School officials were told last night by citizens of northeast Washington that if an adequate addition to Eastern High School is not built very soon some public officials may live to regret what might happen if a panic should occur in the present building.

Speaking at the annual conference of board of education members, school officials and citizens on the 1935 school budget needs, the northeast delegates declared that an addition to care for 1,800 pupils is needed at Eastern.

It was shown that the present building was intended to accommodate 2,000 pupils, that it now has 2,800, and if the present growth continues soon will have 3,000. The school is now being operated on the staggered, double shift system.

Other School Needs Cited.

If a fire broke out in the building, public officials would be haunted by the frightful consequences, the aroused citizens of the community informed the board and school heads.

Need for early construction of the new Woodrow Wilson School in the Reno section to relieve threatened congestion at Western was stressed.

Conditions at the Shaw Junior High for colored were described as abominable.

A $100,000 addition to the new Roosevelt High School to avoid congestion was asked. Erection of a high school in the extreme northern section of the city was also urged.

Cut in School Funds Hit.

The majority of the citizens present deplored the reduction in funds for school gardens. Restoration of the Community Center funds from $30,000 to $42,000 was urged.

Other requests included: An addition to the Randall Junior High School; construction of the additional gym at Powell Junior High left out by a technical mistake in plans two years ago; improvement of accoustical conditions in the MacFarland Junior High; completion of the Paul Junior High as originally planned; a new school in Trinidad; a new vocational school on land already acquired on Potomac avenue between Thirteenth and Fourteenth streets southeast to relieve the Lennox School; an adequate furnace at the Blair School; an addition at the Eliot Junior High, and an addition to the Burroughs School.

D. C. Nurse Wins Memorial Medal

Miss Clara D. Noyes, of 1411 Twenty-ninth street northwest, national director of the American Red Cross Nursing Service, will receive the Walter Burns Saunders Memorial medal at Chicago, on June 12, in recognition of her outstanding contributions to nursing in this country, it was announced yesterday.

Miss Noyes is the unanimous choice of the committee of awards, representing the American Nurses Association, the National League of Nursing Education and the National Organization of Public Health Nursing. The Saunders medal was donated by the family of the famous Philadelphia publisher of medical books. It is awarded periodically.

The award will be presented as a feature of the National League of Nursing Education convention, meeting in Chicago.

C. U. Drama Club to Dine.

The Harlequins, dramatic society at Catholic University, will conduct their annual banquet closing the academic year tonight in the University Club. President William R. Manrahan, jr., will preside. The guest will be the Rev. Speer Strahan, of the university English department. Officers for the coming year will be elected.

PROUD MAMA AT NATIONAL ZOO

This proud mama zebra presents with pride her three-day-old daughter. The zebra, the second born here to the parent, marks the second birth of a zebra here in the history of the local zoo. Presenting her new-born to the public for the first time the mother was none too friendly to the admiring crowds.

MIDCITY CITIZENS WANT MILK INQUIRY

Laud Post Series on High Prices and Hears Simpson Explain Costs.

The Washington Post's articles on milk prices in Washington were given hearty support by downtown citizens last night when the Midcity Citizens Association went on record asking the District Senate Committee to thoroughly investigate whether the profits of the dairy industry here are being gleaned by a milk trust.

William S. Simpson, former local dairyman, spoke to the association on existing conditions and complications of the dairy business. As it now stands, he said, "the local milk dealer is in a continuous 'dog fight' with the farmer, the Health Department, the competitor and the public." Mr. Simpson contended that a Senate investigation may be instrumental in working out a solution to the present condition and suggested that legislative action on a minimum scale on wholesale milk would be of some benefit.

Recent Dairy Figures.

Having access to a local dairy's figures for the last few months, he said that present operations are at a loss of $1.38 per $100. When asked about the comparison of the milk prices of Baltimore and Washington he answered that special delivery service here is an enormous expense, that one-third of the milk sold in Washington was sold at a wholesale price.

The prices of Class 1 milk in Baltimore is 22 cents per gallon and 11 cents per quart, while in Washington it is 27 cents per gallon and 13 cents per quart.

Before Corporations.

George A. Warren contended a profit was being obtained and cited several cases of very successful milk dealers when milk sold for 9 cents per quart and there was no corporation control of milk production and distribution.

The association, in closing its last meeting until September, passed resolutions asking that Thirteenth street be widened between Massachusetts avenue and Logan Circle and the adoption of a crosstown bus service on K street from Twelfth street northeast to Thirty-second street northwest. Opposition was voiced to the proposed cutting of Thomas Circle to relieve traffic congestion.

Police Will Present Operetta on Friday

A benefit musical play entitled "A Song in the Night," which will include a dozen or more prominent New York actors and actresses, will be presented Friday night at the Belasco Theater by Fourth Precinct police. Capt. Jeremiah A. Sullivan, commander of the precinct, who has played an active part in relief circles here, said that proceeds of the play will go "for as many poor families as we can reach."

Among the professionals appearing in the play will be Mary Hutchinson, dancer, who was performed in "Vanities," "Follow Through" and other shows. Edna Buckler, author of the play, will have the leading role. Gertrude Gebrick, and Naomi Minnix, both Washington amateurs, will appear in the play. Miss Gebrick will take the part of a maid and Miss Minnix in the role of a debutante.

The presentation of this play for the benefit of the poor is in keeping with a policy of Fourth Precinct police who have staged the annual "Christmas Benefit Party" for many years. Tickets are available at the precinct or at the theater.

D.C. ROAD AID ASKED IN NEW WORKS PLAN

Bride Proposes Amendment to Include Capital in Federal Advances.

Corporation Counsel William W. Bride yesterday presented a proposed amendment to the administration public works bill to the House Ways and Means Committee and the Senate Finance Committee so that the District would benefit from a provision to make $400,000,000 available to the States for improvement of main interstate highways.

The District is included in other provisions of the measure, but not in the highway section. Mr. Bride pointed out that there are several important national thoroughfares running through the District and that consequently it should be considered in any plan of Federal aid.

Meanwhile, Maj. John C. Gotwals, Engineer Commissioner, revealed that he and Lieut. Col. U. S. Grant 3d, director of Public Buildings and Public Parks, have been conferring about possible District projects that might be advanced if the Federal Government contributes to local public works. The bill authorizes Federal donations up to 30 per cent of construction costs.

Among the projects considered is the municipal center, work on which has stopped because of the necessity for District economy. This construction would cost $5,000,000 and would employ hundreds of workmen over a long period, Maj. Gotwals said.

Other projects informally suggested are the Anacostia Junior High School, $400,000; the contagious disease ward at Gallinger Hospital, $540,000; the Georgetown branch library, $150,000; the P Street Bridge, $250,000, and a mammal house at the zoo. The Calvert Street Bridge would also be considered unless it is included in the final draft of the pending appropriations bill.

5 Assailants Are Bested By 2 Policemen in Battle

Though a little late in the telling, a fight between two policemen and five would-be robbers, with a clean victory for the bluecoats, certainly deserves to be told.

The encounter occurred early Sunday on the steps of the home of Sergeant A. S. Bohrer, of the Sixth Precinct, at 3310 Holmead place northwest. The sergeant had been driven home by Detective R. J. Felber.

A man, who later proved to be one of five who had driven up in a taxicab, overhauled the sergeant and jammed a large revolver in his ribs. With a shout of warning Detective Felber sprang at the gunman, seizing his wrist. To the gunman's rescue came his four cohorts, and a rough-and-tumble fight ensued. No shots were fired, as the robber's gun jammed, and the policemen used only their fists, knees and elbows.

Finding the going too rough, three of the would-be robbers took to their heels, leaving two comrades to face the music. They identified themselves as Jack Williams Feden, 25, 608 Somerset place northwest, and Edward Francis Dunworthy, 21, 1338 Sheridan street northwest. They are being held for investigation.

BONUS ARMY QUITS FORT HUNT FOR JOBS IN FORESTRY CORPS

Few Spurn Work and Head for Homes; Exodus Is Peaceful One.

The 1933 bonus army's descent on Washington last night had been peacefully repelled with a barrage of wholesome food, shelter, and transportation—backed up by a bombardment of jobs in Uncle Sam's forests.

In round numbers, 1,800 World War veterans elected yesterday to enter the reforestation camps. They will be split 50-50 between conditioning cantonments at Fort Humphreys and Langley Field.

Late last night 400 of the men had been formally checked out of the administration's bonus marcher camp at Fort Hunt, Va., down on the Potomac, near Mount Vernon, and had been hauled in Army trucks to Fort Humphreys. The balance of the 1,800 were still at Fort Hunt, to be moved tomorrow under Army auspices to their new billets.

35 Autos in Camp.

Approximately 500 other veterans who disdained the forest jobs for various reasons were shipped to points near their homes at governmental expense. It had been tentatively decided last night that money would be deducted from their bonus due in 1945.

About 35 automobiles containing veterans were still at the Potomac camp last night waiting for vouchers to be arranged to provide them gasoline to go home in.

The veterans in the forest camps will get $1 a day, like their younger colleagues in the same jobs, and only $7.50 a month will be doled out to them. The veterans may choose to allot the residue of the money to their dependents or to be held and received in a lump sum at the expiration of the jobs—which will probably be six months.

Same Rate of Pay Allowed.

Officials expressed surprise that the men accepted the allotment provision with few kicks. One of the reasons for controlling the money is to forestall liquor buying, it was said.

No disorder was afforded the District by the bonus army exodus. Though several hundred foot and motorcycle policemen were held in readiness against any turmoil, their vigil was in vain.

The Veterans Administration buses rushed the men in groups right to Union Station and from there they were put on trains for points nearest their homes. The transportation was afforded only to principal railroad centers near the men's homes and not directly to them if off the main line.

Expectations are that the approximately 900 men to go to Langley Field will be hauled to Alexandria in Army trucks and then conveyed in a Government boat to the Virginia cantonment.

As the men milled about the camp yesterday there was much talk of another bonus march. Among the men going to the camps and those leaving there was some agreement that they would be back in July, probably for the 28th of that month—anniversary of the bonus riots of last year.

Expected excitement yesterday was quickly lulled when it was announced just after breakfast yesterday that the men who refused the forest jobs would be accorded transportation.

Few Catcalls Exchanged.

Only a few "boos" and catcalls were exchanged between the factions who chose different paths yesterday. Those waiting for transportation home spasmodically jeered the prospective forest workers, but any taunt more serious than a jeer was of a distinctly stage variety.

There was a great deal of low comedy yesterday. Many veterans, from comparatively nearby points, succeeded in obtaining transportation to much more distant points, and among their comrades this furnished food for much of the American staple—the wisecrack.

Very little sullenness was evident. The few that were sullen and sort after the result of the 1932 bonus campaign were much in the minority. Good nature was much in evidence.

Many Forestry Camps For Veterans Scheduled

Reforestation camps for veterans will be created all over the United States, the Veterans' Administration announced yesterday with registration points in many centers.

Pointing out that there was no need for veterans to go to Washington to go to work in the woods, the Veterans' Administration urged them to watch the press for announcements as to the registration point nearest their homes.

Jewish Fund Drive Will Be Continued

Stating that the collection of funds in the United Jewish Campaign drive for $30,000 did not fulfill expectations, Louis E. Spiegler, director of the drive, announced yesterday that a more thorough canvass of the city will be made by the workers.

Mrs. Goldie Meyerson, Palestinian feminist leader, yesterday addressed the drive luncheon at the Jewish Community Center. She spoke in glowing terms of the progress of the homeland movement. Speaking of the situation confronting European Jews, she said:

"In addition to the claim which Palestine has upon us on sentimental and religious grounds, it has a still greater claim as being to all intents and purposes the only country open to those suffering from discriminatory legislation of the German government. A number of the refugees, particularly the younger generation, are desperately anxious to go to Palestine today."

JEWISH CONVENTION DRAWS PROGRAM TO PROTECT BRETHREN

Development of Palestine Homeland Called Only Adequate Measure.

Formulating a national program for alleviating the plight of German Jewry, the American Jewish Congress during the final session at the Willard Hotel yesterday stated that the measures adopted were not a permanent solution to the Jewish problem, and that only in the further development of Palestine as a national homeland for the Jew would the problem be permanently solved.

Adopting seven resolutions embodying a plan of action, the 1,500 delegates who gathered for the three-day meeting returned to their various sections of the country to organize their constituents in preparation for a world congress during the next year.

Would Unify Efforts.

In addition to an emergency fund of a million dollars created to combat German discrimination against the Jew, the congress adopted a policy of unifying all Jewish organizations to better accomplish the defense of Jewish rights.

Other measures adopted were: A resolution appealing to the United States Government to intercede for German Jewry; a resolution to protest against persecution of the Jew in Germany, naming four demands compliance with which would protect life and property of the rights of citizenry; a resolution thanking countries who have given refuge to German Jewish refugees.

Bright Pages of Nations.

The latter resolution stated in part: "The conduct of England, France, Italy, Holland, Belgium, Switzerland, Denmark, the Scandinavian countries, Czechoslavakia, Austria, Poland and Spain, from which we were estranged for four centuries, and Egypt, to which we are tied by the most ancient bonds, form a bright page in the darkness which Hitlerism seeks to press down upon world civilization."

Reports were presented to the congress on the discrimination against Jews in American colleges, the condition of Jews in Russia, and the economic problems facing Jews in this country.

Dr. Stephen S. Wise was reelected honorary president of the congress, and Bernard S. Deutsch was reelected president. The elections were by acclamation. The other officers elected were Nathan D. Perlman, Louis Lipsky and Dr. S. Margoshes, vice presidents, and Dr. Joseph Tenenbaum, chairman of the executive committee.

100 More Get Licenses To Dispense 3.2 Beer

Approximately 100 more temporary permits to sell beer were approved yesterday by the District Beverage Permits Board as it prepared to consider annual licenses. Vernon E. West, chairman, said that the first yearly permits probably would be issued the first of next week.

Requests for refunds on licenses are still being received by the board, Mr. West said, despite the steady flow of applications. Indications are that many of the licensees have not found the beer trade as lucrative as they had expected.

Lost White House Dog Is Recovered

Tiny, President and Mrs. Roosevelt's big shaggy English sheep dog, returned yesterday after a short infliction of the wanderlust to his temporary quarters at the home of Admiral and Mrs. Cary T. Grayson, 3825 Wisconsin avenue.

Tiny, whose photographs have appeared much in local papers, wandered from the Grayson estate to the nearby Home for Incurables, where he was given food and shelter. When it was learned the dog was missing from the Grayson estate, he was returned.

It was the intention of President and Mrs. Roosevelt to send Tiny to their farm at Warm Springs, Ga., but the idea was dropped because of Tiny's heavy coating. Until a decision has been made as to his future, Tiny will remain at the Graysons.

Rivet Taken From Lung

Capital Doctor Performs Delicate Operation on Boy of 10.

Working under the guidance of the X-ray and through a tube inserted in the larynx, the skilled hands of a Washington physician performed the remarkable feat of removing a rivet from the lung of a child without resorting to a major operation.

The physician, who vehemently refused permission to use his name, guided forceps through the tube and with the aid of the X-ray dislodged the half-inch rivet from the tissue of the infected left lung, while anxious parents waited outside the operating room.

But the feat was not accomplished without a heart-breaking setback. Just as the plucky physician had retrieved the rivet and was taking it out of the boy's mouth., it slipped from the forceps' grip and had to be recovered again.

The operation was performed Friday at Georgetown University Hospital and the patient, Russell Demetro, 10-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Petro Demetro, of the 500 block G street northwest, is considered well on the road to recovery.

RUSSELL DEMETRO.

The boy was brought to the hospital Thursday. His parents, alarmed at his coughing spells, had told welfare workers they believed the child was suffering from tuberculosis. When shown that the congestion of the lung was due to the rivet they recalled that the child had swallowed it a year ago while playing with a riveted belt.

DR. LUTHER DENIES MYTHOLOGY PLANS

Envoy Assures Evangelical Synod Hitler Will Not Supplant Church.

Stories that under the Hitler regime teaching of the Old Testament in German churches would be supplanted by teaching of Teuton mythology were branded as "sheer nonsense and anti-German mythology" yesterday by Dr. Hans Luther, the German Ambassador.

Speaking at the conference of the Atlantic district of the Evangelical Synod of North America in Concordia Lutheran Church, he declared that although the state churches in Germany would be reorganized along national lines, there would be no interference on the part of the government with the freedom of conscience and worship.

Union Plan Approved.

The district voted to approve the plan of union between the Reformed Church and the Evangelical Synod of North America. A petition was prepared to be presented at the general meeting of the synod in Cincinnati in October.

The Rev. Charles Enders, pastor of Concordia Lutheran Church; Paul L. Schmidt, of Baltimore, and Paul Briesemeister, of Schenectady, were chosen as the clerical delegates to the general meeting. Lay delegates chosen were H. F. Dunkhorst, of Washington; Henry Schultheis, of Baltimore, and F. C. Heitkamp, of Schenectady.

Christianity's Rival.

At the closing service of the conference last night, Dr. H. I. Niebuhr, professor of Christian ethics at Yale University, declared that the present nationalism is a rival to Christianity. "We will have either pagan nationalism which will lead nations to destruction or Christian nationalism which will lead nations to fulfillment of the God-given calling," he declared.

Miss Hilda Huefe, of Washington, and Miss Lillian Baer, of Baltimore, were consecrated as commissioned workers of the synod at the evening service. Pastors officiating at the consecration were the Revs. F. C. Rueggeberg, P. Briesemeister and H. Strub.

At the afternoon session the Rev. Mr. Enders read a paper on the Oxford Movement, and Dr. W. L. Darby, executive secretary of the Washington Federation of Church, spoke on "Introspection."

North Capitol Citizens Ask Speedy Relief Plan

The immediate formulation of a relief program for District needy was asked last night in a resolution adopted by the North Capitol Citizens Association.

In asking the Commissioners to press action on such a program the association pledged itself to cooperate with authorities on the matter. A motion was passed authorizing the utility committee of the association to protest the placing of a taxicab stand on U street near North Capitol street.

6 G. W. U. TEACHERS TO RETIRE THIS YEAR

Six members of the teaching staff of George Washington University will retire at the end of the present academic year under regulations looking toward a definite retirement and annuity plan. The age limit for active service has been set at 65, which may be extended to 70 upon recommendation of the president of the university.

Hiram Colver McNeil, professor of chemistry, who has served on the faculty since 1910.

The three part-time members of the faculty who will retire are:

John Paul Earnest, professor of law, who has taught in the Law School since 1903. He has served for many years as chairman of the committee of bar examiners of the Supreme Court of the District.

Albert Burley Bibb, professor of the History of Art and Architecture, who has been a member of the faculty since 1906.

William Jackson Humphreys, professor of Meterological Physics, who has been a member of the staff of the United States Weather Bureau since 1895. He is the author of "Physics of the Air," and "Weather Proverbs and Paradoxes."

RULING GIVES HOPE TO MANY PRISONERS THEY WILL GET OUT

Steps Taken to Free Them After 30 Days' Inability to Pay Big Fines.

Following a ruling yesterday of the District Court of Appeals, a score of Washington lawyers today were taking initial steps to free clients from District Jail and Lorton Reformatory, where they were committed upon failure to pay heavy fines imposed in Police Court.

The ruling that started the avalanche of legal actions was one that declared any person sentenced in Police Court to pay a heavy fine—such as a $500 fine—could serve 30 days in jail and under the indigent prisoners' act, could take a pauper's oath after serving 30 days and be freed.

Decision by Hitz.

Traffic, liquor and United States Government prosecutions, such as the illegal use of a franking privilege in mailing letters, are among the types of offenses that come within the purview of the ruling.

Justice William Hitz, of the Court of Appeals, wrote the decision in the case of Samuel Green, convicted of possession of liquor in Police Court and sentenced to pay a fine of $500 or serve 180 days. The court held that Green could serve 30 days, take the oath, and obtain his release.

Must Serve 30 Days.

Through Attorneys Louis Whitestone, William B. O'Connell and Harry T. Whelan, Green contended he was entitled to liberty because, if he had been found guilty in District Supreme Court, he could have obtained his freedom in 30 days. The attorneys pointed out that this made it possible for Police Court judges to impose a harsher sentence than could the Supreme Court justices.

The procedure, as now outlined, is that the prisoner must serve 30 days, and then apply for a writ of habeas corpus on the ground that he has property valued at $30 or less, the remainder being exempt by law, and that he is being illegally detained.

Motorist, Who Drank Beer, Freed by Judge

Referring to the recent decision of Congress that the 3.2 beer was non-intoxicating, Judge J. Chew Sheriff, of the Hyattsville Police Court, yesterday dismissed the case of Walter A. Davis, 19, 1227 Staples street northeast, charged with driving while drunk.

Davis, the son of a Metropolitan policeman, told the court that he had attended a supper in Baltimore, in company with several of his friends, and drank two bottles and a half of beer. While returning to Washington he was apprehended by State Roads Policeman Wade Smith, who lodged a charge of reckless driving against him, in addition to the driving-while-drunk charge.
